Recognition of Reputation

@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@@

MEMBERSHIP in the Order of the Golden Rule is truly, "recognition of reputation," for the Order's Symbol of the Knight and Shield is merely an outward token of the fact that local persons, in a position to know the facts as no one else can know them, have endorsed wholeheartedly the funeral director who identifies himself by his use of the Symbol.

Every member of the Order must subscribe and adhere to an inflexible Code, which requires that the member must maintain a complete funeral establishment, be worthy of complete confidence, have high moral standards, be truthful in all his representations, and must pledge himself to serve any deserving family in time of need, regardless of financial circumstances.

We are happy . . . and proud! . . . to have been selected as the Order's member in Philadelphia.

New Pear's Greetings

"The grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ and the charity of God and the communion of the Holy Ghost be with you all." This is the wish which St. Paul addressed to the Christians of Corinth (II Cor. xii, 13); it is the wish which the Fathers of the Church of the Gesu extend to all the members of the congregation as their solemn New Year's felicitations.

May God be with you with the abundance of His grace and the fullness of His love and may He infuse into your souls the richest gifts of His Holy Spirit!

May He bless you and bless your children and your homes!

May He bless your labors and all your undertakings and bring them to a successful issue in accordance with His Holy and Adorable Will!

May He be with you in prosperity and abundance, that you may not abuse the gifts of His bounty!

May He be with you in sorrow, in sickness and poverty, giving you strength and patience to bear them with resignation.

May Sin never find entrance into your hearts and may the grace of God be the brightest ornament of your souls!

Forty Hours Devotion

January 7th, 8th and 9th

Four hundred years ago, this beautiful devotion was introduced from Bologna to Milan and spread from there to other cities of Italy and to Rome itself. The Forty Hours were at first consecutive, to commemorate the forty hours during which the Sacred Body of Our Lord lay in the tomb. It was also meant to imitate by this continuous prayer, uninterrupted day and night, the prolonged prayer and fast of Our Divine Savior for forty days and forty nights in the wilderness.

At the present time, for three days the adorable Sacrament is exposed for the veneration of the faithful, and they are thus eloquently, though silently, invited to come and pay homage to the King of kings, and by public and solemn protestation of their devotedness to His Sacred Person, to atone for the contempt with which He is so generally treated, and for the sacrileges by which He is dishonored even in this institution of His love.

This beautiful and impressive devotion will begin in the GESU on Sun-This beautiful and impressive devotion will begin in the GESU on Sunday, January 7th, the feast of the Holy Family. At 10.45 there will be Solemn High Mass followed by procession with the Blessed Sacrament. On Monday and Tuesday, January 8th and 9th, the 8.30 O'clock Mass will be a High Mass. Each evening there will be special devotions, peculiar to the "Forty Hours," Sermon and Benediction. The devotions will close Tuesday evening with solemn procession and Benediction. The Parochial School children will take part in the processions on Sunday and Tuesday.

It is hoped that the Parishioners will not disappoint the earnest desire of the Sacred Heart to draw them to Him, and that in addition to an abundant harvest of souls reclaimed from the habit of sin, there will be visible in every family a great increase of fervor. During the three days there should be a constant stream of visitors to the Church, coming to spend before the Blessed Sacrament each day of the exposition, as much time as they can afford to take from their daily occupations. Those who cannot come to the Church in the course of the day should at least be present at Mass and at the sermon and Benediction in the evening. Mass and at the sermon and Benediction in the evening.

Important

Important for the parents of children who attend the Public Schools is this timely notice. The year 1940 is Confirmation Year at the Gesu. Classes of Instruction are held every Saturday morning at 9.30 in the High School. If the candidates for Confirmation do not attend these classes regularly, beginning January 6th, they will not qualify for the reception of the Sacrament this year. Parents, therefore, should cooperate now; not complain later, if their children, insufficiently prepared, are denied the Sacrament of Confirmation in the Spring.

Privilege

Special arrangements have been made for hearing the Confessions of the "slightly deaf." On Confession evenings, the "hard-of-hearing" should call at the Rectory fifteen minutes before the scheduled Church time. Avoid disagreeable embarrassments by taking advantage of this privilege.

Courtesy

Parish Dance

January 12th.—Sponsored by the Young Men. A floor committee will entertain lonely strangers.

Lecture

Madame Olga Samaroff Stokowski, noted concert-pianist and leading musical educator, will be presented by the St. Joseph's College Lecture Forum, at Old College Hall, 17th and Stiles Streets, on Sunday evening, January 14th. The title of Mme. Stokowski's talk will be "Musical Life in the American Home."

The brilliant musician and musical critic was founder and for a long time directress of the Layman's Music Courses, Inc., of New York and Philadelphia, and is an acknowledged expert on adult education in music.

Card Party

On January 19th, the Parish Card Party will be sponsored by the residents of 20th and 19th Streets and all intervening streets from Fairmount to Columbia Avenues, under the leadership of Mrs. McClanaghan.

Homecoming Night

January 26th will be the sixth "Homecoming Night" of the Students' Mothers' Association. The proceeds will be devoted to the Father Fortescue Memorial Library.

Altar Society

Sometimes called the Sanctuary Society, provides for the Sanctuary where Our Lord Himself is ever present in the Blessed Sacrament of the Altar. Active members assemble in the Sacristy each Thursday to mend vestments; at other times when the work requires. Recently, the Society's members and friends made new albs and surplices and trimmed them with hand-made lace. Membership is open to Parishioners, generous enough to devote a leisure hour each week to the service of the Altar to keep it beautiful provide challess yestments and all exponents for the Sanctuary. ful, provide chalices, vestments and all ornaments for the Sanctuary.

Monstrance

During the "FORTY HOURS" and almost nightly Benedictions of the Blessed Sacrament, note the cautious ascent of the Priest as he places the Monstrance on the Altar Throne. As he extends a quivering arm and trembling hand, the weight of his body seems scarcely enough to counterbalance the heavy, bulky Monstrance, rattling in all its articulations. Often we have read about the Country's gold, serving no useful purpose, buried at Fort Knox, and we thought that our pious Parishioners would be delighted to place their gold—old and new—in a vault that would enshrine the Sacred living Body of the Eucharistic God, and be for them a memorial of countless benedictions. From your useless heirlooms, old-fashioned watches and chains, charms and rings, ear pendants, brooches and stick-pins, our smithy can fashion a Monstrance worthy of the Sacred Host. can fashion a Monstrance worthy of the Sacred Host.

To these, the Jesuit Fathers wish to extend their blessings and best wishes for a Holy and Happy New Year, as well as to all the Altar Boys who have been so faithful in serving their Masses; and to their parents, without whose generous cooperation this service to God would have been impossible. Young Men's Sodality

A record-breaking number of new members was officially and cerc-moniously received into the Sodality on Friday evening, December 8th. Immaculate Mother of God. Led by the two faithful prefects, Messrs. Joseph as they marched up the center aisle. We are fondly hopeful that the refiled in the rooms any Tuesday evening after the weekly meeting. The Notalent presented by Miss Margaret Coyle. Some new chairs and a card a social among the members is planned giving all the best talent a big for New Year's Eve. During December our good Pastor Rev. Thomas Love Worthy of Mother Mary."

Bowling

We would like to draw attention to the men of the Parish that all bowlers are most welcome on the team now representing the Parish in the Catholic League. By the express wish of the Reverend Pastor the Young Men's Sodality has so far made up the team as part of its activity, but any man in the Parish is more than welcome to help us win the trophy—so bowlers kindly call on Father Kines for details!

Notre Dame Alumnae

A burst of activity has marked the Alumnae since the start of the season. Besides the regular monthly meetings attended by a goodly number of old and new members, the socials and basketball have gripped the attention of all. At the monthly meetings Father Kines, our new moderator, has given instructions and has stressed the necessity of making our faith a living reality and not something confined to the Children's Mass on Sunday morning. Through the kind assistance of Messrs. Edward Campbell, Philip Golden and John McNally our rooms, more popularly called the "catacombs," were given a much-needed coat of paint—and then the finishing touches of what makes things feminine were added by Misses Gertrude McLaughlin and Ann O'Donnell and their assistants. A gala Christmas party is in order for Christmas Eve with the usual exchange of greetings and presents for all members. The bi-monthly socials have grown largely due to our new recording machine and up-to-the-hour hit tunes. We would like to feel that our numbers will keep apace with our enthusiastic activities.

The Bells of the Gesu

The beautiful Church of the Gesu was almost completed; the nearly three thousand Parishioners within the Parish limits at the time were looking forward to the opening day; for about twenty years they had been working under the direction of their great Pastor, Father B. Villiger, who kept the great event constantly before them .

Father Villiger being a swiss by birth remembered the power of bells in attracting the faithful to divine service in his native land. Accordingly he determined to procure for the new Church a peal to notify the people when the services were to begin. The order was given to a St. Louis firm and the five bells constituting the peal were delivered at the Church in March, 1886. They weighed respectively, eight thousand pounds, four thousand, two thousand, one thousand, and seven hundred. They cost two thousand six hundred and eighty-three dollars. They were piously named from the heaviest to the lightest, THE HOLY NAME OF JESUS, BLESSED NAME OF MARY, ST. JOSEPH, ST. IGNATIUS and ST. FRANCIS XAVIER.

In the following year they were solemnly blessed according to the ritual of the Church. This impressive ceremony took place on the feast of St. Ignatius, July 31, 1887. A month later they were raised to the place prepared for them in the east tower of the Church though they could not call worshipers to the great Church beneath, which was to see more than a year pass over it on account of its unfinished state.

On October the fourth, 1888, the great and holy founder of the Church of the Gesu and St. Joseph's College, was to complete fifty years of religious life in the Society of Jesus, and a worthy and glorious celebration of this event was desired not only by his Jesuit brethren but also by the people of the Parish who loved and revered him as a saint.

At length, October the fourth, the Jubilee day, was at hand. The Church was not yet completed, but the scaffolding was removed and chairs placed in the Church to accommodate the throngs that were expected to attend.

At nine o'clock the signal was given to the men who had been waiting for some time, about ten in number, to pull on the ropes, and immediately the five bells in the tower rang out a jubilee peal which filled the hearts of the faithful with joy and must have driven the demons to their infernal abodes. Those of the Parishioners who are still living must remember, as the writer does, the thrill that went through the whole Parish on that glorious occa-

The doors of the Church were then thrown open and the great crowd that stood by for more than an hour entered. The magnificence of the edifice burst upon them like a vision that surpassed all their expectations. They saw it for the first time free from the scaffolding which all along obscured its grand proportions. It was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the vast multitude of nearly four thousand people were delighted at what

The bells were again silent till the second of December, 1888, the day selected for the dedication of the most imposing church in Philadelphia, and few excelled it in the whole country at that time. It was a charming day, fresh, clear and bright. About 10.30 the bells burst forth again to notify the Parishioners who had labored hard to raise the money necessary to complete this magnificent monument to the glory of God, that it was now open and ready to receive all who wished to worship God in His temple.

After the services of the dedication, which were conducted by His Grace, Archbishop Ryan, the members of the congregation, proud of their achievements, settled down to the performance of the various tasks connected with parochial work. The Parishioners of those days, possessed of the real faith given their ancestors by the great Apostle, St. Patrick, knew that Catholicity meant activity and sacrifice, gave freely of their belongings to God from whom they received them. The old Holy Family Church with the Rectory on Stiles Street, the Parochial School, and lastly, the grand Church of the Gesu, erected in the short time of twenty years, showed what manner of men and women they were.

The bells of the Gesu were used for many years to call the people to the various services of the Church, and these responded in ever increasing numbers till through some evil genius they suddenly ceased to give forth their sweet tones to the great regret of all classes of the people in the vicinity of the Church. What the real reason for the suspension was it is now hard to discover. Some say that the difficulty of getting ten or twelve men together was a contribution cause. Let that he again the classes have together was a contributing cause. Let that be as it may the clouds have passed away, the sun will shine once more, and the sweet tones of the bells of the Gesu will be wafted through the air putting life and energy into all classes within the range of hearing.

This was rendered possible through the generosity of several good people who have generously contributed towards the electrification of those bells. All that will be required in the future will be to touch a switch and electricity will do the rest. We hope that the sound of those bells will be a means to draw people closer to God and cause them to walk circumspectly in

Another Year: Another Chance

Another Year! Another Chance! new hopes born in us all, To live this year unlike the ones now gone beyond recall: God's greatest Gift—A Year of Life—a year to work, to play. A year to heal scars made by Time, to seek Christ and to pray; A year to walk the road He tread, and find where sorrow lives, And bring to heavy-laden hearts the Peace His Presence gives; A year to work for God and Home, to do the best we can To have God's Kingdom reign on earth within the heart of man;

A year to better know the man who's working by our side, And realize his soul was one for whom Christ bled and died; A year to grow more tolerant, more gentle, thoughtful, kind, To see less faults in lives of men, and good traits in them find; A year to bring the sunshine to a world now steeped in gloom, And in some life that knows but thorns, perhaps a rose make bloom; A year to dry tears caused by pain, and light some face with smiles, To bring hope to some lonely heart and make life seem worth while;

A year to know Life's finer things still bring us joys complete, That decent, kind and honest lives—these still make living sweet; A year to know sin's dividends are paid in misery, loss,
That happiness is only found beside the Saviour's Cross;
A year to tell a heartsick world, with wars that will not cease, Since all else failed, to kneel in prayer and ask God send it peace; A Year of Life! — to love — to serve — to live it as we should— Another Year! Another Chance! - ah, God to us is good.

-William F. Sheridan.

Stuffing?

At the Christmas dinner Margery had eaten freely of turkey, of which she was particularly fond. After two generous helpings she asked for more. "You've had all that's good for you, Margery," said her mother. But I want just a little more, mother, please."

"You can't have any more dear. But there's the wishbone for you and mother to pull. That will be fun. You pull on one end and mother will pull on the other, and the one who gets the longer end will get her wish. Why, Margery! You got the bigger end; now what do you wish for?"
"More turkey" said Margery. "More turkey," said Margery.

Why Worry?

Only the untrained man worries over his work. He has cause to worry because he never knows when something is going wrong that he cannot put right—when he is going up against some new problem that he won't know how to handle—when he will have to stand aside for the man who knows. The trained man wastes no time worrying. If he doesn't know exactly how to do the thing expected of him, he does know just how to go about finding out. When you catch yourself worrying, pitch in and study instead. Worry accomplishes nothing: study will enable you to do anything.

Christ, Thy All-in-All

Christ
Be the Light of thy Year!

And thou when things look dark and dim, Light not the little rush lights!—See by Him Who marks what is, from what but doth appear; Christ be thy Light this year!

Christ

Be the Strength of thy Year!

And thou, when thou shalt weary feel or weak,
Do not in creatures prop or comfort seek.
Lean all thy weight upon this Brother dear;
Christ be thy Strength this year!

Christ
Be the Peace of thy Year!

And do not thou, when storm-winds toss thy breast In things of sense look to find calm or rest, Unto the Prince of Peace creep very near;
Christ be thy Peace this year!

Christ Be the Love of thy Year!

Mayest thou love Him with all thou hast and art May He love thee still more with His great Heart, Each grow to each more intimate and dear; Christ be thy Love this year!

Feasts of the Month

January First— A Holyday of Obligation Circumcision of Our Lord—New Year's Day

• Titular feast of the Society of Jesus. As a religious rite, circumcision is very ancient and widely spread but its origin and meaning are not clear. The practice existed centuries before Christ and probably indicated a priestly caste. Jews ascribe its introduction amongst them to Abraham. God made it a sign of His chosen people and strictly enjoined it on Abraham's descendants. Christ removed the obligation and the attempt by some to reimpose it on Christian converts failed owing to the Council of the Apostles.

As a feast of the Church, it commemorates the subjection of the Child Jesus to this rite of admission to the covenant of God with Abraham, but it is referred to only in the Gospel at Mass—St. Luke II. I. "At that time, after eight days were accomplished that the Child should be circumcised, His name was called, Jesus, which was called by the Angel before He was conceived in the womb."—the rest of the proper and the Office are a continuation of the Christmas Feast.

THE HOLY NAME
January Second—Titular Feast of Our Parish

The Holy Name is so redolent of love for us and so powerful to help us that the Church sets apart a very special feast to honor our Lord's name. The power of that sacred name is set forth in the New Testament, where it is declared, "There is no other name under heaven given to men, whereby we must be saved." The love and sweetness of that name is described by St. Bernard in his hymn Jesu dulcis memoria, which has been universally accorded a place among the greatest hymns of the Church:

Jesu, the very thought of Thee With sweetness fills my breast; But sweeter far Thy face to see And in Thy presence rest. Nor voice can sing, nor heart can frame, Nor can the memory find, A sweeter sound than Thy blest Name, O Savior of mankind! O Hope of every contrite heart, O Joy of all the meek. To those who fall how kind Thou art! How good to those who seek! But what to those who find? Ah! this Nor tongue nor pen can show; The love of Jesus, what it is None but His loved ones know. Jesu, our only joy be Thou, As Thou our prize wilt be; Jesu, be Thou our glory now And through eternity.

EPIPHANY—JANUARY 6

This word signifies a manifestation or showing forth. God showed the Jews that the Saviour of the world had come by sending angels to tell the shepherds about it, as we read in the Christmas story. Now He uses another way of making the same fact known to the rest of the world. By means of a star He leads the Magi, as they were called, representatives of the Gentile world, to the new-born Saviour. It should be a day of peculiar interest to us who are descended from the Gentile people.

Some authorities tell us that this is of more ancient date as a feast, than Christmas. According to Papevroch, a Pope Julius the First, in the fourth century, arranged that the two feasts be celebrated on separate days.

The great importance which the Church attaches to the Epiphany lies in the fact that the Wise Men are supposed to represent, not any special group, but the whole world which would presently be brought to adore the Christ-King. Early writers say there were three Wise Men; and Christian Art so enumerates them. Always one of them is black; always they bring gifts; always above them shines their bright star. Very easily can we imagine the scene of the Wise Men's arrival at Bethlehem.

It is night, and the little town sleeps soundly. No one is awake when across the sky there passes a majestic, brilliant star. Above the lowly abode of the Holy Family it pauses, trembles, and is still. The night around becomes as day, because of that star's brightness. As an imperative, pointing finger, the rays shine downward, the golden glory transfiguring the place where the Divine Infant King dwells. With jingle of harness, with clatter of hoofs on the rocky streets, the visitors came. The town is aroused-from many dwellings issue curious people. Presently comes forth Joseph. What does this clamor portend? Danger to his Holy Ones? Then he sees three strangers, dismounting from tall camels, sees the town people about him, gesticulating, pointing, their attention apparently divided between the richly clad visitors and his own abode. Then he, too, sees the Star. In the east the dawn is coming, but the Star in a blaze of glory shines on until the guests have entered the house where, "They found the Child with Mary, His Mother, and falling down they adored Him: and opening their treasures they offered Him gifts: gold, frankincense and myrrh." Gold for the King, myrrh for the Man, frankincense for God. There was no faltering of belief, no hesitation on their part, for with them was the Star of Faith. What matter to them the rough desert places traversed, the seeming poverty of this King-having that Star. As a shining, imperative finger it pointed then to the Holy Child and His Blessed Mother.

The same Finger, the Star of Faith, now points for us to the Blessed Sacrament and to our Holy Mother the Church.

THE HOLY FAMILY—JANUARY 7

A child. A young mother. A good man. A family—THE family—"The Holy Family." No house, but a home. "Home is where mother is," a child once answered in innocent wisdom. No school, no state, no church even in evidence—but a home. The home came first. Church, state, and school came later. The Savior of the World did not make His entry into the world as a Jewish High Priest, or a Roman Emperor, or a Greek Philosopher, but as a helping infant, the least member of a little family.

Christ was a High-Priest. He instituted a new sacrifice and founded a new priesthood. Christ was a King. He proclaimed the Kingdom of God. Christ was a Teacher. He taught a code of moral living that has renewed the face of the earth. But for thirty years no word of all this splendid saving mission from on high. For thirty years no word of the problems of church, state, and school. For thirty years the very salvation of the world was postponed while Christ glorified the Family by being born and reared in one and sanctified the home by living in one.

Church, state, and school are the outer walls of the castle; the home is the citadel, the sacred shrine, the inner sanctuary, the Holy of Holies. There is God's image in His trinity, His creative power, His love best reflected. There is His Presence most vividly felt in the mutual love and domestic peace. "Home is where mother is." Heaven is where God is. Home is a foretaste of heaven.

More than ever homes are bits of heaven since God came to dwell in one for thirty years. To elevate and preserve the home Christ taught two new virtues to the world—Charity and Chastity. These virtues have taught us to respect the sacredness of womanhood and to reverence the sacredness of childhood. In the Kingdom of God on earth among good Christians there are no unwanted or abandoned children, deserted or divorced women. Such tragedies were moral plagues of paganism. If they return, it is a sign that paganism is returning with its brutal selfishness and sensual indulgence. And we are in danger.

Church, state, and school must rally to the rescue of the home, must help the home cling to the ideal and follow the example of The Holy Family. All three must teach fathers to be other Josephs, mothers to be other Marys, children to be other Christs.

The Holy Name of Jesus

"O Holy Name of Majesty and Power
O Sacred Name of God's own Son,
In every joy, and every weary hour,
Be Thou our strength until life's war is won."

These few lines, which express the beauty, majesty and power of the Holy Name of Jesus, were written by Cardinal O'Connell of Boston This Name shows divinity and power, and it was given by God to His Divine Son. The people, who live in the parish of the Gesu, should feel honored, because their church bears for its name, the Italian name of Jesus.

When the Name of Jesus is spoken, every knee in heaven bends, and on earth, the heads of men are bowed, in respect and love. When the Name of Jesus is pronounced, it excites a feeling inside of us which cannot be expressed.

Some good Catholic women teach their children to say the Holy Name of Jesus even before they say mother. We also find this Name on the lips of the dying in their last agony.

People may take any saint's name they wish, but no one can take the name of Jesus, because no earthly being is worthy of this Sacred Name. Jesus shows purity, divinity, love, power and mercy. No one is pure enough, divine enough, loves us so much, has such power or mercy, that he has the least right to bear this Name.

In churches all over the world, men have banded together and formed a society which is called "The Holy Name Society." These men have promised to give honor and glory to the Sacred Name, never to take the name of God in vain, and always to speak of it with reverence. These societies are wonderful things, for surely the Name of Jesus deserves our best respect and love.

-Kathleen Marie Collins, Seventh Grade.

The Epiphany

Entering the city of Jerusalem, the Wise Men inquired about the birth-place of Jesus, saying, "Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East and are come to adore Him." Herod, hearing of a new king of Jerusalem, became fearful concerning the rule of his kingdom.

Herod, under false pretence, bade the Wise Men go to Bethlehem and when they found the new-born King, return and tell him, that he might also go and adore.

The Wise Men followed the direction in which the star led them and with such perseverance and belief that eventually they arrived at the stable where the Divine King lay.

The Magi offered the Babe gold, frankincense and myrrh. During their sleep they received a message from God, telling them that they should not return to Herod but should go back by another way to their own country.

The feast of the Epiphany is sometimes called, "Little Christmas" or the "Twelfth Day." The Epiphany occurs on January 6th and celebrates the manifestations of Our Lord to the world.

The perseverance and fidelity of the Magi should teach us to be obedient to the inspirations of grace and never to shrink from our faith in time of persecution or when hardships threaten; to be generous in supporting the workers for God, and to visit Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament frequently.

-Mary Anne Rosalie Alminde, Eighth Grade.

Time for Others

We have the habit of thinking of others but the difficulty is that our regard is not in the right direction or channel.

Hitler and Stalin are intensely interested in others but unfortunately for the others, the methods employed are contrary to the requirements of charity, in fact are against personal and inalienable rights of men.

Christ and His way were supreme. His great thought for others was to sacrifice His life for others. He was not content to simply think how sublime the rendering of His life would be, He actually did it. Too often, as His disciples, we are over-generous in thought but rather unpractical in act.

Could we not make our lives happier by doing something for others?

THE ANNUAL BLOCK COLLECTION

The traditional generosity of the Gesu Parish has again been manifested in the splendid contribution of $5,264.50. While not quite equal to the Block Collection of two years ago (I am not considering the Golden Jubilee Collection), the amount is such in spite of the hard times in which many of our people find themselves, that I am most deeply grateful. This applies to all the Fathers who are in any way connected with the Parish.

May the inspiration of Our Lord be with us and grow from day to day for the spiritual and material up-building of our Parish.

NOTE: If you find any mistakes, kindly notify us.

The following is a list of donors to the Annual Block Collection. If there are any additions, they will be printed in the next issue of our Church Bulletin.

The Old Maid

A thoughtless world and unkind folks, who care not what is said, Speak slightingly and with disdain of girls who do not wed; As they stay single through the years, as youth and beauty fade, These unkind friends, with jibe and joke, just call them "Poor Old Maids;" They say of them some things that hurt—"They're peevish, queer and sot, Too sensitive, know naught of life—they're just a funny lot;" These "Poor Old Maids" who rise above our pity and our scorn, Are those whose purse and shoulders have the family's burden borne;

They often are unwed from choice, not lack of chance nor fate,
They've had their beaux, proposals too, men sought them for their mate;
But in their lives there came a time when they a choice must make—
To grasp at happiness for self—or live for others' sake;
How many parents in old age would find themselves alone,
If "Old Maid" daughters were not there to make for them a home;
How many men today are priests, and girls are now Christ's Bride
Because some "Old Maid" sister put all thought of self aside;

They raise the orphans made by death; they nurse and teach and work, In civic needs, in home, in church, no task is ever shirked; God bless "Old Maids" in whose hearts burn a love for babes, for home, Who gave these up when duty called, to walk life's path alone; All Mothers go to God, I think, when hands are stilled by death, Their wondrous souls to live with Him when comes their life's last breath; And God with love will greet "Old Maids" who counted not the price, To tread the road that led to Him on thorns of sacrifice.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Regulations for Lent

Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, falls on February 7.

1. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year and have not yet begun their sixtieth year, are bound to observe the fast of Lent.

2. They are to take only one full meal a day, except on Sundays.

3. They may take in the morning some warm liquids as tea, coffee, thin chocolate made with water, and with this liquid about two ounces of bread.

4. A small refreshment, commonly called a collation, is permitted in the evening.

5. Those for whom the hour of noon may be an inconvenient time for dinner, may invert the order of their meals and take their collation in the morning and their dinner in the evening.

6. By virtue of an Indult of the United States, the Wednesdays (instead of Saturdays) and the Fridays of Lent are days not only of fasting, but also of abstinence. The same rule applies to the second Saturday of Lent and to the forenoon of Holy

7. The use of flesh meat is permitted at all meals on Sundays, and only at the full meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays (except the second Saturday of Lent and the forenoon of Holy Saturday).

8. The Lenten fast and abstinence ends at noon on Holy

9. The following persons are exempt from the obligation of fasting: Those who are less than 21 or more than 59 years old; those who are sick and convalescent; all those whose health or daily duties would be seriously compromised by fasting; nursing women; all those whose occupations are of a very laborious and exhausting nature; all those who have been dispensed by ecclesiastical authority.

10. Persons exempt from the obligation of fasting are free to take meat more than once, on days on which meat is allowed; only at the full meal to those who fast.

11. It is no longer forbidden to eat flesh meat and fish at the same meal during Lent.

12. The use of butter, cheese, milk and eggs is permitted every day of Lent; so also the use of hog's lard or drippings for seasoning, instead of butter.

13. By virtue of an Indult granted by the Holy See, working people and their families are permitted the use of flesh meat once a day on all fast and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the forenoon of Holy Saturday and the Vigil of Christmas. Those working people moreover, who are exempt from the obligation of fasting are free to take meet more than once on the days mentioned. to take meat more than once on the days mentioned.

14. The faithful are reminded that besides the obligation of fasting imposed by the Church, the Holy Season of Lent should be in an especial manner a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sins, of seclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous almsgivings.

15. The Paschal time extends in this Diocese from the first Sunday of Lent until Trinity Sunday, during which time all Catholics who have attained the proper age are bound to receive worthily Holy Communion.

Lecture

The St. Joseph's College Lecture Forum will present Captain Michael Fiaschetti, ex-Commissioner of Markets in New York City, in the High School Auditorium, Sunday evening, February 11, 1940. Captain Fiaschetti will speak on "Fighting the Food Racketeers." Admission, 75 cents, payable at the door.

Captain Fiaschetti is called "A Count Luckner of the Law," because not since the Sea Devil sailed into the best-seller lists has such a dominating, magnetic personality as Fiaschetti entered the world of books. He is a born story-teller. He is also one of New York's greatest murder specialists, having been sixteen years a New York detective and six years chief of the famous Italian Squad.

Candlemas

The blessing of candles will take place on February 2nd, Candlemas day. Candles to be blessed should be sent to the Sacristan the evening before. Boxes or packages should be clearly marked with the owner's name and address and should be claimed not later than the following day. Those intended as donations should be marked "For the Church." This is the time to secure candles for use at home in case of sickness or for private family devotions. It is a very proper time too, to make an offering of candles for the use of the Church.

Carnival Dinner

According to long standing custom, the three days preceding the beginning of Lent, called Carnival Days, were spent in festive celebration, as a ning of Lent, caned Carnival Days, were spent in restive celebration, as a sort of concession to worldly amusement, to be put under restraint during the penitential season of Lent. This year, as a contrast to the Lenten Fasts, there will be a turkey dinner, served on Monday, February 5th, from 5.30 until 8.00 P. M., followed by the usual social entertainment for the adults; and on Tuesday afternoon at 4.00 P. M. for the children. You will cooperate best with the committee by purchasing your tickets in advance.

Resolutions

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association resumed its meetings for the New Year on Wednesday, January 3rd, in the High School Building on Stiles Street. The guest speaker at this meeting was Mr. Feeley of the Bureau of Fire. Discussing the question of fire protection to tenants and owners, Mr. Feeley spoke of the very efficient Fire Department that is maintained by the City. He told our members of the way in which complaints are handled and promised fullest cooperation from the Bureau of Fire to our Association. He also spoke of various conditions existing in different neighborhoods throughout the City.

At this meeting reports were read of the very good work that is being done by the Special Men's Committee.

We desire to call to the attention of the housekeepers the necessity for keeping the streets clean at all times. Somedays the streets are in a deplorable condition due to the careless and haphazard way waste is put out by housekeepers, so let us strive at all times to keep our neighborhood clean.

Let us try to make 1940 the Biggest and Best year we have had by increased attendance at the meetings, prompt payment of dues, and renewed interest in all the activities of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association.

The Layman

The most striking evidence of the interior force of the Catholic Church is in her unity; all the more astounding from the fact that the sects tend toward nationalism; the Catholic Church alone embraces the family of nations. Subordination follows from unity; hence the layman fills a subordinate part in the functions of the life of the Church, Faith, Worship and Government. But this subordination does not mean mere receptivity, much less inactivity; but rather energetic action under due control. Thus the lay catechist, "the fisher," is indispensible in the mission field, where he is truly the coadjutor of the Priest, who is the messenger of Christ. So, too, at home, in the school, the press, the layman shares the privilege of dispensing the Light. The administrative life of the Church demands the cooperation of the laity, not merely in providing for the necessities of her life, but in the active work of administration, for instance, the Propagation of the Faith This is a striking illustration. It is still open for the laity to come forward and take their share in a work of which they should feel justly proud. -The Catholic.

Appreciation

In the name of the Parish St. Vincent de Paul Society grateful thanks are herewith extended to the generous donors to the Christmas Basket Fund. One hundred needy families received baskets.

Memorials

A beautiful crucifix has been donated by Miss Helen Ryan. At the base of the crucifix is inscribed the name of her deceased brother, in whose loving memory it was given. "In loving memory of Thomas Ryan." The memorial crucifix will be placed on one of the chapel altars. Many a fervent prayer of intercession will ascend to the throne of mercy in behalf of his soul during the Holy Sacrifice.

A few memorial chalices have been bequeathed to our Church in years gone by. On them is inscribed the name of the person or family in whose memory the sacred chalice has been consecrated. Thus the Pequinot Chalice, the Du Mee Chalice, the Devine Costello Chalice—each is inscribed in the name of the generous donor. No more beautiful nor enduring monument could be raised to the memory of a beloved father or mother or friend than a chalice consecrated in their name for the daily Sacrifice in our grand temple of God or in our holy chapels. Every day the Precious Blood of Our Redeemer will lift its omnipotent voice, pleading in their behalf, as the memorial chalice is raised at the altar for adoration.—(W. O'G.)

Real Glory?

As Part of the Villiger Guild Program

On the evening of February 15th, at 8.30 P. M., in the St. Joseph's High School Auditorium, 17th and Stiles Streets, Father Andrew Hofmann, S.J., will show his colored movies of Jesuit mission life in Mindanao, Philippine Islands. Father Hofmann has spent eleven years laboring among the natives of Mindanao. The movies will give you living pictures of Jesuit missionaries and their work for souls in the Philippine Islands. There are many interesting scenes of Jesuit Fathers or Scholastics whom you may know or who are relatives of yours doing God's work in this far off land. Father Hofmann will accompany the movies with an explanation of the natives and their ways which he knows so well.—(E. M.)

Sick Calls

There are few things more discouraging in the ministry of the Parish Priest than the failure to summon him in time in case of dangerous illness. Frequently he is not called until it is too late for the sick person to make a clear confession, if any. This arises from misplaced love on the part of the family. They fear to alarm the sick person because the presence of the priest usually indicates death. But why does it? Is it not because, in most cases, he is not called until death is morally certain? Would it not be better to insure the eternal happiness of the soul at any cost? Do we not do the departing soul a grave injustice when we fail to take the proper means to secure this? I commit a grave sin if I deprive a man of his sustenance. What kind of a sin do I commit if a soul is lost through my negligence? This is a serious matter.

Privilege

Special arrangements have been made for hearing the Confessions of the "slightly deaf." On Confession evenings, the "hard-of-hearing" should call at the Rectory fifteen minutes before the scheduled Church time. Avoid disagreeable embarrassments by taking advantage of this privilege.

A Man May be Down

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the legislature in Librals, and was defeated. He next entered business, failed and was seventeen years paying his debts.

He was engaged to a beautiful young woman—she died.

Entering politics again, he ran for Congress, and was again defeated.

En then tried to get an appointment in the United States office, but

He became a candidate for the United States Senate and was badly beaten.

He ran for vice-president and was once more defeated. When you think of your hard luck, think of Lincoln.

All-English Talkie

The life of the Little Flower, revealed for the first time in an all-English Talkie, will be shown Sunday, February 25th, in the High School Auditorium at 17th and Stiles Streets. There will be two performances at 3.30 P. M. and 8.45 P. M. A picture that will appeal to everyone regardless of religion is rated by critics as beautiful, human and true. A special matinee for the school children will be given on Wednesday, February 21st. Admissions—adults thirty-five cents; children's matinee ten cents.

The Little Flower

St. Therese of the Child Jesus, the Little Flower, is surely the most beloved of the modern Saints, if one may be allowed to compare Saint with Saint. She is beloved for her holiness, her humility, her gentleness, her ardor, but what endears her chiefly to us is her littleness, her lovableness, her accessibility. Her "little way" is brought within our reach.

To be a great Saint, what is it? Is it to practice great mortification, to wear a hairshirt, to be austere? This was not the Little Flower's way. Her way was to love God "as He had never been loved before," and to make numerous "little sacrifices," such as you or I could make.

St. Therese did not attain sanctity without struggle, sacrifice and suffering. Her trials were the same as many of us have to face. It was the way she met and bore these trials that made her a Saint. This idea is well expressed by one of her biographers, Father Xavier: "To suffer is not the essential thing, but to suffer as a Christian is." You have, perhaps, to bear great sorrows. Perhaps a cross has set its imprint upon your life. You may have to endure notable reverses of fortune, painful maladies, difficult situations; have courage, patience, submission; look at little Saint Therese, see her smiling through her tears; hear her saying: "Oh, I would not suffer less!" and try to smile with her.

Nearest Thing to An Endowment!

The Houses of Study in which Jesuit scholastics are preparing for the priesthood are not endowed. They have no regular income whatever. They have no right to call upon anyone for help—except our own Jesuit brethren, who can help by interesting friends and asking a little financial assistance. Our Jesuit scholasticates depend upon charity.

The nearest thing to an endowment which the scholasticates enjoy is the system of Burses.

A Burse is a sum of money invested in such a way that the income from it will support a scholastic studying for the priesthood. Eight thousand dollars is the sum required to complete a Burse. Of late years, however, on account of the great increase in prices, the income from one Burse has often proved insufficient for the purpose intended.

In the Province of Maryland-New York there are about one hundred Burses which have been completed. The interest from a number of these falls far below the six percent which would now be required to offset the yearly expenses of the training of a scholastic. But even if each of the Burses paid the full interest required, we would still need six hundred more Burses before being able to cease begging! There are seven hundred scholastics in the Maryland-New York Province to be provided for!

No better use could possibly be found for surplus wealth than to put it to work for years and years to come, to provide for the training of men to the sacred priesthood of Jesus Christ. There are many persons who, themselves unable to follow a religious vocation, might be able to help others by the founding of a Burse. There are many who have no close relatives dependent upon them, who would find greater satisfaction in leaving their money to the service of God than in leaving it to strangers.

We ask at this particularly difficult and critical time that our friends do what they can, if not to found new Burses, at least to aid in finishing some of those already founded. Many of the Burses have not been added to in years.

Might we not have a Burse named for each Golden Jubilarian?

It is interesting to note the size of the endowments of large non-sectarian universities, in connection with this subject. The respective endowments are:

Harvard$	141,941,866.00
Yale	104,083,076.00
Columbia	86,980,474.00
Chicago	65,000,000.00
University of Penn	20,000,000.00
Office Stoy of a carrie

And remember, not one Jesuit Scholasticate or College in this Province has any endowment whatever!

Our Altar Boys

The Church sets aside each month as a time for special attention to some one aspect of the richness of her devotions. In February this attention is centered on the Hidden Life of Our Lord.

We know next to nothing of this period spent at Nazareth, except that during it Our Lord increased in wisdom, age and grace. It was a time spent in quiet preparation,—at home with His parents, Joseph and Mary, and His heavenly guardians, the Angels who were constantly with Him.

Now, what has this to do with Altar Boys? Quite a bit! First of all, the altar itself is a sacred stage, whereon are enacted the various scenes of Our Lord's life. It is Bethlehem, because He is born there daily. It is Calvary, because He is offered as a sacrifice at each Mass. It is a Holy Land, because there He teaches again the doctrines of His active ministry; and it is Nazareth because there He stays a while between His birth and the final consummation. There too are the same hosts of worshipping angels, bowing in prayerful adoration.

It is well to think of that, boys, as you are serving,—that you are in the presence of that Boy of Nazareth, that Man of Palestine, that Victim of Calvary, and under each title, His attending courts of Angels. It would be well to ask at each Mass you serve that, as you grow in age, there might likewise be an increase in wisdom and grace!

Formal Reception of New Members takes place according to Custom in June.

The New Candidates will begin serving Mass this month.

To them we dedicate the following verse:

ZU

To An Altar Boy

To be Christ's page at the Altar, To serve Him freely there, Where even the angels falter, Bowed low in reverent prayer.

To touch the throne most holy, To hand the gifts for the feast, To see Him meekly, lowly, Descend at the word of the priest.

To hear man's poor petition, To sound the silver bell, When He in sweet submission Comes down with us to dwell.

No grander mission surely, Could saints or men enjoy; No heart should love more purely, Than yours, my Altar Boy.

God bless you, lad, forever, And keep you in His care. And guard you that you never, Belie the robes you wear.

For white bespeaks untainted. A heart both tried and true: And red tells love the Sainted, And holy martyrs knew.

Throughout life, then, endeavor, God's graces to employ; And be in heart forever, A Holy Altar Boy.

The Church Collection Envelopes

We request the members of the Gesu Parish to show their interest in the upkeep of the church by using the Collection Envelopes for their offerings every Sunday. Every adult in the Parish should see to it that he receives the Envelopes, and that they are returned with his offering. If you are not receiving the Envelopes, leave your name and address at the Porter's Office, Eighteenth and Thompson Streets, or with some member of the Finance Committee and the Envelopes will be sent to you.

This little show of interest will be looked upon by the Fathers connected with the church as a mark of your appreciation of the constant effort they are making to keep the Gesu a centre of Catholic Devotion in the Philadelphia Archdiocese.

Envelopes are also provided for the children, and given to them in the School. Parents should see to it that these Envelopes are used every Sunday by their children for their offerings in the church.

Prepare for the Novena of Grace

Close upon the end of this month of February will come the Great Novena of Grace in honor of St. Francis Xavier. It begins on March 4th. Make your plans in time to prevent any other engagement from interfering with your devotions on the nine days—March 4-12. The Closing day is the anniversary of the canonization of St. Francis Xavier and St. Ignatius Loyola.

Penance: Substitutes

One thing we ought to bear in mind with regard to Lent is that Catholics are, during that season, under command to do Penance. All Catholics, without exception, who have the use of reason, are included in this command. For those between the ages of twenty-one and sixty, if they are not lawfully excused, the penance is prescribed—fasting. But those who do not fast are morally bound to substitute an equivalent, each according to his or her ability.

Fasting, therefore, is the main duty of Lent—the fast prescribed by the Church, and our first question should be, "Am I in the number of those who should fast?" Let me answer this question squarely, and if needful, have my confessor's advice on it. The Church makes exceptions, it is true, but am I one who hurriedly takes up the exception list with the settled idea away down deep, "I'm not going to fast, that's certain, and I'm going to get under cover in one of those bomb-proof 'exception' shelters." It won't be bomb-proof if we are not fair with God.

The next question is, "in case I cannot fast, what shall I substitute?" Remember, this is a duty. We must do Lenten Penance. The substitute penance should, in all fairness, be an equivalent penance. Therefore, we should do somethic. do something approximately as difficult as fasting. Recollect, too, that fasting is a continuous penance. It effects us, in a sense, the whole day through. Then our substitute penance should be something on this order. What shall we think, then, of substitutes like these? "I won't chew gum during Lent," "I shan't taste candy during Lent," "I shan't go to the movies during Lent," and other """ of the blind?" and other "won'ts" of the kind?

No one will say these are bad resolutions, but as a fitting substitute for the duty of fasting, what do you think of them? We shall admit, I imagine, that they don't quite cover the ground.

No one will say these are bad resolutions, but as a fitting substitute for the definite, would not some, or all, of the following make it more really Lent for most of us?

1. Hearing Mass every morning.

2. Receiving Communion at least three times a week or daily.

3. Visiting the Blessed Sacrament some time each day.

4. Saying our Beads carefully once a day.

5. Attending evening services, if any.

6. When there are no evening church services, remaining at home and closing the day with the Rosary said in common by the family.

7. Making use of your self-denial bank.

8. Some added original touch that would be a steady little sting for darling self.

And so, in case we cannot fast, we can come appreciably near Penance, if we really wish.

Lent

For some mysterious reason never revealed to us, the number "forty" in Biblical History has always been associated with punishment and affliction. It is a number which, as St. Jerome tells us, denoted sorrow and suffering, and is linked with all the severe chastisements God visited upon the people of the Old Law. When in the time of Noah "all flesh had corrupted its way and God in His anger repented that He had made man," He sent the deluge and "the rain fell for forty days and forty nights," destroying the whole human race with the exception of one family. In punishment for their sins of idolatry, the Jewish Nation wandered for forty years in the desert. Before Moses and Elias were allowed to hold converse with God they were commanded to prepare themselves by an expiatory fast of forty days. And to place the seal of divine approval upon the penitential significance of this number, we behold our Lord Himself in preparation for His public life retiring into the desert where He fasted "forty days and forty

With these examples before her, and especially in imitation of our Saviour's long penance, it was but natural that the Church should select forty days as the period of her season of penance in preparation for the feast of Easter. And such has been the practice of the Church as far back as the days of the Apostles. For the season of Lent has always been a time of universal expiation. In the early centuries of Christianity, all the faithful during this period underwent rigorous austerities, and for public sinners in particular the penances imposed by the Church were of extraordinary severity. For public expiation was always exacted from those who had given grave scandal. On Ash Wednesday, these public sinners presented themselves in penitential grab at the church door. They were then clad in sackcloth and ashes and after an admonition by the bishop were debarred from the services until Holy Thursday. Gradually, this custom of being sprinkled with ashes was extended to all the faithful, including even the priests, until it assumed the form used today in Ash Wednesday.

The ashes used for this ceremony are obtained by the burning of the blessed palms of the previous Palm Sunday. In the blessing of these ashes, which takes place before the Mass on Ash Wednesday, God is asked to have mercy on us who are but dust and ashes; to spare us from His wrath as He spared the Ninevites whom He doomed to destruction; and to give to all who receive them health of soul and body. At the close of this ceremony the priest with the words, "remember man that thou are dust and into dust thou shalt return," places upon the forehead of the faithful this striking symbol of our mortality.

The modern world of course ridicules the Catholic doctrine of penance. Rejecting all belief in God and the hereafter and seeking in this world their ultimate happiness as do most people outside the Church, the very idea of mortification or self-denial is beyond their comprehension. Small wonder is it then that even Catholics, if they do not adopt these pagan ideas, are at least tempted to complain against what they consider the unreasonable restrictions of the Church. "Is it not enough," they urge, "to submit to the inevitable hardships of life without increasing our unhappy lot by imposing added burdens? The present age with its harsh demands on the nervous system, the artificial existence most of us lead, the multiplication of luxuries and modern conveniences have made the man of today unfit for the corporal austerities practiced by our forefathers. Why does not the Church adapt her laws to meet these conditions?"

Catholics who thus accuse the Church of a tyrannical dominance over her subjects fail to realize that during the centuries her laws of fasting have been continually modified and lightened to conform to the exigencies of the times. Besides this, today she grants to her priests the power to dispense all who feel they cannot observe the Lenten fast. As a consequence, few people today are bound to comply with the law of the Church in these matters. But the Church cannot and will not allow her children to abandon or disregard entirely the need of penance. If she did she would be failing in her God-appointed task of teaching the whole doctrine of Christ. For both by words and an arrange of the words and appointed task of teaching the whole doctrine of the would be the constitution of the world are the manager of the would be the constitution of the world be the constitution of the world be the constitution of the would be the constitution of the world be the world be the constitution of the world be the constitution of the world be the w words and example our Lord shows us the necessity of penance if we would merit eternal salvation. Not only was His whole life on earth an uninter-rupted series of hardships, but the substance of all His exhortations may be summed up in His warning to the Jews: "Unless you do penance you shall all likewise perish."

Is it not likewise a fact, which reason has made clear to all of us, that every concession one makes to an inordinate appetite adds to the clamor and impetuosity of the passions, lessons our powers of resistance and prepares the way to greater and more dangerous concessions? This in itself, even if God had never commanded it, should convince us that at times we must abstain from what is lawfully allowed in order that when we do meet with serious temptation we shall have the strength of will and grace to resist. If Catholics fully realize the need of penance, if they would bring home to themselves the teaching of Christ that this life is not meant to be one round of pleasure, that we are here to carry our cross, not to flee from it. the Church would have little to fear from divorce, birth control and other serious evils of our day.

Let us then enter into the spirit of the Church during the season of Lent by a closer imitation of the model of all true penance, our Lord Himself. We may not be able to fast, but we can perform these works of piety that are within the reach of every Christian. Daily attendance at Mass, the frequent reception of Holy Communion, a patient submission of the little trials that come to all of us, a curtailment of legitimate pleasures, and above all, a firm resolution to keep from grievous sin. In performing these acts of devotion we shall receive the blessing and peace of our Lord in this life, we shall shorten our time of purgatory, and assure for ourselves the rich victory of eternal life. -College Church Bulletin.

Feasts of the Month

ST. IGNATIUS, BISHOP, MARTYR—FEBRUARY 1

St. Ignatius, Bishop of Antioch, was the disciple of St. John. When Domitian, persecuted the Church, St. Ignatius obtained peace for his own flock by fasting and prayer. But for his part he desired to suffer with Christ, and to prove himself a perfect disciple. In the year 107, Trajan came to Antioch, and forced the Christians to chose between apostasy and death. "Who are thou, poor devil," the emperor said, when Ignatius was brought before him, "who settest our commands at naught?" "Call not him 'poor devil,'" Ignatius answered, "who bears God within him." And when the emperor questioned him about his meaning, Ignatius explained that he bore in his heart Christ crucified for his sake. Thereupon the emperor condemned him to be torn to pieces by wild beasts at Rome. St. Ignatius thanked God, Who had so honored him, "binding him in the chains of Paul, His

He journeyed to Rome, guarded by soldiers, and with no fear except of losing the martyr's crown. He was devoured by lions in the Roman amphitheatre. The wild beasts left nothing of his body except a few bones, which were reverently treasured at Antioch, until their removal to the Church of St. Clement at Rome, in 637. After the martyr's death, several Christians saw him in vision standing before Christ, and interceding for

PURIFICATION—CANDLEMAS—FEBRUARY 2

Three events are commemorated in this sacred solemnity: the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the presentation of the Child Jesus in the Temple, and the meeting with Simeon and Anna. By the provisions of the Mosaic code, every Jewish mother, after childbirth, was obliged to undergo at the Temple a ceremony of purification and offer God a sacrifice of penance and thanksgiving.

The Blessed Mother, because of her utter sinlessness, was clearly exempt from this law. Yet, to furnish an example of implicit obedience to all just law, the Immaculate Mother of the Savior docilely repaired to the Temple after the Birth of her Son. She chose to offer the thank-offering of the poor, a pair of turtle doves. From this ceremony of purification undergone by the Virgin Immaculate has arisen a pious and symbolic custom of the Church, the "Churching of Women."

On this day the Child Jesus was presented in the Temple. This was in obedience to the law of Moses which required the solemn consecration of every first-born to the service of God-if he were of the tribe of Levi. If he were of another tribe, he might be relieved of this obligation by the payment of a small fine.

Our Savior, of the royal line of David, was not subject to this law. Yet he submitted to the redemptive service, and after His presentation was returned by the priests to the arms of Mary and Joseph.

The third event recalled by the Feast of the Purification is the significant meeting of the Mother and Child with the Holy Simeon and the prophetess Anna. From this event the Feast receives its characteristic name. Candlemas Day. Holy Simeon, when he received Our Lord in his arms, pronounced the prophetic words of the Nunc Demittis, containing the reference to Christ as the Light of the World.

"And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem named Simeon and this man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Ghost was in him. And he received an answer from the Holy Ghost that he should not see death before he had seen the Christ of the Lord. And he came by the Spirit into the Temple.

"And when His parents brought in the Child Jesus to do for Him according to the custom of the Law, he also took Him in his arms, and blessed God and said: Now Thou dost dismiss Thy Servant, O Lord, according to Thy word in peace. Because my eyes have seen Thy salvation which Thou hast prepared before the faces of all the peoples, a light to the revelation of the Gentiles and the glory of Thy people, Israel."

What took place forty days after the birth of the Savior occurs again in the liturgical celebration every second of February. On this day the Redeemer comes again into his Temple, the Church, to offer Himself to His Heavenly Father for the life of the world.

He is present in Holy Mass, as He was once present in Mary's arms. As Mary made the offerings of the poor, so every Christian may return thanks to God for a Gift which places our race in an indebtedness no human effort can ever requite. The turtle doves of Mary's offering were an inadequate expression of her best. The offering of our hearts is an insufficient return to the Father for the gift of His Son. Yet, since this is the best offering we can make, we may be sure that God will not disdain it.

Christmastide, the Feast of the Nativity and the festivals which accompany it, has passed. But its memory still lingers. Standing on the threshold of Lent, the Feast of the Purification, the last of the Christmas feasts, entitles us to one last backward glance at the present joy and the promise of greater joy still to come which are incarnate in the word, Christmas:

We enter a season of penance and sorrow. But the antecedent of this Feast is an event of undimmed glory. God loves us. He loves us so dearly that His Son became Flesh and dwelt among us. The light of the star which shone over Bethlehem will never be extinguished. It shines still, brilliant, unfading, illuminating the darkness which lies thick about us, lighting the Christian's pathway to God.

ST. BLASE, BP., M.—FEBRUARY 3

In the history of his life, it is narrated that whilst he was lying in prison awaiting death, multitudes flocked to him to be cured of their infirmities. He prayed over them, and blessed them, and sent them away restored to health. This was more frequently the case with diseases of the throat.

Among others who sought his aid, at this time, were the parents of a little child whose life was despaired of by the doctors. A piece of bone lodged in the boy's throat, was choking the lad to death, and surgical aid was powerless. At the prayers of the parents, St. Blase, moved to sympathy, besought God to have regard to their faith and save the child's life. Then he made the he made the sign of the cross over the suffering child, the bone at once was loosened and easily removed, and the child saved from death. The overjoyed parents, thanking God and the holy bishop, spread abroad the story of the saint's miraculous intercession. Hence arose in the east a devotion which is now widespread, almost universal, of invoking God's blessing through the intercession of St. Blase, to protect his children from all diseases of the throat and from all other evils..

BLESSED JOHN DE BRITTO-FEBRUARY 4

One of the glorious Beati of the Society of Jesus is Blessed John de Britto. He labored in the Kingdom of Maravia in the East Indies, after St. Francis Xavier had opened the way for his apostolate. He endured many labors and hardships and encountered almost constant dangers. He succeeded in converting a great number of idolators, but was finally seized by the tyrant and twice put to torture. Remaining firm in the confession of the Faith, he was at last beheaded and thus won the palm of martyrdom on the 4th of February, 1693. He was beatified by Pope Pius IX.

SS. PAUL, JAMES AND JOHN—FEBRUARY 5

On the fifth day of February, the Society of Jesus commemorates the glorious death at Nangasaki, in Japan, of the blessed Martyrs Paul Fiki, John de Goto, and James Kisai, native Japanese, the first members of the Society, who under Taiko-Sama, being crucified for the Faith and pierced through with lances, together with twenty-three other martyrs, fertilized by their blood the Christianity planted by the Apostle of Japan. They were beatified by Pope Urban the eighth, and canonized in 1862 by Pius IX.

ASH WEDNESDAY-FEBRUARY 7

"Remember man that thou art dust, and unto dust wilt thou return." Such are the solemn words with which Holy Mother the Church inaugurates this, her great season of penance, and by such words she reminds her children without exception of their earthly destiny. During these forty days we should dedicate ourselves to the practise of prayer and genuine penance; shift our affections from the flesh to the soul; conform our lives not only to the rule but to the spirit of the Church and thus have assurance that there will be no depression in our heavenly welfare. "Make to yourselves bags which grow not old, a treasure in heaven which faileth not: where no thief approacheth, nor moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

BLESSED JAMES DE SALES AND WILLIAM SALTAMOUCHE— FEB. 7

On the seventh day of February we have the commemoration of two martyrs of the Blessed Sacrament. They were Blessed James de Sales and Blessed William Saltamouche, slain at Aubenas in France in the year of 1593 out of hatred of the faith. Falling into the hands of the heretics they were for many days tortured with hunger, thirst, and other pains, and then put to death. Father James was first shot through the body, and then as he prayed for his murderers, run through the heart with a sword. William, who was a lay-brother, embracing the Father as he fell was stabbed with daggers. Both had made good preparation to deserve their crown. Father deSales, though subject to many infirmities, labored as if in strong health. He adored the Blessed Sacrament hourly and asked for the grace of martyrdom from the King of Martyrs, the good Jesus, Whose name was ever on his lips and in his heart.

OUR LADY OF LOURDES—FEBRUARY—11

Our Holy Father Pope Pius X crowned, before his death, the work of his predecessors in the chair of Peter by extending to the whole world the Office and Mass in commemoration of Our Lady's apparitions at Lourdes and in recognition of the countless wonders wrought at that shrine. Reference to the miracles which have made Lourdes famous is found in the beautiful prayer of this feast: "O God, Who, through the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin, didst prepare a dwelling fit for Thy Son, we suppliantly beseech Thee that, while celebrating the apparition of the same Blessed Virgin, we may obtain health of mind and body, through the same Jesus Christ Our Lord. Amen."

In a book entitled "Heaven's Recent Wonders," one of the physicians who has had intimate personal knowledge of the cures wrought at Lourdes, tells us how rigidly all the wonderful cures are examined by skilled and experienced medical scientists of every religion, and how they are impressed by the results of their impartial investigations. We select the following

"The denial of the supernatural is the true characteristic of the error of our day. A most decisive proof in behalf of the supernatural is a miracle: Lourdes has become the center where all critics are taught more easily than elsewhere to rise from the natural to the supernatural. No need of long and painful historical researches, no need of studying old parchments or deciphering difficult inscriptions of a very remote age in order to prove the supernatural. The facts of instantaneous cure are clear, definite, and attested by numerous and even infidel witnesses, by physicians who are constrained to acknowledge the impossibility of accounting for those tangible effects by the forces of nature."

However, even without journeying all the way to Lourdes we may obtain for ourselves and our relatives and friends who may be afflicted in mind or body the relief which we desire. We have only to pray with confidence in Mary Immaculate and with resignation to the Holy Will of God.

BLESSED CLAUDE DE LA COLOMBIERE, S.J.—FEBRUARY 15

On June 16th of the year 1929, a band of pilgrims, representing the League of the Sacred Heart in the United States, joined with Associates of the League from all parts of the world, to attend the ceremonies in St. Peter's at Rome, during which "the apostle of the Sacred Heart," Claude de la Colombiere, S.J., was raised to the honors of the altar.

Our readers, who have read the life of St. Margaret Mary Alacoque, the Visitation nun whom our Lord chose as His instrument to make known to the world the devotion to the Sacred Heart, will remember that he was the Jesuit Superior of the Residence at Paray-le-Monial, who guided her at the time of the great apparition of 1675 about the Feast of the Sacred Heart.

Blessed Claude was born in 1641, and died on February 15, 1682. The Jesuit Fathers will celebrate his Feast, each year on that date. After his death his notes of retreats were published and through them the world learned of the devotion to the Sacred Heart and of our Lord's desire to have it spread throughout the world.

Associates of the League will continue to pray to the Sacred Heart that many miracles may be granted through the intercession of Blessed Claude and that he may obtain for us the grace to be fervent lovers of the Sacred Heart and earnest in our reparation for the neglect and indifference with which our Lord meets, especially in the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist.

BLESSED DIEGO CARVALHO—FEBRUARY 26

The martyrdom of Blessed Diego Carvalho is honored on the twenty-sixth of February. He was a priest of the Society of Jesus and was put to death in the Kingdom of Oxu in Japan in a most inhuman manner. He was plunged into freezing water and allowed to stay there for several hours. Was plunged into freezing water and allowed to stay there for several hours. Then he was released for a time to test his constancy. Then he was immersed again in the icy waters and continued to endure his sufferings for twelve hours. He died at last with unshaken constancy in the confession of the Faith

THE FIRST SNOWFALL

The gray, dark outlines of towering skyscrapers blended perfectly with the still more gloomy-looking sky. People hurried along with their hands in their pockets, and their coat collars drawn high, as if to keep out the cold, raw wind. Every once in a while, a late Saturday afternoon shopper would meet one of his friends, and gasp, "Isn't it getting cold! It looks as if we're going to have snow for a change." The usual hustle and bustle continued, everything getting even busier as it grew nearer and nearer the time for the closing of the shops.

Suddenly, the air was filled with tiny, white, dancing flakes that settled with all the grace and ease of a bird. It seemed as if God had deliberately sent the snow to brighten the gray, sombre atmosphere. The whole scene took on a sparkling, new light, airy atmosphere, and seemed to share in the gayety of the snowflakes. The streets, buildings, cars, all underwent a startling transformation. It was as if the Greatest of all artists, God, had the whole scene with a burst brush. The street has a six of the street painted the whole scene with a huge brush. The azure blue of the sky blended with the perfectly-made cover of white snow to make the Blessed Virgin's colors, and a scene only God could make.

THE MARTYRS OF JAPAN

Death reigned everywhere during the persecution in Japan, forty years after the death of St. Francis Xavier. All possible means of torture were employed to do away with the Christians. Many had their heads chopped off while others were placed on racks. Yet no matter how horrible the means used, the faith of the survivors remained unshaken.

A six-year-old boy, Peter, had been told of his coming death and that of his father. Overwhelmed with joy, he gladly took the hand of the soldier, who led him to the gate of death. Here, the soldier's courage failed him. He could not kill this angelic boy. Dropping his sword, he fled. A second an unskilled slave, hacked the child to death.

Many, who had not escaped the hands of their persecutors, were branded with crosses and some were buried alive.

The worst torture of all at the time was "The Mouth of Hell." This was a cave of sulphur into which the victim was lowered. There is a story told of one saint who was lowered into a sulphurous pit three times. The third time he died.

We should not grumble about the small penances we are given to do, for if little children can suffer so much for their Creator and God, we also should be able to suffer, however great.

CANDLEMAS DAY

In Jerusalem there lived a holy man named Simeon. Every day, even when he was a young boy, Simeon prayed earnestly to see the Messiah. The Holy Ghost then promised Simeon, that he would not die until he had seen the Messiah. In time Simeon became old and feeble. He could hardly walk.

One day, Simeon went to the temple as usual, when all of a sudden, Mary and Joseph walked in, carrying the Baby Jesus. Immediately, the Child was recognized by Simeon as the Messiah. He walked over, took the Child in his arms and said: "Now Thou dost dismiss Thy servant, O Lord, according to Thy word, in peace; for my eyes have seen Thy salvation. A light to the revelation of the gentiles, and the glory of Thy people, Israel."

Simeon referred to Our Lord as a "Light." On February 2, Holy Mother Church commemorates this event, which we call Candlemas Day. The light of the blessed candles remind us of the light of God's grace which came into our hearts when we received Baptism.

SAINT BLASE

The Church named after Saint Blase was so tall that it could be seen for miles around. An old lady dressed in black walked up the main aisle of the great altar. Kneeling, she made the sign of the cross and sobbed out, "Dear God, help me. My son has a disease of the throat and doctors have given

Finally she looked up into the face of a statue. She wondered whom it represented. Then here eyes fell on an inscribed plate at the foot of the statue "Saint Blase."

She remembered then that he was the saint known to have cured so many hopeless cases of diseases of the throat. The lady said, "This must have been the work of God that brought me here." She sent up her petition to the saint and left the church.

Two days later she returned to the church to thank God and the saint for having cured her boy. So should we have recourse to this great saint who with God's help gives such great aid to mankind.

-Francis Duffy, Grade Seven.

OUR LADY OF LOURDES

In the year 1858 there lived in Lourdes, a French town, a devout child named Bernadette Soubirous. One day Bernadette, her younger sister and a playmate went to gather fire wood. They came to a stream and the others waded across, but Bernadette wished to take off her shoes and stockings before doing so. As she was about to take off her stockings, she heard a voice and turned to see a beautiful lady.

Bernadette thought she was dreaming and turned her head away, but when she looked again the lady was still there. Bernadette began to say the Rosary and the beautiful lady joined her in the "Glory be to the Fathers." This visit was repeated eighteen times.

At one of these visits, the lady told Bernadette to scrape away some earth and when the child obeyed a small flow of water appeared. The small flow of water gradually increased until it became a rushing stream. Many come to the shrine to be cured of their sickness, others to see if the wonderous things said of the Grotto of Our Lady are true. Basilicas, hospitals and shrines have been built in Our Lady's honor for the beautiful lady was the Blessed Mother.

Kinship In the Cross

When cares oppress and sadden me, and all my courage take, I see Thee in a Garden crushed with sorrow for my sake: When friends prove faithless and unkind, and warmth of love I miss, I see Thy Face, Lord, as It looked receiving Judas' kiss; When those I thought would constant be, no matter what the price, Desert me—then I think of Thee, denied by Peter thrice; When men with untruths hurt my name, I pray to bear it all, For then I see Thee as Thou stood alone in Pilate's Hall;

When judgments wrong are passed on me, when fairness men deny, I still hear ringing in my ears the cry: "Christ Crucify!"
When suffering comes and pain consumes—Those things not easily borne—
I see Thy Body lashed and scourged, Thy Head pierced with the thorns;
When hard it is to tread the road that marks my life each day, I watch Thee stagger, sway and fall along a Calvary's Way; When heavy is my cross to bear, when comes to me great loss, I see Thee lying prostrate from the burden of Thy Cross;

When tired hands and aching feet bring weariness to me, I find strength when Thy Hands and Feet, nailed to the Cross I see; When doubts come that Thou canst forgive a sinner such as I, I hear Thee promise heaven to the Good Thief as he dies;
When Death takes from me, one by one, those dear friends I have known,
I watch Thy Gaze on Mary fixed, Who sees Thee die alone;
How puny are my griefs, dear Christ, my heartaches, pains and loss, Beside the suffering Thou didst find entwined within Thy Cross.

THE MONTH OF ST. JOSEPH

Give me, O Christ, a mild and lowly heart, That from all vain desires I may find rest, And taste the peace that dwells within Thy breast, And of happy life the simple art; That in Thy kingdom I may have a part, And at Thy feast be not unwelcome guest With gentle Mary who chose well the best, Made wise by perfect love and sin's deep smart.

-Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding, D.D.

Nowhere in the world this month is there a land where St. Joseph will not be honored and loved. The month of March is in a very special manner consecrated to him, and it is but natural that we should rejoice during this time, in his great glory and dignity. He is described by the Gospels as "The Just Man." All virtue is implied in this description, for he was just to his family, just to others, and just in his observance of the law of God. Having prepared the way for him in His eternal wisdom, in the fullness of time, God sent the Redeemer. St. Francis de Sales, meditating on this, says: "Think you not that God, in Whose hands is the formation of all men, did not select from among His creatures the most perfectly qualified to be the guardian of His Eternal Son, the Lord of heaven and earth?" What graces then must have been his? then must have been his?

Of him the great St. Teresa says: "I do not remember ever to have asked anything from St. Joseph without having obtained it at once. It is a wonderful thing, the many favors that I have received from heaven; from what dangers either of soul or body I have been delivered through the merits of this holy patron. God seems to have granted to the other Saints the power to assist us in one or other need. St. Joseph, on the contrary, can help us in all needs, and by this the Lord shows that, as in all things He was subject on earth to St. Joseph, so He still desires to fulfill all his wishes in heaven." Holy Church in her divine office thus salutes this holy patron: "O Joseph, thou who are the glory of the elect, the certain hope of our life, and the pillar of the world, graciously receive the praises which we sing to thee with a holy joy." What beautiful words, what touching expressions to signify the dignity of St. Joseph.

St. Joseph is our patron, our model, our protector, whether we be saints or sinners. Let us during this month of March celebrate his glory and praises with the true happiness that children find in honoring a father whom they love and revere. Let us beseech him with piety and confidence to assist us in our problems of this life and protect our interests. Let us thank him for his continued protection in the past and begging for it in the future, encouraging others to adopt him as their patron, to imitate his piety, his fidelity, his purity and his patience. Let us invoke him in our piety, his fidelity, his purity and his patience. Let us invoke him in our special needs, so that he may be our support; and let us not doubt but that we shall experience the effects of his power and his goodness.

THE FAST DAYS OF LENT

THE FAST DAYS OF LENT are all the week days from ASH WEDNES. DAY, February 7th, to noon of Holy Saturday, March 23rd. On these days only one full meal a day may be taken, either at noon or in the evening

AT BREAKFAST—One's breakfast may consist of a piece of bread and a cup of coffee, tea, chocolate or cocoa.

AT DINNER-One may take anything at all without restriction, even using fish and flesh at the same meal.

AT SUPPER—One is permitted a light meal not exceeding eight ounces, though meat may not be taken. At this meal eggs and fish are permitted. If lunch at noon is substituted for supper, the regulation is the same.

DAYS OF FAST AND ABSTINENCE—The days of fast and abstinence during Lent are WEDNESDAYS and FRIDAYS and EMBER SATURDAY, February 17th, and the forenoon of HOLY SATURDAY, March 23rd. On these days the use of meat and of broth made from meat IS FORBIDDEN. Since these days are days of fasting, as well as of abstinence, the rules given above are also to be observed,. In preparing food, however, dripping and lard may always be used.

PERSONS EXCUSED FROM FASTING—Those under twenty-one and over fifty-nine years of age, women in weak condition, people of weak constitution, the sick, and those recovering from illiness are not obliged to fast. Those whose work is heavy and exhausting are likewise excused. On meat days persons thus excused, as well as those who have been dispensed may eat meat at all meals.

PERSONS EXCUSED FROM ABSTINENCE—All children not having completed their seventh year, the sick and the feeble are excused from abstinence. Working people and their households who find difficulty in observing the obligation of abstinence, on all days except Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday of Holy Week, and the forenoon of Holy Satur-

A SEASON OF PENANCE—All Catholics should remember that LENT IS A SEASON OF PENANCE and endeavor to live a more mortified life in accordance with its spirit. Hence, if excused or dispensed in the matter of food, they should be ready, as far as they may be able, to substitute other pious workers and devotions such as the Stations of the Cross, almsgiving and the Lenten exercises in their parish church.

THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The "Nite of Merriment" on January 17th, sponsored by the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association, was a social and financial success. Our sincere thanks to all who attended and especially do we thank the Veteran Boxers Association and Miss Margaret Coyle, who provided the entertainment. From time to time these little social affairs will be held, to further the Work of this Association and a large attendance at these affairs further the work of this Association, and a large attendance at these affairs would be most encouraging to the officers, and will contribute very much to the success of the Association.

The Special Men's Committee is doing very effective work in the parish Calls have been made by this Committee on tenants and owners following the questionnaire sent out some time ago by Father Rector. All but two of three districts have been visited. As these matters are discussed in detail at the semi-monthly most in the semi-monthly at the semi-monthly meetings, we cannot urge too much the necessity of faithful attendance at the meetings. Attendance at the meetings encourages others to accomplish the results this Association has been working for from the beginning. Try to attend at least one meeting each month. Volunteer your services on some particular phase of the work. Try to bring a friend or neighbor with you each time you attend to the work. friend or neighbor with you each time you attend a meeting.

THANKSGIVING—NOVENA OF GRACE

The faith of many will be strengthened by knowledge of the favors received by other petitioners in previous Novenas. Some of those who returned thanks stated that the favor was granted weeks and months after the end of the Novena. Some enter into details more than others. Here are a few selected samples of the favors received:

sale of house. Securing of a good tenant.

Success in finding apartment within means.

Several cures of various ailments.

Returns to religious practices after ten years, twenty years, forty-four

Relief from severe suffering.

Relief from financial anxiety.

Recovery from nervous collapse.

Cures of several afflicted children.

Several conversions.

Restoration of harmony in domestic relations.

Several cases of safe delivery.

Cure of one mentally afflicted and confined in asylum.

Payment of debts considered hopeless.

Means for payment of urgent bills. Reformation of several addicted to bad habits.

Success of several operations.
Sufficient strength to make the Novena.
The grace to resist and conquer temptations.

Perseverance of one wavering in vocation.

Return to church and reception of last sacraments shortly before death.

Complete cures in cases which Doctors declared incurable.

N.B.—If you have not yet reported answers to prayers in previous Novena, send in your Thanksgiving at once.

YOUNG MEN'S SODALITY

As a pre-Lenten social we were entertained royally on Tuesday evening January 30. by a show under the able guidance of Mr. Joseph Monaghan the first prefect. Boxing bouts, songs and a most interesting life sketch by Charles "Kid" Thomas filled out the menu of a gala affair. Refreshments on the house guaranteed the gratis end of a very joyous occasion. A new radio for the recreation room has been found quite the thing for the lovers of lighter music while our grand console still placed in the library takes care of the needs of those members who prefer the salon type. The annual dance of the Sodality will be held in April and we have every intention of making this the Grand Affair of a very busy year. Each member of the Sodality is to dispose of at least three tickets which will be fifty cents apiece. The Rev. Moderator was greatly pleased with the marked increase of members at the Monthly Communion Mass, the result of a publicity drive. The weekly talks are now on the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass at the conclusion of which an illustrated lecture on the same will be held. At the recent elections, the successful candidates were: Mr. Joseph Monaghan, first prefect; Mr. Joseph Spruce, second Prefect, and Mr. Thomas Minner, third prefect.

NEW COMMUNITY

On April 15th, a very important change is to take place in the Gesu Community. For on that day, the Fathers who form the College Faculty will leave the Gesu to take up their residence directly opposite the main entrance to St. Joseph's College on City Line Avenue, in the house formerly occupied by His Eminence, Cardinal Dougherty.

In the mean time, preparations are going forward to furnish the house from cellar to attic and when the move is finally completed, the Fathers will feel as keenly leaving the old Gesu as the many devoted friends they have made in the course of the years. But that is part of our life and I am sure that the prayers and good wishes of our parishioners will follow the Fathers in their new Community.

THE BRONZE TABLET

Through an oversight, we failed to make mention in the February number of the Church Bulletin, of a brief ceremony immediately preceding the opening of the Forty Hours' Devotions. This was the unveiling of a bronze tablet erected in the rear of the Church—a gift of the Misses Adele and Constance Giltinan, of Narberth, Penna., whose father purchased the ground on which our church and the other buildings stand.

The following is the verse to be found on this tablet:

"We built this tower and hung these bells And reared this Altar where Christ dwells; We flung these arches overhead Who now lie numbered with the dead.

We opened doors for you to Him Who is the Joy of Seraphim; All you who enter here to pray Remember us who led the way."

-James J. Daly, S.J.

May they rest in peace.

We deeply appreciate this gift of The Misses Giltinan and recommend to yours prayers the souls of our deceased benefactors.

NOTRE DAME ALUMNAE

Greatly disappointed with the recent attendance at the regular monthly meetings the Rev. Moderator of our society has decided to have the assemblies once every two months. No one can find any possible explanation for the lack of interest as we have done much to improve the appearance of our meeting room and have increased the number of socials. We are hoping for a resurgence of Club spirit by a notable rise in the number at the next meeting. Our basketball team under the most capable guidance of Miss Mc-Nulty, though defeated 25-20 by the Camaxon girls certainly gave a fine exhibition of team spirit and play and are looking forward to future encounters with high hopes. New basketballs, nets and even a clean gym have greatly added to the feature of the Club. We are planning a graduation party for the Gesu Girls Class of '40 to inaugurate our new members. Congratulations to Miss Anne O'Donnell for her splendid protrayal in Hallahan's Senior play for which the Club acted as patroness.

GESU SCHOOL BOYS' TEAM

A splendid array of Parish Boys compose the Gesu Parochial School team which carries the colors of the Parish in the Parochial School League. The team which won the championship of the city last year is coached by Jack Loughrey, and has only one boy back this year, Vernie Molino, who is captain; the others have been lost by graduation. So far this year, they have won three games and lost one in league competition. This puts them in first place at the present time.

Members of the Parish and the students of the school are invited to attend these games, which are played every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at Our Lady of Mercy gymnasium, Broad and Susquehanna Avenue, ad-

The team has played outside of the league and has been victorious over Academy of Mercy and St. Leonard's Academy. A complete list of the schedule for the remaining games will be published in the school and this list will include the games to be played in the La Salle and St. Joseph's Prep tournaments.

The members of the team are Vernon Molino, Thomas Murphy, Edward McGrory, Joseph Foley, Peter Dolan, Francis McGrath, Joseph Renteria, James McNally, Francis Carroll, Clement Mahoney and Francis Koff.

The record so far this year has been:

Gesu 24-St. Michael's-27 Gesu 17—St. Elizabeth's—7* Gesu 14-St. Agnes-16* Gesu 31—Our Lady of Mercy—12* (extra period) Gesu 29—Assumption—11* Gesu 25—DeSales—27 (extra period) Gesu 25—St. Leonard's—19 Gesu 21—Mercy Acaremy—5 Gesu 21-Most Precious Blood-8 * Denotes League game. Gesu 28—Nativity—31 Gesu 30-Nativity-18

Keep up the good work boys, and let us try to duplicate last year. -GEORGE F. CARROLL.

CATHOLIC DIGEST

Only forty months old, the Catholic Digest is a very splendid publication gotten up and edited under distinctly Catholic auspices. Its policy is to draw upon all Catholic magazines and non-Catholic as well when they publish Catholic articles. Catholics interested in the best magazine articles of the day can best keep up with the world by reading the Catholic Digest each month. For your convenience the Digest is on sale at the Bookrack at the rear of the Church.

CONFIRMATION

This year, the Sacrament of Confirmation will be administered by His Excellency, The Most Reverend Hugh L. Lamb, D.D., on Friday, April 5th, at 4.30 P. M.

Classes of instruction for children not attending the Parochial School were begun in January and are held every Saturday morning at 9.30 in the High School building at Seventeenth and Stiles Streets.

Adults who have never received this Sacrament should make inquiries at the Rectory. The date assigned for Confirmation is April 5th, Friday, at 4.30 P. M.

CARD PARTY

Emulating the splendid example set by Section One, bounded by 19th and 20th Streets, Fairmount and Columbia Avenues, Section Two will sponsor the Card Party set for March 29th. Although the party is called sectional, this does not mean that only the residents of this section are to attend. The party is for the entire Parish and in that sense is a General Party. What is meant by Cartifold in this Party. What is meant by Sectional is that the workers are drawn, in this case, from that part of the Parish bounded by 17th and 19th Streets (exclusive of Francisville), and Fairmount and Columbia Avenues. In charge of the Committees formed from the parishionary line and Mrs. the Committees formed from the parishioners living in this section are Mrs. William O'Malley and the Misses Matilda Brennan and Mary Comey.

DEPARTURE

According to present plans, the College Faculty will move into their new residence April 15th; that is, such are the plans. The owners have two months in which to make necessary alterations to turn a private dwelling into a house fitted to the needs of a religious community. Then there is the question of furnishings; even Priests need furniture. No one seems to know just what will be done but all are agreed that beds and desks and know just what will be done but all are agreed that beds and desks and chairs, etc., are quite necessary. Nothing may be taken from the Gesu Rectory. Perhaps like the proverbial professors with heads in the clouds of metaphysical abstractions or poetic fancies, like many saints also, they are naively unconscious of material necessities. Then there is the poignant sadness common to all separations, breaking up of homes, leaving friends and companions. Fifteen Priests can render much help in a Parish. We shall miss them.

GIRL SCOUTS OF THE GESU

The annual Valentine Party under the direction of our youngest scouts was a surprise party this year. When the older scouts arrived in the evening they were greeted by a pleasant sight. At the door ready to take their wraps were members of the patrol conducting the party. The rooms were artistically decorated in red and white crepe-paper with lighted candles on the walls. Fancy favors—tiny red and white paper hearts containing candy were hung at a side of the room. Hand-printed programs were presented. to the girls and a very entertaining program was directed by Marie Koff. Refreshments were served under the supervision of the patrol leader, Joan Rodenbaugh, to whom a great deal of credit is due for the success of the

The following poem, which was printed in the Hallahan Year Book, "Silver Sands," was written by Edna Green, Girl Scout:

His Mother

O the rapture and the joy, As she gazes on her baby boy! Nestling in her arms-That Heaven-sent gift
Of which the angel spoke so long ago,
When she was but a maid, And to her, the highest tribute paid. To her heart there comes a pain Those words of Simeon she hears again-That one day a sword Will pierce her soul; For He must pay the price of man's great sin-Her little baby boy, The source of all her joy! -Girl Scout Scribe.

LECTURE

The Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S.J., Ph.D., Regent of the School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., will speak in the High School auditorium, on the evening of Sunday, March 10th, 1940, under the auspices of the St. Joseph's College Lecture Forum. Father Walsh, already Well known to Philadelphia audiences, will speak on "CHRISTIANITY AND RACISM." He is the author of "The Fall of the Russian Empire" and "The Last Stand." The lecture will begin at 8.30. Admission 75 cents, payable at the door. the door.

MISSIONARY LITERATURE

Something like one million three hundred thousand copies of Cardinal Gibbons' "Faith of Our Fathers" have been sold. Nobody can gauge the number of converts made, under God's grace, by this book. Fifty thousand would probably be far too low an estimate. Have you ever sent this book, with a kind personal letter, to a non-Catholic friend? You can get a paper-bound volume for 2 cents. Among the other valuable and low-cost books for missionary purposes are "Plain Facts for Fair Minds," by Father Searle; "God and Myself," by Father Scott (a work to be especially recommended); or "Catholic Religion," by Father Martin. Remember, however, that the personal touch should supplant your missionary efforts. After reading one of these books, most non-Catholics will readily accept an invitation to take the free instruction course they can secure from any priest. But it is up to you to do the inviting. Make your own salvation secure by saving other souls.—The Register.

CARNIVOROUS GRUMBLERS

Catholics who grumble about the law of abstinence may be interested in what the Journal of the American Medical Association has to say on this point: "Ewald suggests that the practice of refraining from meat on a certain day of the week like that of certain religious bodies, should be made a regular custom in State institutions, hospitals, barracks, etc. This would represent an immense saving in the consumption of meat, and experience has shown that a day without meat once a week, and change to other foods, results in a distinct hygienic gain as a rule."

A staunch old Presbyterian physician said to a Catholic priest, who happened to be a particular friend of his: "Father, I cannot accept a good many of your doctrines, but I heartily wish that your Church could get control of the world long enough to fasten upon it her laws of occasional fasting and abstinence from meat. We doctors would not have quite so much to do, but there would be a vast improvement in the general health."

THE NOVENA OF GRACE

Coming as it does during Lent, from March 4th to the 12th, with the great Apostle of the Indies as its powerful patron, this is the largest and most popular novena of the year. We all stand in need of many graces and favors both spiritual and temporal for ourselves and for others. There is no better or surer way or time throughout the year to obtain these blessings that now when all the parishioners are storming heaven in a body.

The very name "Novena of Grace" indicates the primary and principal object of the Novena. It is grace. Implied in that word is everything, whether temporal or spiritual, that conduces to our eternal salvation. Sometimes, in God's Providence, it is a temporal favor of some kind that starts us on the way of salvation, or carries us on, or even helps us notably towards the completion of our journey to heaven. Such favors we may well ask for and obtain. Often these favors are granted to us during the Novena and at no other time, because then we pray with a fervor and intensity of faith, not attained during the remainder of the year. In the Novenas we make privately during the year, we pray alone, while in the Novena of Grace, hundreds and literally thousands are praying with us and for us. The Novena in honor of St. Francis Xavier is peculiarly one of concerted power in which all pray for all, and no one merely for himself. No wonder then, that so many prayers are answered, since Christ too prays with us: "Wheresoever two or three are gathered in My name, there am I in the midst of them."

The best recommendation for making this noven comes from St. Francis Xavier, for he first suggested it to Father Mastrili. The Saint appeared to the dying Father and exacted from him a renewal of his promise to go to the Indies, foretold his martyrdom and restored him to health so completely that the same night Father Mastrili removed the bandages from his head, got up and wrote an account of his cure. It was during this vision that St. Francis Xavier assured him that "all who would earnestly ask his intercession with God for nine days in honor of his canonization would infallibly experience the effects of his great power in heaven, and would receive whatever they asked that would contribute to their salvation."

Hence make the Novena and get others to make it. Attend at least one service each day and receive the Sacraments at least once during the Novena. Make the Novena for the love of Jesus Christ and His Holy Church; for the Glory of God. St. Francis was canonized, because by his work, preaching, life and miracles he gave glory to God and that in a particular way, as a missionary. His canonization gave glory to God—in him, you might well say, all missionary work is canonized. So, make the Novena in honor of his canonization to perpetuate this glory given to God; to perpetuate this apostolic, this mission spirit, that has brought such grace to man. Then pray for anything, everything that you need remembering however that the Saint promised to obtain "whatever they ask that will contribute to their salvation."

TO ST. JOSEPH

Saints know thee best, oh, hidden silent Saint!

And would that I could feel a little part
Of that great love Teresa's kindred heart, Felt for thee, Foster-father! But the taint,
The chill, is on my soul; and few and faint;
The prayers that from this earthly bosom dart,
Up to that heavenly throne whereon thou art,
In glory, not too high to hear my plaint.
Patron of all who work in humble ways!
Pray that from pure and earnest motive I May fill with patient toil the moment's flying.
Patron of happy death-beds! when my days
Have reached their term, be thou, dear Joseph, nigh
With Mary and with Jesus, while I'm dying.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER

Early Life

While the whole European world was striving to acquire new lands and new temporal powers, in a small town of Spain, Francis Xavier was born April 7th, 1506. Xavier was the youngest of the family, so that by the time that he was of age all his brothers had won fame and honor as soldiers. It might be thought Xavier would follow their example in military activities but instead he devoted himself to a literary life. In this he was encouraged by his parents and after finishing his preliminary studies was sent to the University of Paris for a degree.

Like any other young man, modern in his own day, Xavier desired the companionship of those who were full of life and always out for a good time. However, he never became riotous or lost the idea of study. He prided himself on his success in lecturing and sought the praise and applause of his companions. This weakness led Ignatius Loyola, a poor decrepid student at the University, to gain Xavier's confidence. He encouraged him in his success, obtained new scholars for him, and opportunities for lecturing. Then when Xavier was in the height of his glory, he would whisper in his ear, "What doth it profit a man to gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul?" However, he never became riotous or lost the idea of study. He prided him-

His Conversion

In solitary moments these words kept ringing in his ears. He saw the emptiness of worldly applause and honor without God as a final end, and determined to devote his talents to higher things. He journeyed to Rome on foot, obtained permission to be ordained a priest and visit the Holy Land. His idea was to convert the Turks. While laboring among the sick in Italy he was chosen by Ignatius to go to India, at the request of the King of Portugal. With only one day's notice he set out for Lisbon to travel by seas for the land of his conquests.

Journey to India

In 1541, Xavier set sail in company with nine hundred and fifty men who were seeking their fortune. Being of a proud and haughty nature the companionship of such men must have been intolerable. But Xavier was charity supreme. The slow travel of a crowded vessel, the storms, the heat of the torrid zone, poor food and sickness gave him ample opportunity to perform works of zeal. The more he did for the passengers the more he was called upon to do. For five months he labored constantly until they arrived at an interest of the side of the passengers. rived at an island far from the coast of India where winter was spent in caring for the sick. A full year after he had set sail, he arrived at Goa, the Capital of India.

Labors for Christ

The harvest was ripened and ready to be reaped. Many of the inhabitants of India had long neglected their religion. Sickness and disease, as well as a ripened and ready to be reaped. Many of the inhabitants of India had long neglected their religion. Well as sin, had reduced them to wretched conditions. Xavier began his work in the hospitals. Curing their bodily ailments, he was able to talk about the conditions of their souls, and hundreds were converted. After visiting all the talk the conditions of their souls, and hundreds were converted. visiting all the towns along the sea coast, doing this same kind of work, he visited the interior of India and labored among the natives. It was here that he did his greatest work. He would gather the children by ringing a hand bell and tack the coast of the form of a song. These songs hand bell and teach them catechism in the form of a song. These songs were being sung by everyone, and soon the religious principles that they conveyed were borne upon the mind. This method of teaching together with numerous miracles brought whole tribes to the faith of Christ. Since the time of the Apostle, St. Thomas, whose footsteps he was following, no one had the gift of miracles or tongues as Xavier did. Many, of course, as in the days of Christ, refused the testimony of supernatural gifts, especially the days of Christ, refused the testimony of supernatural gifts, especially the people of Molucca. But wherever he retraced his steps he found those who had embraced Christianity still fervent.

From Molucca, Xavier went to Japan. Having familiarized himself with the language in a very short time, he visited the king and ingratiated himself by his virtue and knowledge. A few of the rulers having been won over, a great number of the citizens followed; but the Bonzes of idolatry, seeing their own means of subsistence vanishing, opposed his doctrine, and frequently had public arguments with Xavier. He remained here two years and worked many miracles. The firmness of the faith established by him may be surmised from the fact that after three centuries of total abandonment because of persecution, Christians who professed the faith of "Father Francis" were found by Jesuits in the nineteenth century.

Death

Returning to India after his labors in Japan, Xavier desired to preach Christ to the largest nation of the world, China. Everyone tried to dissuade him from the idea, especially since there was a prohibition against foreigners entering the country. Xavier, however, was determined to spread the Gospel. Accordingly, in 1552, he set out for the land of Oriental suns. As He did with Moses, who was never to see the promised land, so God tried Xavier. On November 20th, while on the island of Sancian, he was seized with a fever and forewarned of his death. On December 2nd, while lying in a small hut, away from civilization, with his eyes fixed on his crucifix, he breathed his last, repeating the words, "In Thee, O Lord, have I hoped, let me not be confounded in Thee."

Final Resting Place and Miracles

His body was taken to Goa, where he was finally laid to rest. As during his life every kind of miracle that was related of Christ is attributed to him. His miracles were mostly of charity. All were wrought to take away suffering. The greatest, perhaps, was the fact that he remained alive under such a strain. Hard labor throughout the day with long prayers at night and continual fasting, such as Xavier practiced, were beyond the powers of human nature. Even his bitterest enemies loved and respected him and valued everything that belonged to him. One who saved so many souls must have a powerful intercession in heaven.

HOLY WEEK

Palm Sunday—March 17

The ceremony of Palm Sunday consists of three parts. First the Celebrant blesses and distributes palm-leaves; then the procession of palms; and thirdly, the Holy Mass is offered, during which the "Passion" according to St. Matthew is sung.

During this service, the Church sets herself to picture to us two very opposite feelings; joy and gladness at her Master's triumphal entry into Jerusalem; bitter sorrow at His approaching death. On this day, the first of the Passover, the week in which Jesus died, He entered the Holy City in triumph. We are told that His disciples were with Him, that the mutitudes cut branches of palm trees and cried aloud with one voice: "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." At the same time the cloud of approaching tribulation was gathering dark and thick over the Church, for in five days her Master was to be crucified. To express to us, her children, these opposite emotions, she gives us, first, the blessing of palms, and, in the joyous procession depicts the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem; while in the Mass that follows, the mournful chant of the Passion shadows forth the coming desolation.

Tenebrae

As we enter the Church we are struck by many signs of mourning at this sacred time. The Sanctuary looks deserted and unfurnished. The Tabernacle stands open, for the Blessed Sacrament has been removed. The veil of the Tabernacle, flowers and other ornaments are gone. Nothing remains on the Altar except the veiled Crucifix and six candles. In the center of the Sanctuary stands the book for the Psalms and Lessons. At the Epistle side stands a large triangular candlestick, holding fifteen candles of unbleached wax.

The Office at which we are now to assist is called TENEBRAE, meaning DARKNESS, because it pictures to us, by the gradual darkening of the Church, the more than natural darkness that overshadowed the world at the death of Jesus Christ.

The ceremonies at this service are rich in meaning. At the end of each psalm one of the candles in the triangular candlestick is extinguished until, as the Office proceeds, only one is left lighted. By this is shown how one by one the Disciples forsook their Master and slunk away. The one candle that remains lighted represents Jesus Christ forsaken and left to "tread the wine-press alone." During the Canticle of Zachary (Benedictus) the six candles on the Altar are put out, and the lights in the Church are gradually dimmed, to symbolize the noonday darkness that covered the earth at the death of the Creator. At the end of the Benedictus, the single candle that still burns, is hidden behind the Altar, while the MISERERE is chanted amid the gloom. A prayer is then said in a low voice by the Officiating Priest and a confused noise is made to express the convulsions of nature when the earth quaked, and the rocks were split, and the graves gave up their dead. The candle is then brought back to signify that after His death and burial, Our Lord came forth immortal from the tomb. The office ended, all depart in silence.

Maundy Thursday

In spite of the mourning of Holy Week, the Church cannot allow this day to pass without some signs of joy. It is the day of the Last Supper of Our Dear Lord—the day on which he instituted the Most Holy Sacrament of the Eucharist. In honor of that great Mystery, the Church lays aside her mourning, at least during the celebration of Holy Mass, and bids us deck the Altar with our richest ornaments and wear vestments of white—the color denoting joy and gladness.

We should recall that the Last Supper took place on the first day of the FEAST OF THE UNLEAVENED BREAD. It is for this reason that we always use unleavened bread for Consecration in the Holy Mass. Again, to show forth the unity and greatness of this Supper, the Church allows on this day only one Mass to be offered in each Church, at which the clergy and congregation assist and receive Holy Communion, the priests wearing stoles, the token of their priesthood. This brings before us forcibly, the scene in the Upper Chamber in Jerusalem, where Our Lord alone consecrated and then gave Holy Communion to those present.

Amid the triumph of this great feast, a web of sorrow is interwoven, to show that our joy is not lasting, for we have not forgotten the Passion of Jesus Christ. The Celebrant intones the GLORIA IN EXCELSIS and the bells ring out joyously; but after that, both bells and organ are silent until Holy Saturday, to show the sorrow of the world at Our Savior's death. The prayers recall to us Judas and the good thief: both are guilty, but one is pardoned. The kiss of peace is omitted, to show our horror of the treacherous kiss of Judas in the garden this night.

The Procession to the Repository On Good Friday, as we shall explain later, the Church suspends the offerings of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, to commemorate in this solemn way the Sacrifice that was offered on Calvary on that day. The Priest consecrates two Hosts on Holy Thursday. One of these he receives in Holy Communion; the other he reverently places in a chalice and reserves for Good Friday. Good Friday. The Blessed Sacrament could not be reserved with fitting respect at the High Altar, on account of the mournful ceremonies of this holy time. Consequently a chapel or altar, apart from the High Altar, is prepared and adorned with rich hangings, lights and flowers. Here Our Blessed Lord remains until Good Friday. When the Mass today is finished, the choir and the clergy go in procession to this Altar of Repose, the choir singing the Pange Lingua, the ministers under a canopy. The priest does not carry the Monstrance as in other processions of the Blessed Sacrament, but the chalice containing the consecrated host. Arrived at the Repository, the Celebrant places the Chalice in the Tabernacle or Urn, where it will remain until tomorrow's service. Until then Jesus will not be left alone. By day and night, loving souls will keep watch there in humble adoration, making amount, loving souls will keep watch there in humble adoration, making amount, loving souls will keep watch there in humble adoration, making amount, loving souls will keep watch there in humble adoration, making a mount in the souls will be suffered for our sins. ing amends for the scorn and insults which Jesus has suffered for our sins.

This is a day of desolation. The Sanctuary is altogether bare and unadorned. The Altar was stripped of its ornaments on Thursday and nothing remains except the Crucifix, now veiled in black, and the six candlesticks. To enable us to enter into the spirit of this service, and to appreciate fully the meaning of its various parts, we must bear in mind that today the priest does not offer sacrifice—that he does not, so to say, stand in the place of Jesus Christ and speak in His name and with His power; but rather as the spokesman and representative of the congregation present. As a consequence of this, the people follow and take part in the various acts of reparation he performs.

On this day alone throughout the Christian year the Church suspends the offering of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, that our thoughts may be wholly taken up with the contemplation of the one SACRIFICE that was consummated today on Calvary. The Blessed Sacrament which the Celebrant receives today was consecrated (or PRESANCTIFIED) yesterday. Consequently since there is no actual Sacrifice today, this part of the service is called the Mass of the Presanctified.

When the Blessed Sacrament is brought to the Altar, the Priest incenses It. He then turns to the people and bids them pray (Orate Fratres), and himself prays aloud singing the Pater Noster. He then holds up for their adoration, the Sacred Host, and then reverently receives It. To mark our mourning and confusion today, the priest does not remain at the altar to say any public prayers of thanksgiving or to give a blessing as in other Masses; but straightway leaves the Sanctuary. As soon as he departs, Vespers are recited and the altars stripped. The Sanctuary is empty, its light gone, pictures are veiled; the Crucifix stands alone to proclaim the mourning of the spouse for the Crucifixion of her Lord. They shall mourn for Him as one mourneth for an only son, and they shall grieve over Him as is the manner to grieve for the death of the first-born.

Holy Saturday

The Mass at which we are now going to assist is really the Mass that used to be offered at daybreak on Easter morn. This will explain why it is of such a joyous character. The vestments are white, the Gloria is sung, the bells ring out cheerfully, the organ is heard once more. Pictures and images are uncovered; flowers again adorn the altar, which is bedecked in white. The prayer of the Mass makes intercession for the newly baptized, "the new offspring of Thy family." After the Epistle, the Celebrant intones solemnly three times the ALLELUIA, which is taken up by the choir. The Gospel relates to us the visit of Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to the Sepulchre at the dawn of day. The Creed is not sung, since it used to be reserved for the second Mass which was sung later on Easter Day. The Kiss of Peace is still omitted, for it was not until evening on the day of the Resurrection that Jesus stood in the midst of His Apostles in the Holy City and gave them His peace. For the same reason the AGNUS DEI is omitted. As the service is already so long, the Church bids us sing, immediately after the Communion, Vespers, containing one psalm and the MAGNIFICAT. This now takes the place of the Post-Communion in other Masses. When these have been sung, the Mass concludes with the blessing and the last Gospel according to St. John.

ST. PATRICK—MARCH 17

There are many sublime memories in the life of St. Patrick, the Apostle of Ireland. Many of them have been woven into the lovely legends of Irish song and story. They have survived the long stretch of the years which to-day separate the children of the fair land of Ireland from the close of the fourth century, when he was born on the shores of the Irish Sea. Ireland abounds in his memories as vigorous today as when he stood on the Hill of Slane above the Valley of Tara and enkindled with his own hands the Paschal Fire which set ablaze the altar of divine love in Ireland and consecrated forever the Irish race to Jesus Christ, its Lord and King. This beginning of miracles in Erin was followed by the rapid conversion of her people; and Ulster and Munster, Leinster and Connaught humbled themselves at the feet of the Crucified, while Patrick's blessing covered the land like a veil of rain.

"THE SILENT SAINT"

Would it not be wonderful if each one of us could follow the habits and practices of the "Silent Saint" during Lent.

Do you know who the Silent Saint is? He is the one we all love so much, next to Our Blessed Lord and His Blessed Mother. He is Saint Joseph, the foster father of Our Lord, Jesus Christ.

Let us pray to him every day for imitation in his holy purity, for a happy home, and a holy and a happy death.

-Charles O'Donnell, Seventh Grade.

MY HOBBY

Every boy who has reached the average age of fourteen usually picks a certain hobby which appeals to him. The one I have assumed responsibility for is an age old means of living—fishing. I chose this hobby in particular because of the hair-raising exploits that have poured out of seafaring men's lips and often held me breathless. These men have battled the whale, swordfish, shark and other ferocious inhabitants of the deep, withholding ocean. I have never caught a fish more than a foot long to be truthful about the whole thing. But I have had hallucinations and even more, strong desires to have my own fishing launch, to hear the cranking of my reel, to feel the strong tug of some unknown monster of the ocean on my line. I have never experienced any of this, but I know that God in His goodness will grant me just one experience of this kind in my latelife. Until then I will continue fishing patiently, as I have before and thrilled as I feel the tug of some smaller inhabitant of a brook or creek. But no matter how long it takes I'm sure I'll go fishing for a much larger catch some day. For I have in me a desire and desire is what made St. Peter and St. James and all the other martyrs die so courageously for Christ. So if you ever chance to see a boy about fourteen, five foot-one and about a hundred pounds, fishing earnestly in a creek you will know that he is a boy who with the help of God, may turn his hobby into an occupation in later life.

-George Diddlebock, Eighth Grade.

HOLY THURSDAY

As Holy Week draws to a close, and the thought of Good Friday comes stealing into our hearts it seems as though the world is empty. If you go to church, the crucifixes are covered with purple cloth and everyone is in mourning for Christ. All Christians should remember the dreadful suffering of Our Lord on Good Friday. To think, Jesus was crucified for me!

The sadness of Good Friday is counteracted by the joy of Holy Thursday. This day should be a very happy one for all Christians, for it was on this day that we were given the estimable gift of Our Lord's Body and Blood. The Church is very joyful on this day. There is one Mass daily at which all the priests of the parish are given Holy Communion by the Pastor. One Mass is said to commemorate the first Mass said, by Our Lord on Holy Thursday. Following this Mass, is a long procession in which the Blessed Sacrament is carried around the church, and then to the Repository under a canopy. At the Mass are worn the most beautiful vestments owned by the Church.

The faithful commemorate this day by attending seven different churches for a visit. Let us keep up this practice so as to try to make up to Our Lord for His suffering. He gave us everything let us put our confidence in Him and His Church.

-Margaret Kelly, Eighth Grade.

EASTER JOY

Many Catholic people think of Easter as a time of visiting friends, filling Easter baskets, wearing our new Easter outfit, and such other worldly joys. But how many of us have stopped to think of Easter as a time of spiritual rejoicing? So many people are busy with various Easter customs, that they forget Easter's real meaning.

Easter is a time to rejoice, yes, but rejoice means to rejoice in God, for His Divine Son has proved Himself God by rising glorious and immortal, on Easter Sunday, the third day after His death. Easter is the principal feast of the ecclesiastical year. It is the oldest feast in the Catholic Church, and the connecting link between the old and new testaments. When Christ rose, He entered into a new and glorious life. He had fulfilled all the prophesies concerning Him. He had suffered; He had died for us. He had lived His life of poverty, sorrow and agony. Now He has risen, risen from the dead His work on earth was nearly finished. His death was a time of sorrow, but now people must forget their sorrow, for He, God's Divine Son, had risen again. It was now a time to rejoice and be glad.

So we too should rejoice. Rejoice for God has risen. His death was a thing of the past for now the Resurrection is at hand. As Christ rose from the dead, so we too should rise—rise from the sins and bad things of our past life. We too should enter into a better life. So on Easter Sunday, rejoice, for God is risen from the dead.

-Kathleen Marie Collins, Seventh Grade.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

All the saints are honored some day during each year. Some countries have their own patron saint to whom they show particular honor. A few of these saints have become universal favorites. One of them is St. Patrick. People might forget their own birthday, but they will never forget that March 17, is St. Patrick's Day.

St. Patrick who is the patron saint of Ireland was prepared for his work when he was a boy. He was sold to a landowner in northern Ireland when he was a boy. He learned their language and grew to love the children of Ireland. He longed to teach them the knowledge of the true God because at that time the people were pagans and the priests were Druids. One day when he escaped he could hear the children calling to him, "Come, O holy youth, come back and stay with us." He did return, but as a Bishop. He destroyed paganism and gave them Christianity.

St. Patrick loved God He suffered patiently and prayed humbly. God blessed his work so that the Irish preserved the knowledge of the true God for fifteen centuries. They, in turn, have become teachers of Christianity, and everywhere they go they honor the name of St. Patrick.

-Margaret Carroll, Sixth Grade.

THE MESSAGE OF THE RISEN CHRIST

What Message brings the Risen Christ this Resurrection Day?
What cry is heard from out each Wound, what does His pierced Heart say?
The Christmas Star which hid a Cross, the Myrrh the Wise Men brought,
The Manger's straw which held cruel nails, and thorns a Crown to wrought;
The lonely years in Nazareth, the Death on Calvary's Hill,
The creatures who raised voice and hand their God to curse and kill;
The days within the dismal Tomb, the Mother with Heart torn,
The Resurrection from the dead that came with Easter Morn;

What purpose in these sufferings, what goal was there to gain To justify a God to drink the Chalice deep of pain?

Beside the empty Tomb He stands, like noon-day sun He shines, Not Christ, the Man they put to death, but Son of God Divine; He brings an Easter Message now to us for whom He died: "I bore all pains of Life and Death, to keep you by My Side;" He begs us have an Easter Morn, to rise from death of sin, To break its chains which hold us fast, and walk the road to Him;

He bids the weary come and rest, away from toil and care, Where they shall find His Yoke is light, His Burden sweet to bear; He tells the hearts made sad by death, who grieve for loved ones gone, Be comforted—they are not dead, their souls with God live on; He whispers hope to those now sick, with bodies racked and worn, And tells them He shall send no pain His Own Heart has not borne; This Easter Morn let us draw near, close to the Risen King, And have our hearts find comfort in the Message He shall bring.

HAPPY ENDING

No matter if it's story-books, or pictures, songs or plays, We like the characters therein to come to happy days; We laugh and cry as we read things these make-believe folks do, We want to see them reach success and "Happy Ending," too; All tales of life, all conquests sought, how empty seem their goal, Beside the Story wrought by Christ—the Romance of a Soul— A soul which cost so much in Love it caused a God to die, And Calvary's Hills re-echo with the anguish of His Cry;

Life is so short and death so sure, and years go rushing by, And all too soon there comes the day appointed us to die; Then all the things we sought from life—its wealth, the fame we craved, We find these, and all earthly gifts, end at the open grave; How empty then these things will seem—we shall have lived in vain If we have failed to save our souls in reaching for earth's gains; A "Happy Ending" to our lives—God grant that this may be, And when He calls us may we live with Him eternally;

For this alone was each man born, for this alone Christ died, His dying Voice for Mercy begged, and called us to His Side; O, Foolish Man, who gives thy all for glories of today, Who builds not for the time when God shall call thy soul away; The joys of life are fleeting, short; they fade while still in bloom, Life's treasures and life's pleasures then are yielded to the tomb; Lord, grant us light that we may see life's purpose and its goal, And may we "Happy Ending" know and save our precious souls.

-WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Easter Duty

The Easter Duty is the obligation of every Catholic of the required age to receive Holy Communion within the Easter time. During this time it binds under pain of mortal sin all those who have the use of reason. The Easter time extends from the First Sunday of Lent until Trinity Sunday, this year, May 19th. Those who are not able to go to Church during the Easter season, or those in charge of them, must notify the Parish Priest—word may be left with the porter—so that he can bring Communion to the sick, even though there be no danger of death.

Confirmation

April 5th-4.30 P. M.

Confirmation is the Sacrament in which a baptized person receives the special grace and strength of the Holy Ghost. "When Peter and John were come they prayed for them (the Samaritans), that they might receive the Holy Ghost; for He was not as yet come upon any of them, but they were only baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then they laid their hands upon them and they received the Holy Ghost." (Acts viii, 15-17.)

Confirmation brings to the soul of the recipient, the Holy Ghost, increases the grace of God within the soul—since Confirmation is a Sacrament of the living and requires a state of sanctifying grace for its worthy reception—and imprints a spiritual mark which cannot be effaced, and therefore, like Baptism, can be received only once.

The Bishop, in administering the Sacrament of Confirmation extends his hands over those to be confirmed and prays that they may receive the Holy Ghost; then he anoints the forehead of each with Holy Chrism, an oil blessed on Holy Thursday and signifying strength to combat the enemies of salvation; then striking the candidate gently on the cheek he says, "Peace be with thee," to signify that true peace is found in suffering patiently for the sake of Jesus Christ.

Automobiles

April ushers in Spring; and Spring brings with it a brisk trade in automobiles. The Church mindful of every phase of her children's life has assigned a special patron for travelers and arranged a special blessing for automobiles. Indeed, the blessing of autos has developed into one of the very important sacramentals of the Church and machines of all kinds are blessed everywhere. In the blessing, the intercession of St. Christopher is asked, in order to protect occupants of cars from both physical and spiritual dangers. It is a fact generally admitted that in our modern life, there are more spiritual accidents in automobiles than physical. These spiritual accidents are known only to God and the victims. but they will react throughout the ages of eternity.

The Novena of Grace

The Novena in honor of St. Francis Xavier, S.J., which closed on March 12th, was a source of deepest consolation. The throngs which crowded the Church daily gave loving testimony to the spirit of faith and confidence which is sustaining our parishioners in these times of severe distress. Nor was this trust misplaced, for surely God heard the prayers offered through the powerful intercession of His great Saint. It is rarely, if ever, that the Novena of Grace passes without some remarkable instances of the miraculous power of St. Francis Xavier. This year our Parish was no exception. The Priests spent many extra hours in the Confessional; the number of Holy Communions received was surprisingly gratifying.

As a Novena of GRACE, the special favors were in the spiritual order. To one examining the reported instances, St. Francis seems to be just as present to our city as he was to the natives of the East those hundreds of years ago. His primary purpose then was to spread the Faith of Christ. So it is now. Conversions took place in our parish since March 4th. In other cases, the Saint seemed to reach out the spiritual arm of Grace and, ever so gently, lead back souls which for years had been astray. He gave peace to homes which for reasons of various kinds, had known no peace-intoxication, spiritual carelessness, personal frictions, overburdening worries. To these grateful souls and, undoubtedly, to countless others, he brought a clear realization of the greatness and goodness of God.

Besides these gifts to the soul, grateful recipients have told of favors in the temporal order: operations avoided or brought to a successful issue, rapid recovery of wage-earners from illness, almost sudden cure of one advanced in years when doctors had given assurance that the process of recovery, if at all, would take months. Financial favors, law suits settled, positions obtained, homes saved to families, examinations passed, chronic diseases cured, happy marriages brought about. Still more numerous were the intimate little notes thanking St. Francis for "favors received"-sure proof that God listens to the humble prayer of the meek of heart.

Let our thanks to the great saint be shown in a practical way-by an increased love and stricter service to Him, Whom Xavier loved and served so well.

Young Men's Sodality

On February 27th the Sodality were guests of our very good friend Father Hofmann. Father, at the request of our Rev. Moderator, gave us a real and sacred treat. A complete and inspiring two reels depicting the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was shown to a full house after the regular monthly meeting. This showing had been planned at the end of Father Kines' lectures on the Holy Mass. The members are certainly deeply grateful and appreciative of this favor. The week following we were given a real surprise evening with the use of the High School pool for members so inclined. We wish to thank the "Prep" for its kindness, Basketball, which for years was a landmark on the Sodality athletic program, is coming back. Entered in a N. Y. A. league under the able guidance of "Pop" Mullaney the Gesu-ers have scored three victories and on Thursday, March 7th, added to their string a double victory over the hard-fighting Crim-Gray Club. The Rev. Moderator promises, even crossing his heart, that next season the Sodality will be back in the Catholic League with a championship combination. The bowling team under Captain Phil Golden is making a herculean bid for top honors in the second-half play, resting now in second place, and promising another cup for our trophy cabinet. All plans for the annual dance are completed-Hall, Band, Tickets, Floaters and Placards are ready and surely we intend making "The Affair" our business for April 19th. Time out should be taken to express our appreciation to "Jimmy" Brower for his unselfish interest in daily seeing to it that the rooms are spic and span-nice work Jimmy!

Notre Dame Alumnae

Our basketball team smashed into the win column with a rousing victory over the girls from Funfield A. C. to the tune of 26-13. Led by "Babe" Elliott who was high scorer of the evening with fourteen points. The local lassies from the opening whistle gave the side-line rooters plenty of thrills. We entertained our guests in the rooms after the game with a bit on the refreshment side plus some fine entertainment featuring the splendid voice of Gloria Petruska. Father Kines expressed himself as very well pleased with the large increase in attendance at our weekly meetings and sincerely hopes our May party for the graduates will be "S. R. O." May we urge some of the "ole" grads to be on hand.

Gesu Basketball Team

A fast-stepping quintet, comprising the eighth grade basketball squad of the Gesu School, has been going places in the Catholic League and in the St. Joseph's Prep tournament. All the boys on the squad and their coach Jack Loughrey are to be congratulated, for they certainly have proven themselves to be a team worthy of representing their School.

In the Catholic League they have won twelve straight games and are battling for first place. In the "Prep" Tournament the team won the school cup and trophies for each player.

St. Michael's Parish (City) has invited the team to take part in a benefit for their own Parish, to be held in the School Hall, March 18. St. Michael's have invited the Gesu because they are the only team that defeated them on their floor this year.

The members of the team are Vernon Molino, Thomas Murphy, Edward McGarry, Joseph Foley, Peter Dolan, Francis McGrath, Joseph Renteria, James McNally, Francis Carroll, Clement Mahoney and Francis Koff.

The record of the team up to date has been:

Friday evening, March 8, the captains of the various city troops attended a banquet at the Gimbel Brothers' Store.

The following poem was written by Edna Green, Girl Scout.

The Pearl of Great Price!

She knelt before His image And wondered,

That He should seek her to be His bride.

And deep within her heart She heard His sweet, patient, pleading voice Scarcely audible, yet it cried Unceasingly, For the pearl of great price!

In His convent garden now She walks, The purest lily in the cloister

For She listened to His Pleading.

Now she is a bride of Christ. The dearest gift of all she gave

We wish to congratulate the above named officers and their assistants and feel sure that the team work so necessary to the success of our Association is now assured. It is our earnest hope that they will keep right on the job and accomplish the results this Association is striving to attain.

Holy Name Society Notes

At the regular meeting of the Gesu Holy Name Society on March 7th the following officers were elected for 1940: James D. Ramp, President; John J. Alminde, Vice-President; Michael T. Darcy, Secretary. The members appointed to the Council were: James Dougherty, the retiring President, Thomas Holmes, Michael Curtin and Anthony Cherricole. The new officers asked the cooperation of all the members in building up the Society and supporting all our various activities.

It has been decided to change our regular meeting night to the second Sunday of each month with Vespers and Benediction in the Chapel and a short business meeting later.

Plans are being made for the Entertainment and Athletic program to be held on April 24th with the support of the Veteran Boxers Association.

Our annual Communion Breakfast is scheduled for May 12th and an attendance as large as last year is expected.

MISS MARGARET COYLE, Director and Organist

Church Organizations

The Church is growing everywhere, thank God! But are you doing anything to further that growth? Do you belong to the Sodality? To the St. Vincent de Paul Society? To the League of the Sacred Heart? To the Holy Name Society, Senior or Junior? Each of these organizations is an artery through which is flowing the lifeblood of the Church to ever widening regions. If you have affiliated yourself with any of these organizations, you may take just pride in the growth of your Faith. But if you have been standing aloof, then you can take no real part in the joy of the Church over the increase of her members; you stand lonely and unnoticed, outside of all the splendid activities of a militant Church. You can take to yourself none of the glory which goes to the workers in the vineyard. It is now in your power to become an apostle, even if only an apostle of prayer and example. Why stand all the day idle?

Considering that there are some 50,000,000 churchgoers out of over 120,000,000 population, the average church member spends about two per cent of his income on the support of the many works of religion. Compare this with the twenty-two per cent of income spent on luxuries, and you will immediately grasp the "shame of it."

When Almighty God instituted the Mosaic religion in the Old Law He prescribed that every member of that religion should contribute ten per cent of his income, and the first ten per cent earned, to the furtherance of the cause of that religion. Yet the good things of the Old Testament religion were, in the words fo the inspired writer, only "shadows" of the good things which were to be enjoyed by people who would hold membership in the glorious Kingdom of Christ - a Kingdom which enjoys the very presence of Heaven's God, and which is endowed with blessings inestimable for all its citizens here and capable of leading its every member to riches incomprehensible in the Kingdom of Heaven.

The tithe law should still hold good; but self-respect should lead every wage-earner, married and unmarried, to contribute to the cause of God and of souls an amount equal to what he or she spends on luxuries.

One Way

A school boy at lunch entered the store and asked the clerk: "Take down this order: Ten pounds of sugar at 6 cents; 11 pounds of coffee at 25 cents; 8 pounds of tea at 30 cents.

"Add that up. How much is it?"

The clerk then replied, "$5.75."
"Are you sure?" asked the boy.
"Why of course I am," said the clerk. The boy then thanked him and said: "That's my arithmetic lesson for tomorrow."

Those who are slightly deaf, should Confess in the Rectory.

Their Donations Not in the Right Proportion

Why are people stingy to God? The motion picture theatre, the motor car, the sporting events, all of them costing from 25 cents and upward are well patronized by people who count their pennies only at collection time.

Their idea of religion must be as follows:

He dropped a nickel in the plate, Then meekly raised his eyes, Glad that the weekly rent was paid For a mansion in the skies.

People who have money for everything but Church have the attitude toward God which a Negro well expressed. The local church was making a drive for funds, and two colored sisters were bearing down hard on Uncle Rastus.

"I can't give nothin'," exclaimed the old Negro. "I owes nearly everybody in this here old town already."

"But," said one of the collectors, "don't you think you owes de Lawd somethin' too?"

"I does, sister, indeed," said the old man, "but He ain't pushin' me like my other creditors is."—The Brooklyn Tablet.

Behind the Scenes

It may be like finding a new star in the heavens for some to learn that there are over five thousand real, full-fledged Jesuits who are not in Holy Orders nor on their way to become Priests. The work of these Jesuit Brothers has been quiet and unobtrusive; nevertheless it has been important and has had a far-reaching effect.

According to the Constitution of Saint Ignatius, the Founder of the Society of Jesus, the Brother is designated as a "co-adjutor." This means that the Brothers in general give assistance in doing the work of the Society of Jesus in conducting colleges, high schools, parishes, etc.

It may be interesting to inquire what these Brothers do in their daily lives of consecration to God's service to assist the Superiors and Priests in performing the works of the Society. The work of the Brothers falls into three general classes. First of all there are the trades. In the institutions conducted by the Md.-N. Y. Province Jesuits, namely their universities, high schools, parishes, etc., there is constant need of men trained in the various trades. Carpenters, painters, auto-mechanics, steam fitters, plumbers, stationary engineers, electricians, all of these and others are in demand. In the institutions situated in the country districts there is further need of gardeners, farmers and of men skilled in

Remember St. Joseph, the workingman's friend, April 2nd to April 10th the growing of vegetables, fruits. etc. Secondly, there are the domestic duties to be cared for-those duties connected more intimately with the residence halls of the institutions, such as cooking, management of dining room and kitchens. sacristan work, maintaining the buildings in cleanliness, etc. Lastly there are the more or less professional duties to be done in the educational institutions of the Society. These are, as examples, the duties of assistant treasurer, assistant bursar, maintenance men, purchasing agent, assistant in scientific laboratories, director of a radio station, secretaries to officials, infirmaries, directors of acolythical societies, and others of a similar nature. From which it can easily be seen that the variety of occupation open to the Brothers of the Society is very great, and among them can be found an outlet for any talent that a candidate for admission may possess.

These are the works that fill a Brother's life. They are done in humility, in generosity and in perfect obedience and consequently no Brother's life can be a failure, as long as he obeys and uses his talents to the best of his ability. The standards of success in the religious are different from those of the world of business and industry. The hundredfold in this life and eternal happiness in the next await the Brother who devotes the talents God has given him to His greater honor and glory to the best of his power.

Feasts of the Month

THE ANNUNCIATION April 1

This feast is transferred from March 25th. The meaning of this feast of Our Blessed Lady is set forth in St. Luke's Gospel from which we take the following:

(Luke 1, 26-28): "At that time, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee, called Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the House of David, and the virgin's name was Mary. And the Angel being come in, said unto her 'Hail, full of grace, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.' Who having heard, was troubled at his saying, and thought with herself, what manner of salutation this should be. And the Angel said to her: 'Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found grace with God: behold thou shalt conceive in thy womb. and shalt bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High. The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee. And therefore also the Holy One which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.' And Mary said: 'Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it done to me according to thy word."

From the date of this announcement redemption began. Each day in the morning, at noon and at night, the church bell reminds the faithful of the mystery of the Incarnation, and they say the beautiful prayer called the "Angelus." Good Catholics, those who are not ashamed of their faith, will be helped to live in the presence of God by faithfully reciting the "Angelus" regularly three times each day. At the sound of the bell, smart, wide-awake Catholics, will assume a respectful attitude, recall the story mentioned above, and devoutly recite the "Angelus."

SAINT JOSEPH April 2—April 10

St. Joseph, spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary and foster-father of Our Lord Jesus Christ. The feast is usually kept on March 19th but is transferred this year to April 2nd because March 19th is the Tuesday in Holy Week. From the Sacred Scriptures we know very little except this, that he was a just man. This is in itself a great deal; for justice is one of the cardinal virtues. The cardinal virtues receive their name from the Latin word "cardo" which means hinge, that on which a thing turns or on which it depends. Justice is a virtue on which other moral virtues depend or are hinged. It is a virtue which consists in giving to every man his due. Hence, Joseph, the JUST MAN, if on occasions he had to get help in his carpenter's shop, always paid a just wage. He would never extort the maximum work for the minimum wage; and as an employee, hired for a job, he would

Those who are slightly deaf, should Confess in the Rectory. Time: fifteen minutes before scheduled Church time. he conscientious in his work, never squander his time by idle gossip or sheer laziness. He was honest with his fellowmen; his dealings always on the "level." There were no shady methods in his business dealings: he would not deceive a customer or make an unfair contract and justify himself for such a transaction on the ground that it is "all in the business." We never could imagine St. Joseph extorting a higher price for a piece of carpentry than the article was worth. No, he was a just man who rendered to every man his due: and as such he will ever remain a model for our admiration and imitation.

Devotion to St. Joseph became so popular that one festival in the year was deemed insufficient to satisfy the piety of the people. In many places St. Joseph was chosen as Patron. The Order of Carmelites, under the influence of St. Theresa, chose him as Patron of their order and celebrated a second feast on the third Sunday after Easter. The feast was soon adopted in towns and districts, then throughout Spain; later extended to all provinces and states which asked for the privilege. No devotion, perhaps, has grown so universal, none seems to have appealed so forcibly to the heart of the Christian people, and particularly to the working classes during the nineteenth century. Finally, because of the wonderful and extraordinary popularity, St. Joseph was declared Patron of the Universal Church with a feast celebrated this year on April 10th.

ROGATION DAYS

April 29, 30 and May 1

The Rogation days are days of special prayer and penance. At first it seems strange that there should be anything like mourning during the Paschal season, but only because we do not look ahead to the Ascension of Our Lord. Sadness is the proper note during the last hours of Jesus' presence on earth. His Blessed Mother and the Apostles were oppressed with grief at the thought of so soon losing Him, whose company had been to them a foretaste of heaven.

Formerly the celebration on these days consisted of singing hymns while passing from place to place. In those days, processions were conspicuous for their length rather than shortness, and oftentimes were not finished in six hours, resembling pilgrimages from Church to Church. In our times, profane parades are extended over a period of many hours; but religious processions must be made as short as possible.

About all that remains to us of the early celebrations are the name, the Mass, the Purple Vestments and the Litanies. The name still means Prayer or Supplication, the object of which is to appease the anger of God and avert punishments which the sins of the world so justly deserve; also to draw down the divine blessing on the fruits of the earth.

The Litany of the Saints is one of the most efficacious of prayers. The Church makes use of it on all solemn occasions, as a means of rendering God favorable through the intercession of the whole court of heaven.

The Mass speaks to us throughout, of the power and necessity of prayer. The Church uses the Lenten color, Purple, to express the ATONEMENT character of the function she is celebrating; but she is evidently full of confidence; she trusts to the love of her Risen Jesus and that gives her hope of having her prayers granted.

WHEN GOD KNOCKS

Perhaps the scene may be in a dimly lighted chapel with flickering candles, or at an instruction on future life, or maybe in the rush and turmoil of a downtown city street, that a little thought will come stealing into the heart of some girl. First, she will brush it aside. "It is wild and silly." she says to herself. It bores in deeper and deeper and she begins to be annoyed. "Oh, I'm not made for a quiet life," but still she cannot turn her attention to anything else. Every time that she flings it away. back it comes, only stronger. Finally, she begins to think. Her thoughts wander, from herself being pestered, tempted, to herself quiet, peaceful, with her loving Savior. She is now concentrating deeply. She is all at peace, her soul seems lifted to heaven; her heart is filled with something, but what? Now she steals away to a quiet corner, where she is alone. To herself she repeats over and over, "God is knocking, shall I answer?"

A few months later let us enter a dark convent chapel. Before the Blessed Sacrament kneels a white-clad novice. Her eyes are lifted to the altar. Her face seems lighted with celestial beauty. She appears serious, but if you look closely, you will see a slight smile around her lips. Her heart has that same feeling it had that day when she first heard a gentle tapping. Over and over she says to herself, "Lord, I have come. Lord, I have come." Another knock has been answered and Christ has found another dwelling.

HOW GOOD IS THE GOOD GOD

The Catholic Religion must be spread throughout the world. In order to do this schools have been built, religious orders established and Priests and Sisters have been exported to foreign lands where paganism has flourished. These Priests and Sisters are doing splendid work in their missions.

Speaking of religious orders, we recall to mind the founders of the various orders, for example Blessed Julie, the foundress of the Sisters of Notre Dame. When Julie was a little girl, there lived many poor families who were not able to send their children to school. Julie would gather all the children about her and tell them stories of Our Lord. She not only taught the children but the grown-ups also. Julie was called a little missionary by many of her friends.

One day she saw a vision of Sisters gathered around a crucifix. By this vision she knew the dress her Religious Order was to wear. She immediately established the Order of Notre Dame. Many young women joined and it was a great success.

Blessed Julie's work was done. God noticing this, took His beloved servant up to Heaven. There she is to dwell with Him. Her wonderful work is spread throughout the world. She was Beatified in 1906. We are hoping she will soon be canonized. Then we too will sing with her—"How Good is the Good God."

WHAT EDUCATION MEANS TO A BOY

Christian education is a boon in the life of man. One's success in life depends largely upon it. Education is sought for in youth, but it is not always found. The old saying, "The best time of one's life is when one is in school" proves this very clearly.

If a boy is industrious, he will make every effort to grasp an education but, on the contrary, if he is lazy, he will never succeed.

An education cannot be purchased, for it is only due to ourselves, by strenuous study and strict attention that we can obtain one.

Educated men have a good chance of securing positions. Uneducated men have not the same chances of obtaining good employment at reasonable wages.

These facts should make education our earnest ambition, because without it, prosperity would be a far reach in our temporary home—earth.

"A NEEDED REFORM"

It is my privilege to tell each and every boy and girl who goes to school, of an incident which happened to me a few years ago.

I had been bragging to my parents for days about the beauty of our school, when one day still bragging, I was interrupted by the doorbell ringing. I was surprised at the visitors who came into us—my cousins.

Mother suggested that I get permission from the Superior of the school to inspect the same while the classes were not in session. I received the permission that very same day, and, prepared to go through the next day.

While walking down the corridor of the building the two girls (my cousins) were far ahead of us, when my mother asked a startling question, "What are those brown spots on the floor?" To this I hadn't an answer.

I investigated and found out that it was gum—plain, ordinary, chewing gum.

About five weeks later the janitor cleaned the school floor. It was spic and span.

About three weeks later, coming down the west steps, I dropped my pencil. My eyes caught sight of a piece of gum lying on the floor. To a school particularly cared for in regards to cleanliness this was a calamity.

If the students of the school you attend have the habit of throwing gum on the school floor they should be made to stop it.

MOTHER OF CHRIST, MY MOTHER BE

Mother of Christ, my Mother be, O, take me to Thy Heart, And let me rest where Jesus did, and from Thee never part; Thy Heart is filled with love for all, 'twas placed there by Thy Son, Who made Thee Mother to all men when His Life's work was done; O, Mary, life at times is hard, and steep and rough the road, That leads to Jesus and to Thee in heaven's sweet abode; But we shall bear all crosses sent if Christ and Thou art near To whisper words of hope and love, and comfort in our ear;

What sacred privilege, Mary dear, when we Thy refuge seek, That we may use the same sweet name that Jesus' Lips didst speak; Mother of Christ, my Mother be, and never from me part, But lead me to the Feet of Christ, through Thy dear sinless Heart; Let hands that held the Infant Christ, and dried His Baby tears, Reach out and save us for Thy Son when sin and harm come near; I think He had Thee bear the grief of watching as He died, So we might know when death is near Thou art, too, at our side;

Mother of Christ, ask of Thy Son to bless me through my days, So I may live them as He wills and keep near Him always; Ask Him to make me kind to all, and ever let me trace Within the features of the poor, the outline of His Face; O, let me bring to grieving hearts some comfort in their loss, Just as I would have yearned to bring to Thee beneath His Cross; Mother of Christ, obtain for me, one spark of Love Divine, So I may love as Jesus did, His Mother dear and mine.

-WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Why We Honor Mary

The reason above all why we honor Mary is simply this: Mary is the Mother of Jesus Christ, and Jesus Christ is God. Thus our love for her is only as a means of loving God. It does not rest or end in her. She is the fairest of creatures -none mirroring the perfection of the Creator as she does-but still only a creature, only a wondrous reflection of the infinite beauty of God. She is bountiful, but only With what has been given to her. and if graces pour from her hands. it is because her Divine Son puts them there. She never took honor to herself. When Elizabeth praised her as "blessed among women." at once she passed on the praise to God in her canticle, "Magnificat," We never pray to her to have mercy on us as we pray to God, but we beg her to pray for us that God may be moved to have mercy. "Holy, Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners." The young pray to her for purity, and she goes to her Son and begs the gift for them. The sinner cries out: "Refuge of sinners, pray for me," and she throws herself at her Son's feet and implores Him to have mercy and forgive. We light candles at her May altar, and we pile it high with the fragrant flowers of Spring; but our hearts are ever in the Tabernacle where her Divine Son hides His Majesty, and we ask Mary, His Mother, to make us less unworthy to kneel there before the face of Jesus, All the month we shall pray to Mary, and we shall meditate on her beauty and her virtues only that we may come to know the beauty and the holiness of her Son: and the month of May, with its devotions to Mary, leads us up to June, with its devotions to Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament and the love of His Sacred Heart.

You are an Invited Guest May 12th

Every Catholic man and woman in this Parish is invited to participate in Holy Mass and receive Holy Communion. Sunday, May 12th.

- 1. As a tribute to "MOTHER" living or dead. "To remember one's mother by the gift of a flower is a beautiful custom, but much more beautiful is it to remember her in prayer and at the Sacred Table."
- 2. To commemorate the birthday of the Church, the feast of Pentecost; the day the promised guide and counsellor descended upon the Apostles and started them on their work of preaching the Gospel to all nations.

3. To renew the memories of First Communion Day and revive again the joyous fervor of childhood's innocence, as we watch our children approach, for the first time, God's own banquet table.

These are three reasons why every Parishioner should receive Holy Communion on May 12th.

People, moving in or out of the Parish, should notify the Pastor.

May Procession, May 19th

How should we keep the month of Mary? We should keep it with gratitude, confidence and fidelity. Who is better able than Mary to plead in our behalf? A soul truly devout to Mary should be enrolled in one of her sodalities. We cannot have a true devotion for Mary unless we invoke her by frequent and fervent prayers.

What more appropriate tribute can we give to the Mother of God than the offering of our loving hearts in praise and thanksgiving. Many ways of honoring Mary have been devised, and throughout them all runs the idea of making her our Queen. We praise her, we follow her in procession, we crown her Queen.

The Six Sundays in Honor of St. Aloysius

The six Sundays in honor of St. Aloysius will begin on May 12th. All who approach Holy Communion on these Sundays can gain a plenary indulgence, provided, besides praying for the intentions of the Holy Father, they also perform some act of homage in honor of the Saint—say some further prayers or read his life or meditate on it. The devotion commends itself particularly to the young, who should practice it to obtain, through the Saint's intercession, the virtues for which he was eminent—devotion to the Blessed Virgin, angelic purity and fidelity in following his yocation.

The Ten Sundays in Honor of St. Ignatius

The ten Sundays in honor of St. Ignatius, Founder of the Society of Jesus, will begin on May 26th.

Those who are slightly deaf, should Confess in the Rectory. Time: fifteen minutes before scheduled Church time.

Feasts of the Month

ASCENSION AND PENTECOST MAY 2ND AND MAY 12TH

How seldom are we homesick for heaven? How feeble is our longing to reach that true home at last! How little are we buoyed up by the prospect of presently setting foot across the threshold of our Father's house! How cold and colorless is our anticipation of the immeasurable inheritance that there awaits us!

The feast of the Ascension should mightily turn our thoughts homeward. If properly understood, it will do much more; it will startle us with the glad realization that, in Christ, we have already taken possession of the abode of bliss.

St. Leo, whose glowing sermons on the Ascension form part of the lessons of the divine office during the octave, well sets forth this truth. In exhorting his hearers to make their participation in the joys of the Ascension a very personal matter, he says:

"Therefore, dearly beloved brethren, let us also rejoice with worthy joy, for the Ascension of Christ is exaltation for us, and whither the glory of the Head of the Church is passed, thither is the hope of the body of the Church called on to follow. Let us rejoice with exceeding great joy, and give God glad thanks. This day is not only the possession of Paradise made sure unto us, but in the Person of our Head we are actually begun to enter into the heavenly mansions above. Through the unspeakable goodness of Christ we have gained more than ever we lost by the envy of the devil. We, whom our venomous enemy thrust from our first happy home—we, being made of one body with the Son of God, have by Him been given a place at the right hand of the Father."

But that this glorious laying hold of our inheritance might be effected two things had first to happen: Christ had to go thither, and the Holy Spirit had to descend. The first event would not have sufficed according to Christ's assurance. He is at pains to convince the Apostles before His departure that it is good for them that He should go; not only that He may prepare a place for them, but that He may send the Holy Ghost upon them. In His mind, then, Ascension and Pentecost are most closely linked. His little flock needed that abiding presence of the Paraclete, the Comforter, to help them on the WAY, to convince them of the TRUTH, to fill them with the blessed LIFE that was their guarantee of future endless blessedness. Christ was to continue His office of being the way, the TRUTH, and the LIFE through the Holy Spirit.

So Christ, our Head, is providing for His Church and for each of us today. He is preparing a place for us, whom He loves to call His little flock, in the many mansions of His Father's house, and He is sending us His Holy Spirit, the Spirit of Truth, the Consoler, the Giver of Life. Our Lord's promise still holds: "He shall abide with you, and shall be in you. I will not leave you or-

From the Mount of the Ascension we return with a calm, courageous joy in our hearts. It is easier to labor and suffer for the little while that remains when our eye has seen HOME in the near distance, and our heart has felt the fire of the Holy Spirit to speed us on our way.

Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held on Wednesday evening, April 3rd, in the High School building on Stiles Street. After opening prayer by Father Maguire, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Now that Winter is gone, look at your home and see what it needs to dress it up for Spring. How about the exterior-how about the interior? Try to make some repairs for the well-being of your neighborhood. Perhaps you can do only a little, but that little is needed. Needed to protect your home-Needed to encourage others to take an interest in their homes and Needed to increase employment. If you want help in financing your repairs, consult our Vice-President in Charge of Finance or his Assistant. They will be very glad to refer you to the proper persons who will help you to carry out your plans. We have observed here and there the painters at work and we are glad to see this attention to the homes, so don't think that your efforts go unnoticed.

Spring time is also moving time for some people and you may know of friends or neighbors who are planning to move. If you do, see one of our officers who might be able to tell you where to find just what is wanted. There are a number of apartments and houses vacant, and if this Association can help tenants and owners, it is only too eager to do so. Our officers are in constant touch with real estate conditions in the neighborhood and they strive to have vacant houses put into tenantable condition. We shall be very glad to hear from you if there are any houses in your neighborhood that are not fit for occupancy, as we may be able to have this condition corrected.

Come to the meetings and bring your friends.

RCHS GOLDEN JUBILEE

RCHS in 1940

Fifteen hundred former students will observe the fiftieth anniversary of Roman Catholic High School for Boys at a dinner in the Penn A. C., Philadelphia, on April 29.

From a score of States, including California, men ranging n age from 18 to 70 will gather in good-fellowship to hear of the good resulting from the foundation in 1890 of the first free Catholic high school in America by Thomas E. Cahill whose huge estate was devised for the education and character building of boys after they finished their courses in the parish schools.

The alumni headed by Judge Gerald F. Flood, '16, and the anniversary committee led by John J. Cahill, Esq., '17 have invited as guests of honor Rt. Rev. Msgr. Hugh T. Henry, of Washington, D. C.; Rt. Rev. Msgr. William P. McNally, S. T. L., rector of St. Stephen's Church; Rev. Leo D. Burns, D. D., rector of Epiphany Church, who followed Rt. Rev. Msgr. Nevin F Fisher in the post of rector of the school. Msgr. McNally and Rev. John A. Cartin '16, present rector, will be speakers.

Also expected are Rev. William J. Higgins, S. T. L.; Rev. Henry C. Schuyler, S. T. L.; Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Bonner, D. D., '08; and Rt. Rev. Msgr. James E. Heir, '10, who served as vice rectors.

CENSOR BREEN TO SPEAK

From California will come Joseph I. Breen, '06, chief aide to Will Hays, czar of the moving picture producers association, to tell his fellow alumni the remarkable story of how the decadent movies were cleaned up by a censorship imposed by the producers and carried out by Breen.

Founder Cahill

Another speaker will be Joseph M. Smith, Esq., '94, a member of the first graduating class who was one of the small group of lads from all sections of the city who presented themselves as students on September 8, 1890. Former Public Welfare Director John F.

Dugan was another member of the first class to be graduated in the $190,000 building erected at northeast corner Broad and Vine Streets under the provisions of Mr. Cahill's will.

Among other speakers will be His Excellency, Bishop Lamb; His Honor, Mayor Lamberton; Raymond A. Gleeson, '17, an' William H. Markward, basketball coach for 40 years.

Father Cartin

SOUVENIR VOLUME

Daniel F. O'Leary, '34, is editor of the souvenir volume which will sum up the record of the school's half-century of service. It will be presented to each dinner subscriber.

In its 50 years, graduates of the school have reached eminence in many lines of business and in the professions. About 220 were ordained to the holy priesthood. Most Rev. Edwin V. Byrne, Bishop of Puerto Rico, was graduated in 1908.

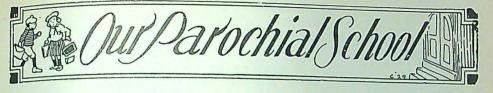

From a first graduating class numbering 26 the school has grown steadily and worthily until the 47th Class in June will number 260. Graduates since '94 number 4,542.

Jules F. Junker, '24, is chairman of the committee receiving subscriptions.

His address is 1937-72nd avenue, Philadelphia.

Fortieth Annual Report

GESU CHURCH DEBT ASSOCIATION

This Association was organized in February, 1900, by the Rev. Wm. F. Clark, S.J. It has for its object the payment of the annual interest on our heavy Church Debt, and the gradual reduction of the principal itself. The good results looked forward to are being gradually accomplished year after year.

During the year March 1, 1939 to February 28, 1940, as appears from our report, the very generous amount of $3,248.85 was contributed which is an evidence of the devotion and generosity of our people, for which we are sincerely grateful.

Our heartfelt thanks are especially due to the Solicitors, who, week after week, cheerfully go their rounds, undaunted either by the inclemency of the weather or the many other inconveniences of their self-imposed work of zeal.

We ask for our Solicitors a continuance of good will and generosity on the part of our contributors. We ask also that as many parishioners as possible belong to this Association. The work is the work of God, and God, Who loves the cheerful giver, will not fail to bless and sanctify every home in which they are cordially and cheerfully received.

One Fact

Is Evidence Enough . . .

IF one knew only a single fact about a funeral director, that fact would justly inspire confidence. Membership in the Order of the Golden Rule signifies that a funeral director has been approved by the people of the community he serves.

The Heart That Loves Men So

Only near Thy dear Heart, Jesus, can souls find perfect peace, Only near Its gentle beating, does sin and sorrow cease; As we search for worldly honors and joys that life imparts, We forget the Source of all things is found, Lord, in Thy Heart; Oh, the refuge and the comfort when weary hearts need rest, When souls are heavy-laden and spirits are oppressed; Just to close Life's door behind us and gently to Thee steal, And see Thy Heart, from which Love flows, smile on us as we kneel;

All the pains and hurts and sorrows that are of Life a part, Seem such small return to make Thee for Love of Thy dear Heart; What is there to love about us?—poor creatures steeped in sin, But our souls, stamped with Thy Image, cry to Thee from within; Thou didst give us hearts to love Thee, hearts formed, Lord, like Thine Own, Only when they rest beside Thee is true joy ever known; Oh, that our hearts were pure as when from Thy Hands, Lord, they came, Oh, that we had not brought Thy Heart, new wounds through sin and shame:

Though nations fail and men forget, O, Jesus Crucified, Thy Heart still burns with Love for men and calls them to Thy Side; The lance that opened wide Thy Heart brought forth a crimson flood, And with it came Love, mercy, hope, part of each drop of Blood; Let that Blood now descend on me—one spark of Thy Love give, To light Love's fire in my soul, to burn while I shall live; O, Heart of Christ, so often hurt, forgotten and alone, Be near me through Life's stormy days, and lead me safely Home. -WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

The Cardinal's Jubilee

As the plans for the Cardinal's jubilee celebration are unfolded, it becomes apparent that Philadelphia Catholics are preparing to participate in an event which will be memorable in the history of the Philadelphia diocese. An indication of the enthusiastic spirit abroad is had in the responsive accord with which the plans for the men's parade are being greeted throughout the diocese.

Undoubtedly, the nature of the celebration is the underlying reason of the present city-wide spontaneous enthusiasm. There is recognition of the fact that the long sacerdotal life of His Eminence, Cardinal Dougherty, is the focal point of the entire jubilee celebration.

Parochial School Entertainment, June 8 and 9, at 2.00 P. M.

tion. That life has been crammed with successful effort, and the effort has been of a more diversified type than the ordinary priest is called upon to expend. Catholics have, themselves, established the custom of recognizing the various anniversaries of their priests, and in this particular instance they are preparing to pay special tribute not only to the fact that a man has lived through 50 years of priestly life, but to the fact also that the arduous, unremitted labor of that life has deservedly brought the jubilarian to the eminent position of a Prince of the Catholic Church.

But even this recognition of the personal worthiness of His Eminence as the center of the approaching celebration does not entirely account for the wave of impulsive eagerness which has swept over Catholic Philadelphians. They apparently sense in their preparations the fact that this celebration must take the form, not merely of their warm, respectful love for their Cardinal-Archbishop, but of their persistently high regard for the priesthood of the Catholic Church. Markedly proud of their record of pride in their clergy, Philadelphia Catholics are determined that their commemoration of the 50 years of the priesthood of their Cardinal shall be recognized by all as an effort on their part to show their reverential regard for the Catholic priesthood.—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Committee requests that marchers be at their assigned places ready to swing into line at 9.30 A. M. Those attending the noonday Jubilee Mass should be at the Stadium not later than 11.00 A. M.

St. Joseph's College Baccalaureate June 2, 1940

Because of the Cardinal's Jubilee Celebration, the St. Joseph's College Baccalaureate Exercises will be held at 8.00 P. M. in the Gesu Church, June 2nd, 1940. The Sermon will be preached by an Alumnus, the Rev. Paul A. McNally, S.J., Director of the Astronomical Observatory, Georgetown University, Georgetown, D. C. Special Music will be rendered by the College Glee Club Choir under the direction of Mr. Anthony Cura.

Closing School Exercises

Parish Graduates from the High and Grade Schools will hold their exercises at the 8.30 O'clock Mass, Friday, June 7th.

Entertainment

The children of the Parochial School are preparing an entertainment to climax the varied activities of the year. You will want to be bring down the house in an uproar with their caricatures of episodes from everyday life; while in startling contrast, the girls will offer the exquisitely enchanting operetta, "Snowwhite." There will be two performances—Saturday and Sunday afternoons, June 8th and 9th, at 2.00 P. M.

The Bazaar - June 14-22

Bazaar time again! A week of merriment for the Parishioners; a painless method of contributing to the support of the Church. More and more the Parish has come to depend upon the Annual Bazaar as a source of revenue to meet current expenses.

More cash prizes than ever will be given away! Besides the Grand Awards begining at $200.00, twenty dollars will be given away each evening. If you have not received your booklets, please call at the Rectory. Make returns as soon as possible and don't forget to cast your votes for your favorite Parochial School Boy and Girl. Youngsters of today learn how to budget $50.00 in prize money. At the Grounds there will be the usual "Rides" and Booths, Dancing, Contests, Magic, Vodvil Stunts, etc. Everyone should attend several nights. You may be fortunate enough to draw one of the many cash prizes that will be awarded only if you are present on the grounds.

Save for the Bazaar! Budget now! Check your Calendar—June 14-22 the Gesu Bazaar!

Ordinations

This month four Sons of the Parish will approach the Altar, feel the touch of consecrating hands and listen to the eternally efficacious words of the ordaining Bishop: "Receive ye the Holy Ghost"... "whose sins you shall forgive"... "Thou art a Priest forever."

First Solemn High Masses will be celebrated at the Gesu by:

Gesu Girl Scouts of Troop 25 attended a district meeting at Headquarters, 311 S. Juniper Street. It was held in connection with Mothers' Night and we wish to thank the mothers of our girls who attended for their interest.

A very entertaining program was presented by some of the troops from this district while those troops that did not participate in the entertainment displayed an exhibit of handicraft. Troop 25 was represented by the work of Stella Green who carved a breakfast-nook and dresser out of wood. Around this was a cardboard wall painted to resemble bricks on the outside papered on the inside with paper. In the windows were with curtains and window boxes thing artificial flowers. The entire was done by hand. Joan Rodenbaugh displayed some very attractive weaving.

There is to be another exhibit in the fall and more of our girls will have displays ready by then.

The following poem was written by Edna Green, Girl Scout, and printed in her class newspaper.

To Mary, Our Queen!

As the twilight softly falls
When the birds have gones to rest,
A little child kneels to pray—
Tis the prayer that he knows best.

The "Hail Mary, full of grace—"
Those words so tender, so sweet
Are like to fragrant blossoms
Borne by angels to her feet.

And she listens with a smile
To that baby's prayer of love
Her heart—joyful all the while
On her throne in Heav'n above!

-GIRL SCOUT SCRIBE.

One of our devoted and edifying members of the troop passed from this life into life eternal in Heaven after a short illness.

Young Men's Sodality

Two news flashes make up the body of our "copy" for this month's bulletin. Firstly, the magnificent response of the Sodality members, who numbered almost a hundred, for the adoration on Holy Thursday evening. The Rev. Moderator conducted the hour and instead of preaching read Our Divine Lord's farewell address to the Apostles. The Rev. Pastor expressed himself as very happy over this demonstration of solid piety on the part of Mary's champions. Secondly, in a lighter vein, the success of "the Affair."-Playing the kind of music everybody, even the sophisticates, liked, Freddie Goldhahn greeted a large and enthusiastic clientele. In spite of "stormy weather" outdoors the atmosphere and ensemble of Benedict Hall certainly made April 19th a most pleasant memory. Congratulations to the various Committees. Our annual Communion breakfast will close the usual schedule. It will be held Sunday, June 9th, in our Sodality chapel with the Holy Sacrifice beginning at nine o'clock. We are very anxious to have many many of the "oldsters" return for the occasion.

The bowling squad finished second in the league. Another swim as guests of the "Prep" was much appreciated. During the summer months we plan to alternate our activities by keeping the rooms open and having a soft-ball league in the "Prep" yard.

Notre Dame Alumnae

With the ending of the school year the Club's activities reach their denouement. We hope to have a splendid graduation party of the Gesu girls and boys. For the former, this will be a fine opportunity for them to get acquainted with the Club. No regular meeting has been held lately due to the lack of agenda. The painting of our kitchen rounded out nicely the clean-upthe-rooms program. Certainly with our last news flash a rousing vote of confidence and gratitude should be accorded our president, Miss Gertrude McLoughlin, and our treasurer, Miss Ann O'Donnell, for their unstinting and unselfish sacrifice of time and energy in our behalf. Can we count on a full membership from the Gesu graduating class plus a larger return of the Alumnae next fall?

OUR ALTAR BOYS

It's wonderful, isn't it, the way the seasons are linked together? For instance, the plentiful rain in May, helped by the warmth of June, are accountable for the abundance of Nature in the later Summer months, and the harvest of the Fall. Now, May is Mary's Month, and June is devoted to the Sacred Heart, and the results of this sequence on our spiritual natures is the same as is found in the physical nature.

Mary was showered with all graces, until she became the most fitting of all creatures to be the Mother of Jesus Christ. June, the perfect month, is a symbol of Him, the perfect Man-and God. As a result of His presence on earth, we have the seed sown and beginning to grow-the seeds of the Catholic Church. The harvest has been reaped in more and more abundance ever since.

But this harvest doesn't simply happen. It is the result of careful tending on the part of the spiritual farmer, the Priest, using his best Instrument, the Mass. From the Mass he strengthens himself, he strengthens other souls, he brings human beings into the closest contact with the One Who is both Master of the vineyard and the Source of its growth.

Aiding in all this most important work is the Altar Boy. In previous accounts, we have shown how he helps in the Mass. But here we wish to stress again the great privilege that is allowed him, and to urge on all of you, our own Altar Boys, to study and to think how you can become better in the duties you have, and to determine to take the fullest advantage of the opportunities given you to grow more and more in wisdom and grace as you do in age. Do not allow Mass-serving to become a routine; nor allow carelessness to creep in as the "novelty" wears off.

The following boys are to be commended for one hundred percent attendance during the month of April.

Congratulations Boys on your extraordinary Record!

We realize that much credit is due also the the parents without whose persevering and generous cooperation, the Altar Boys' enthusiasm for sacrifice could not be maintained. It is hoped that parents will accept the invitation to be present at the annual reception of new members of the Altar Boys' Society on Sunday evening, June 9th, at 8.00 P. M.

The Annual Picnic will take place on June 12th.

Summer Order will begin on June 17th, during which time Altar Service will be voluntary. On slips that will be distributed, each boy shall state whether he wishes to serve Mass during vacation time and note which Masses he prefers. These slips, signed by Parent or Guardian, should be returned to the Moderator.

The Choir

The Choir has finished its work for the current scholastic year. Months of severe efforts and of gratifying success have sped by and brought us an insight into the possibilities for liturgically artistic accomplishment and the revelation of the wide fields of ecclesiastical music which have not yet been touched—and this, too, even though the Grand Organ whizzed and Woofed and gave up the ghost, like an outworn bagpipe on New Year's

For the success, which has been a source of satisfaction, we must thank a demure, nameless nun of the Immaculate Heart Community and Miss Margaret Coyle. Their unremitting and inspiring labors have stimulated the whole group. Our wish and hope has been and is that the parishioners have been pleased with the results of their labors and have found in the music sung a fresh source of devotion in attending High Mass.

Here we desire to render a pub-

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

On Wednesday evening, April 17th, the members of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Fitzpatrick of the Building Inspection Division, City Hall. In explaining the work of his department, Mr. Fitzpatrick stressed the necessity for requiring certain repairs to properties at different times. He was invited to this meeting to enlighten home owners on the reason why it is obligatory to comply with requests from City Hall to do certain work on their homes. He also brought before the members some facts regarding the building laws and answered questions for those seeking information on their special problems.

If you were not at the Sports Jamboree on Wednesday evening, April 24th, in the Gym, you don't know what you missed. Entertainment galore for the ladies and gentlemen as well as for the boys and girls, vocal selections, dancing, etc. We are very grateful to all who rendered services in any way to make this affair enjoyable and successful and to our guests, whom we feel were Well repaid for their attendance.

Brothers of Christ

How pleased the Heart of Christ must be, what joy to Him they bring, These men who dedicate their lives to labor for their King; Known just as "Brothers" to the world, they humbly do their part, To have Christ better known and loved, and bring men to His Heart; Unsung, unpraised, they do their work, from great to lowly deeds, Each task performed for love of Christ, to help some human need; They teach the youth, they nurse the sick, care for the young and old, In Mission fields they toil with priests to bring souls to God's Fold;

They till the soil, they work and sweat, all tasks the toil is worth, If they, like Mary, can make sweet, God's dwelling place on earth; They know the same self-sacrifice each priest of God must make, For they leave home and ones held dear to labor for His Sake; The priest sweet compensation has for hardships undergone, For, at his word, in Holy Mass, Christ comes to earth each morn; The priest repentant souls bring back in sorrow to God's Feet, They give to them His pardon, peace—these things make priests' lives sweet;

But sacred privileges like these, Christ's Brothers do not know, They say no Mass, no Host they clasp, no Pardon they bestow; How great their longing for such joys but God can understand, As through the years He rests within their hearts but not their hands; When every earthly task is done, God shall His Mother send, To bring these Brothers Home to Him, who proved on earth His friends; Then all their longings shall be filled, each task then made worth while, When He for Whom they did all things, shall greet them with His Smile.

Feasts of the Month

THE MONTH OF THE SACRED HEART

This entire month of June is consecrated to the honor and worship of the Divine Heart of Jesus. Daily Mass is the best of all devotions to the Sacred Heart. Frequent and daily Holy Communion offered in reparation will give joy to Our Divine Lord. Hearken to our Lord's earnest invitation: "My child, give Me thy heart!"

The Church urges us to honor the Sacred Heart, in order that we may better understand the great love of Jesus Christ toward mankind. "Behold the Heart which has loved men so much."

We honor the Sacred Heart by thinking more often and more devoutly of It. We wear medals or badges of It, to remind us frequently of His everlasting love for us. We also adore the Sacred Heart, and invite It to come into our hearts, according to our well known prayer: "Jesus meek and humble of Heart, make our hearts like unto Thine."

The chief advantages of devotion to the Sacred Heart are not far to seek. This devotion brings us into close union and contact with Jesus Christ. It helps to engage our minds with the thought of Him. It draws us towards Him. It enables us to realize Him more thoroughly. It rivets our attention on the examples of virtue which His human life affords. It endears to us all His teachings.

Jesus said, "Learn of Me because I am meek and humble of heart." A common meaning given to these words, as you may know, is that we are told to learn from the meekness and humility of Our Lord's Heart to be ourselves like unto Him in these virtues. There can be no doubt that such is His desire and our duty; and it is fair to infer so much, at least, from the words.

But is this their whole meaningis this their direct meaning? Many, and not without reason, deny that it is so. Our Lord does not say. Learn of Me "to be" meek and humble of heart; nor does He say, Learn to "imitate Me" Who am meek and humble of heart; but, Learn of Me "because" I am meek and humble of heart. Learn what? Learn everything that Our Lord teaches. He had just said: "Take up My yoke upon you"; then, after the words in which He commends His meekness and humility, He says: "And you shall find rest to your souls, for My yoke is sweet, and My burden light."

The whole yoke of Christ, the whole burden He places upon us, may be, and ought to be, borne cheerfully, because He is meek and humble of heart. His meekness and humility commend His whole teaching, His whole discipleship. He is not a hard taskmaster, He is not an oppressive exacter. He may demand of us occasional sacrifices, but what sacrifices did He not make for us—the great sacrifice of Calvary and so many other afflictions and privations during His whole mortal life. And, then, what reward has He not in store for us in the next life, and even in this, as a return for the little He requires us to endure? The knowledge and love of that meek and humble Heart will sooth our difficulties and sweeten our toils, greater or less as they may be.—Exchange.

ST. BARNABAS JUNE 11

st Barnabas is called by the Fathers and even by St. Luke, an Anostle, although he was not of the Twelve. He deserved this appellation by his zeal in spreading the Gospel and his relations with the Apostles. We read of him that "he was a good man full of the Holy Ghost and of faith," and that "he having land sold it and brought the price and laid it at the feet of the Apostles." He was St. Paul's companion in converting the Gentiles of Cyprus and Asia Minor. He afterwards separated from him, taking with him John, surnamed Mark, whom St. Paul dismissed, and he betook himself to Cyprus, his native place, where he was stoned to death, some years later, at an extreme old age. Barnabas (signifying "son of consolation") was substituted for his name of Joseph, on account of his gift of affording consolation to the afflicted.

ST. ANTONY OF PADUA JUNE 13

There is perhaps no Saint the details of whose life are better known and to whom more general devotion is paid at the present day than "this eldest son of St. Francis." A Portuguese by birth, he had spent ten years among the Canons Regular of St. Augustine, when, stirred by the news of the martyrdom of the five Franciscans in Morocco, he obtained leave of his Superiors to enter the Seraphic Order, that he might emulate their example. Sickness compelled his return from Africa to Italy. His sudden call from the pots and kettles of the kitchen to preach to an assembly of religious at Forli, his familiar converse with the Infant Jesus, the testimony rendered by a brute animal to the Real Presence are but a few of the many marvelous incidents in his brief but fruitful apostolate of ten years. His death occurred at Padua, where his relics are preserved, June 13, 1231.

ST. BASIL THE GREAT JUNE 14

Basil, a native of Caesarea, in Cappadocia, and afterwards Bishop of that city came of a family of Saints. He studied rhetoric with great success at Athens, where he contracted with St. Gregory Nazianzen that indissoluble friendship which has become a model for all time. Dreading the honors of the world, he fled to the desert to found the first of the monastic orders in the East. Called thence to combat by his eloquence and learning the Arian heresy, he fought so well and successfully that the Church venerates him as one of her greatest doctors. Opposition, misunderstanding, persecution, banishment, illhealth, fell to his lot, but through them all he persevered, holding aloft the banner of the Faith handed down by the Apostles. He was called to his reward in 379, just before the dawn of the era of peace and religious unity.

ary indulgence may be gained by visiting this church on the usual condition of Confession and Communion and praying for the intention of our Holy Father the Pope. These are the feast of St. John Francis Regis on June 16 and the feast of St. Aloysius which is celebrated on June 21.

St. John Francis Regis was born on the 31st of January, in the year 1597, at Foncouverte, France. His parents, who were sincere, pious people tenderly watched over their little son, and saw that nothing improper sullied the purity of his soul.

When the Jesuit Fathers opened a college at Beziers, John Francis Regis was one of the first to apply for admission. His life as a student was exemplary, and no one was surprised when he announced his intention of entering the Society of Jesus. He was nineteen years of age when he became a novice of the Society. His humility, modesty and simplicity won him the love and respect of his superiors.

In the year 1630 he was ordained a priest of God. After this he was employed giving missions. His great desire was to go to Canada to convert the Indians; but his superiors decided that he should remain in Europe. He was a most eloquent preacher and often crowds followed him from place to place.

St. John Francis Regis died about midnight on the last day of January in the year 1640, but his feast is observed June 16.

Phrases have been coined such as "Buy American," "Spend American" and "See America," but there is one that I think is just as essential and that is "Pray Amerist. Aloysius Gonzaga was the oldest son of Prince Ferdinand Gonzaga Marquis of Castiglione. From his infancy he showed great love for the poor. At all times he was very devout but when at prayer he seemed like an angel in human form. He spent many hours each day in prayer and meditation, and when only eleven years of age he resolved to resign his inheritance as Marquisate of Castiglione in favor of his young brother, Ralph.

On the 25th of November, in the year 1585, the young prince entered the novitiate of the Society of Jesus. If he was careful to perform the smallest duty in the most perfect manner while in the world, he was doubly so as a religious. He seemed to live only for God. Every day he made four visits to the Blessed Sacrament. He also had a special devotion to the Blessed Virgin, whom he called his dear Mother and patroness. Humility and obedience were his favorite virtues.

An epidemic breaking out in Rome in 1591, the Jesuit Fathers erected a hospital for the sufferers, in which they nursed the sick day and night. None was more zealous and sacrificing than Aloysius until he fell ill. On March 3 he was forced to remain in bed and for several weeks he seemed to hover between life and death. His life was spared, but he never fully recovered from the effects of the illness, and his pure soul passed to Heaven on the Octave of Corpus Christi (June 20), in the year 1591.

can." Give God a place in your hearts, and He, like His merciful Self, will again lead His flock out of the ruin into which they have strayed.

The Most Important Hours

"Now . . . and at the hour of our death." These are the two most important hours of our lives. The one, the present hour, alone, is our own; the other, the hour of our death, decides our eternity. The distance between these two hours is the ever-diminishing span of mortal life.

The Hermit's Lesson

A certain hermit once said to his superior: "Father, what is the use of my going to confession so often and hearing so many sermons? I always commit the same sins, and no matter how attentively I listen to the preacher, I can never keep in mind what he said."

"What are these things you are carrying in your hands?" answered the superior, not seeming to notice the other's complaint.

"Baskets, Father."

"Take one of them, and bring me some water in it from the river down there."

The hermit looked with surprise into the Father's face to see if he had understood him rightly, for he knew very well that he could not carry water in a basket; but seeing that he appeared to be in earnest, and thinking that he must have some special reason for giving him so strange an order, he obeyed, and went at once with the basket to the river.

He dipped it into the water, and, drawing it out quickly, ran back to his superior. But long before he reacher him the water had all ran out basket was always quite empty before the hermit could reach the place where his superior waited.

When this was done the third time, the Father told the hermit to place the basket at the side of the other one, and then asked him if he saw any change in its appearance, or any difference between the two baskets.

"The only difference I can see," he replied, "is that the one I put into the water looks much cleaner than it did before, and much bright than the other."

"Ah," replied the Father, "that is just the difference; and so it is with your soul. Although the basket could not contain the water, still it became cleaner and brighter every time it was dipped into the river, so your soul, although it seems not to retain the Word of God, yet derives much profit from hearing it; for it inspires you for the moment with a hatred of sin and a love of virtue, which in itself is a great grace. Continue, therefore, to go to confession frequently and hear sermons as often as you can. You will always learn something which you did not know before, or you will be reminded of something which you have forgotten."—Ave Maria.

Magazines That Find Favor

Every year in the United States, thousands of dollars are spent for magazines and periodicals. There is such a wide variety of these for sale, it would be hard to name all of them, but the ones which seem to "click" are those on politics. world events, etc. These are rapidly taking over the place of such old favorites of the people as, "The Saturday Evening Post," "Ladies Home Journal," "Country Gentleman," etc. These magazines are even featuring articles on War, Communism, Nazism, and so forth. These are excellent magazines and hold interest for everybody, for the farmer as well as for the people in the cities.

Unfortunately, many of the magazines accepted by the masses are of a cheap quality and treat of no uplifting material. "The Country Gentleman" however has worthwhile articles relating to farms: the "Saturday Evening Post" provides reading material for almost every grown-up. "The National Geographical Magazine" informs us of things happening in this world which many people otherwise would not know. Two reliable magazines finding favor with Catholics and non-Catholics alike are "America" and "Social Justice." These challenge the attention of the intelligentia and show the real news, from a Catholic viewpoint. It is to be hoped that more news christian in trend may appear as danger of another World War looms.

"Springtime"

Spring is here! This is the time when the flowers begin blooming, the birds begin singing and everything else that is pleasant begins. In fact, there is but one grudge that I hold against this beautiful season. With spring, there also comes ants, flies, mosquitoes, and nearly every other kind of insect.

When you are just having a glorious time, these pests think that it is their duty to pay you a visit. You might protest, but they, friendly little creatures that they are, simply insist upon it. So with this loving attitude, they very carefully spoil your whole day.

These little "beasts" have no respect whatever for anything. If you go on a picnic wanting to have a good time, this makes no impression on them. They have no regard for either time or place, everything being the same to them. They start a campaign, trying to get as many bites out of one person as they can. I think that I must have been the means for many of these creatures to receive prizes

The Prayer of the Confessor

I tried to do my best, Dear Christ, to serve and take Thy place, And to repentant souls who came, impart Thy peace and Grace; O, Sacred Privilege that is mine, O, Mystery of Love, That doth permit me represent the tender Christ above; Within the stilled Confessional, in Thy dear Name to greet, The sad, sin-laden souls who come repentant to Thy Feet; To hear their tales of sin and shame, and know these things they grieve, When they, like Prodigals, return, Thy Pardon to receive;

To raise a hand from which Blood streams, Blood from Thy heart within, And have It flow o'er troubled souls and wash away each sin; To speak the words but God may speak, words which make sorrows cease: "Thy sins they are forgiven thee; depart now, Soul, in peace"; To watch each soul go forth reclaimed, sealed with Thy Father's Kiss, To know that to Thy Heart Divine there is no joy like this; To bring the sinner back to Thee, to keep him in Thy Grace, This is the hope, the joy of priests who labor in Thy place;

And when Confession time is through, to kneel before Thy Throne, And mingle joys which fill their hearts with those, Christ, in Thine Own; To hear above the world's turmoil, Thy words in which men trust:
"More is the world's turmoil, Thy words in which men just": "More joy gives one repentant soul than ninety-nine men just"; Thy erring sheep returned tonight for shelter in Thy Fold, and at Thy Feet each sin made known and sorrow for them told; From childhood faults to scarlet sins, O, Christ, forgive them all, and as the and as they kneel beneath Thy Cross, let streams of Mercy fall.

-WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Our Dear Departed

Absolve, we beseech Thee, O Lord, the souls of Thy servants:

Rev. Edward F. Gallagher, S.J. Louise Smith Mary N. Shields Charles McLaughlin Joseph Breslin Mary Schnell John Rowan Anna Nestor

from every bond of sin, that, in the glory of the Resurrection among Thy saints and elect, they may rise again unto newness of life, through Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

St. John Berchmanns Sanctuary Society

The annual reception of new members and the distribution of awards for faithful service took place Sunday evening, June 9th.

> Francis O'Brien John McGrath Daniel Carboy John Carboy Francis McNally Michael Vogel Charles Ott William Ott Francis Patterson John Mulhern

For ten years service, Gold Medals were awarded to John J. Kraft and William F. Martin.

A Gold Medal was awarded to Gerald P. Lacey for serving the highest number of Masses during the year (176).

Silver Medals were awarded to Robert E. Spross (161 Masses) and Hugh J. O'Donnell (159 Masses).

> Henry Erhart James Mulhern

Joseph Blaston Clement Mahoney Richard Spross James Tumulty Edward Ryan Dennis Connor Francis McGrath John Rossi John Hastings Francis Barry John Johnston William McGrath Francis Heron

For the occasion, Father Cosgrove gave a practical talk, and afterwards with Father Frankenberger, as Deacon, and Mr. Rogers, Subdeacon, gave the Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament.

After the ceremony, in the lower sacristy, special prizes were awarded to the thirty-four boys who had served more than one hundred Masses during the year. Afterwards all adjourned to the High School Building.

A final word of thanks is due the parents and guardians of these boys for their cooperation and encouragement; to those who helped keep the cassocks and surplices in good condition; to all the many friends who generously gave their time and labor when needed.

Single Women's Sodality

On Sunday, May 26th, the Single Women's Sodality of the Church of the Gesu held their Fifth Annual Communion Breakfast. Mass was celebrated in the High School Chapel by Rev. Matthew W. Kane, S.J., Director, at 8.00 o'clock, followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, after which the Sodalists, numbering about 125, proceeded to the Cafeteria, where a most enjoyable breakfast was served. Addresses were made by Rev. Thomas J. Love, S.J., the Rector; Rev. Francis J. Ruppel, S.J., former Director of the Sodality, who enthusiastically praised the work of the members in furnishing the Domestic Chapel in the new Jesuit Faculty House; Rev. Andrew Hofmann, S J., the Guest of Honor, and our ever faithful friend, Brother stengel, S.J.

Letters regretting their inability to be present from our former Directors, Rev. James A. McCarl, S.J., and Rev. Joseph McLaughlin, S.J. were read by the Secretary.

Then followed announcement by Father Kane of the newly elected Officers: Miss Ann G. Shields, Prefect: Miss Agnes C. Whelan, First Assistant: Miss Anne M. Daly, Second Assistant. Our congratulations to our new Officers.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our retiring Assistant Prefect. Miss Regina M. Markmann, for her fidelity and interest in the Sodality during her term of office.

A delightful musical entertainment in the High School Auditorium at which the Misses Daly, Hagan and McNally very generously donated their talent, brought the program to a close.

It is our hope and aim to increase the membership of our Sodality in September, and we trust that each member will strive to encourage one person to join our ranks. Their are many advantages, spiritual and temporal, offered to members. Some of these are: On the death of a Sodalist the office is read by the Sodality and fifteen Masses are said for the repose of her soul. The Sodality also has prayers recited for its sick members as well as the sick and deceased relatives of the Sodalists. Little social affairs are held now and then to bring the Sodalists together for enjoyment. So-we hope to fill the Cafeteria at the 1941 Communion Breakfast. Let us see what the Single Women's Sodality can accomplish between NOW and THEN.

Young Men's Sodality

Amid a bower of gorgeous peonies and roses banked in a semi-circle around our Dear Lady's altar, with the members singing her praises and many an "oldster" back to pay her homage, the Annual Mass and Holy Communion Day—one of the most glorious in our forty-eight years of existence—was held on Sunday, June 9th. The flowers, just myriads of them, so tastefully planned and arranged, were the gift of the Messrs. William and Vincent Kohl and our deep appreciation for their generosity is hereby expressed again. The Holy Sacrifice was offered by the Rev. Moderator. After Benediction a war-memorial plaque was unveiled by Lieut.-Col. Edward Meehan containing the names of the 156 members of the Sodality who were in the last war (with a fervent prayer that we do not have to unveil another). Breakfast and by that we mean a real breakfast, (even though "Phil" Golden said he went home to get something to eat later!) was served very well in the parochial school hall.

The toastmaster was our good Prefect Joe Monaghan, and the speakers included Hon. Gerald Flood, Mr. Thomas Riley, Esq., Col. Edward

Notre Dame Alumnae

The graduating class of the parochial school were the guests of the Club on an all-day excursion to Rose Valley. There, through the kindness of Sister Josephine who had made arrangements with the good Sisters at Moylan, the usual picnic day was thoroughly enjoyed by all the "grads." Father Hofmann accompanied the group and in the afternoon was the celebrant at Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. A small class pin, the gift of the Alumnae, was made to our new members. Nothing special looms up in the way of summer activity but the rooms will be open on Thursday evenings for socials.

Gesu Holy Name Society

The Gesu Holy Name Society meets the second Sunday of every month at 8.00 P. M. in the College Chapel. The Constitution of the Holy Name Society calls for the office to be read at the meeting, after a short talk by a spiritual director. We then have Benediction. After these holy services, we adjourn to a short business meeting.

We were somewhat discouraged with the attendance of those taking part in the Parade to honor His Eminence, D. Cardinal Dougherty, at the Stadium. Approximately 225 were in the line of march. We should have had seven hundred in the parade from the Gesu, but it seems impossible to interest the men in anything worth while in the Parish.

At the time of this writing, we are about to lend our support to the Carnival which will open on Friday evening, June 14th. We hope this will be a big success financially and in attendance.

Our third annual boat ride will be held on Sunday, July 28th. The ride down the beautiful Delaware on the Wilson Line steamer will be most enjoyable. The boat will leave at 9.00 A. M. and arrive at Riverview Beach about 11.45 A. M. The first boat returning will be at 5.00 P. M., thus giving five hours in the beautiful groves at Pennsville where there are amusements for young and old. Tables will be reserved for us, where we will dine comfortably. There is a well equipped cafeteria and restaurant on the grounds where food may be purchased at moderate prices. Father Maguire, our Spiritual Director, has completed the necessary arrangements with the Wilson Line and the tickets are ready for distribution; they may be purchased at the Rectory, or from any member of the Holy Name Society. Adult tickets are 60 cents; children 30 cents.

James D. Ramp, our President, has completed his arrangements and the Committee has been appointed to handle the program which we feel will be one long to be remembered. As you go aboard the boat, a red identification will be given you free, also lollypops, whistles and souvenirs for the children. The program will consist of ball games and many games for the children. Beautiful prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Get your tickets early, don't wait until the morning the boat leaves to purchase tickets. All aboard for a swell time for you and your family on Sunday, July 28th, 1940.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Assn.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association has now completed its fourth year, and we think it fitting at this time to say a few words of appreciation to ALL who have made the continuance of this Association possible by their generous support and cooperation.

To our Director, Father Maguire, we wish to express our gratitude for his tireless efforts and personal service to this Association during these four years.

To our Officers and their Assistants we extend our sincere thanks for so generously giving of their time and ability to the success of our Association. We realize that they have made many sacrifices to carry on this work, but everything worth attaining entails sacrifice. We therefore urge them to continue the good work they have done not only in their own interests, but in the interest of all tenants and owners in this vicinity.

We also wish to thank our members for aiding us in our endeavors to continue the work begun by this Association. A lot of good has been accomplished since the organization started, but it is OUR Association and only by united cooperation will we be able to carry on.

As vacation time is here, please do not grow lax in your efforts to maintain good neighborhoods. All tenants and owners must participate in this movement for the betterment of their neighborhood. If each one will put his shoulder to the wheel, with very little exertion, great changes can be brought about that will mean comfort and enjoyment for all.

Feasts of the Month

MONTH OF THE PRECIOUS BLOOD

Each month of the year commemorates some particular mystery or devotion of our holy religion. July is the month of the Precious Blood. It stresses the price of our redemption. When we estimate in life and treasure the cost of peace that our late Great War brought us. we learn that so many millions of men were killed or wounded and so many billions of dollars were spent in carrying on operations or lost in property destroyed. We would evaluate the cost of the Greatest War waged by Christ our Lord for the conquest of the human soul, of my soul and your soul and all our souls, we find that, in the words of St. Peter, "you were not redeemed with corruptible things as gold or silver, . . . but with the Precious Blood of Christ, as of a Lamb unspotted and undefiled." When, therefore, we barter these souls for sinful pride or pleasure, we bargain with the blood of the God-man. Think of this, O Christian man and woman, and reopen not those sacred wounds whence gushed forth and still gushes forth the bounteous spring of grace and holiness and salvation. "Blood of Christ, inebriate me."

INDULGENCED PRACTICES FOR JULY

For any act of virtue or piety in HONOR of the PRECIOUS BLOOD, every day during the month, we can gain:

- 1. Three hundred days' indulgence, once a day.
- 2. A plenary indulgence on the last day of July or on any one of the eight days following.

II. One hundred days' indulgence, every time, and a plenary indulgence once during the month, for this act of oblation:

"Eternal Father, we offer Thee the most Precious Blood of Jesus, shed for us with such great love and bitter pain from His Right Hand; and through the merits and efficacy of that Blood we entreat Thy Divine Majesty to grant us Thy holy benediction, in order that we may be defended from all our enemies and be set free from every ill; whilst we say, May the blessing of Almighty God, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, descend upon us and remain with us forever. Amen."

Add one Our Father, Hail Mary and Glory be to the Father, etc.

III. Three hundred days every time and a plenary indulgence once in the month for the ejaculation:

"Eternal Father! by the most Precious Blood of Jesus Christ, glorify His most holy Name, according to the intention and desires of His adorable Heart."

IV. One hundred days every time for the prayer:

"Eternal Father! I offer Thee the Precious Blood of Jesus Christ in satisfaction for my sins, and for the wants of Holy Church."

—(From the Raccolta) Selected.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Are you surprised to find anything in your Church Bulletin about the Fourth of July? Here are some thoughts for the day which should make Catholics hold up their heads. Would there be any "Independence Day" if it were not for Catholics? The United States would probably be a British dependency, like Canada or Australia, were it not for assistance young America received at the hands of Catholics. Catholic France sent a fleet of 10,000 men, furnished the great generals Lafayette, LaGrasse and Rochambeau, and supplied $3,000,000: Catholic Poland sent us Pulaski and Kosciusko; Catholic Ireland furnished a dozen generals and at least one-half of the Revolutionary army were Irishmen; Catholic Spain contributed 3,000 barrels of gunpowder and 1.000,000 francs. In fact, nearly all the aid which our struggling patriots received from foreign countries came from Catholics.

Nine Roman Catholics signed the Declaration of Independence; seven Catholics helped frame the Federal Constitution. The chief justice of the Supreme Court, who interpreted this wonderful document, was a Catholic, Edward Douglas White, as was the great Chief Justice Roger Taney. Washington wrote a letter to the Catholics of New York acknowledging the indispensable aid they contributed to the new-born nation and thanked them for the same.

Commodore John Barry, the father and founder of the American Navy, and Charles Carroll of Carrollton, one of the leading patriots and most influential men in the Colonies, were Catholics.

And before Revolutionary days the Catholic Lord Baltimore was the first man in our country to proclaim religious liberty for everybody. Under his benign rule Maryland was the land of sanctuary.

The Catholic Columbus, aided by a Catholic Queen and escorted by a Catholic crew, discovered America and braved all the terrors of the unknown seas, not for gold but for souls. The Cabots, who erected the cross on Cape Cod 120 years before the Puritans set foot on Plymouth Rock, were Catholics. The Catholic Balboa discovered the Pacific.

The priest Marquette was the first to sail down the Mississippi; the Catholic La Salle was the first navigator of the Great Lakes; and the priest DeSmet was the first to bring the Christian religion to the savage tribes of the Rocky Mountains. The Franciscans civilized the far West; and was there ever such heroism as the heroism of Jogues, Brebeuf, Lalemant and the other Fathers martyred by the Indians of North America—the Jesuit Martyrs of North America?

OUR LADY'S VISITATION

On Tuesday, July 2nd, the Church celebrates the FEAST OF OUR LADY'S VISITATION to her cousin, St. Elizabeth. Among the common courtesies and duties of social life are visits to relatives and friends. Reflections on our dear Lady's Visitation might teach us how to sanctify these visits and make them fruitful of something better than idle gossip or mere amusement. Learning that her cousin needed her help, the blessed Virgin made the four days' journey at the cost of considerable inconvenience to herself. God's blessing went with her. The fruits of the visit were the sanctification of St. John the Baptist, the revelation of the Incarnation made to St. Elizabeth and our Blessed Mother's beautiful song of thanksgiving, the Canticle of the Magnificat. Besides there were marvelous graces given to the family of St. Elizabeth and the merit gained by the practice of charity, humility, and other virtues. Would that our visits might have such blessed results!

During this month we should pray to the Blessed Mother of Our Lord to bring us in Holy Communion that love she had for Jesus, so that after having known and having received Him it should be fitting that we also become like St. John, a precursor to the souls whom we come in contact with and who have need of Jesus. If we do this then may we hear the angels crying out to Jesus and Mary, "Behold the handmaid of the Lord," and pray to Mary, "O Immaculate Virgin, Mother of true joy, obtain for our souls, that are thirsting for happiness, the ineffable joys of divine love."

-Exchange.

THE PATRON OF CHARITIES

On Friday, July 19th, we celebrate the FEAST OF ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, the universal patron of charitable organizations.

Vincent was born in Aquitaine, and from a shepherd boy became a priest. Soon after his ordination he was taken captive by the Turks and sold as a slave. Converting his master, he escaped with him to France. The king, pleased with his zeal, set him over the galley-slaves of the kingdom. At the invitation of St. Francis de Sales he was spiritual director of the Visitation Sisters for forty years. A desire to promote the spiritual interests of the poor in country districts induced him to found the Congregation of the Missions, or Vincentians. His Sisters of Charity are an enduring monument to his love for the poor and afflicted, angels of kindness following the fortunes of the camp in time of war, and in peace at home in the wards of hospitals. He died in Paris in 1660, at the advanced age of eighty. Pope Leo XIII declared him universal patron of charitable organizations like that heroic band of laymen called the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

GOOD SAINT ANNE

St. Anne, Mother of the Blessed Virgin, July 26th. The Good Saint Anne, as her devout clients love to call her, is a Saint who should awaken devotion in the hearts of all, but especially of mothers who desire the sanctity of their children. In the providence of God, Saint Anne was chosen to be the Mother of the most perfect child found in the race of Adam, the Immaculate Queen of Heaven, Mary the Virgin Mother of the Incarnate Word. In her person Almighty God has gloriously illustrated the truth proclaimed by her Immaculate daughter in the triumphant Magnificat. For, verily, hath He "exalted the lowly," and the hidden and obscure Mother of Mary has been endowed with immense power in heaven and on earth, as witness the marvels of her shrines at Auray and Beupre. Confidently, then, may her intercessory power be invoked by mothers who desire to see their own daughters like unto the daughter of our Saint. To all Saint Anne teaches the important lesson, that sanctity consists not in great external work, but in the union of the soul with God, which divine grace, if unopposed, always tends to ef-

SAINT ANNE

Oh, what great dignity is thine!
For thou hast given birth
To God's fair Mother, praised by all
As Queen of Heaven and earth.

A plenitude of heavenly gifts
Thy God bestowed on thee;
Thou wast adorned with graces rare,
With highest sanctity.

Esteem and love we tender thee, We gladly sing thy praise; In confident and ardent pray'r To thee our hearts we raise.

By thy most powerful pray'r, great Saint,
Assist us in the strife,
That, serving God most faithfully,
We win the crown of life.

Oh, how we long, in realms of bliss, With Mary and with thee, To love and praise the triune God Throughout eternity!

—By a Brother of the Franciscan Order.

ST. IGNATIUS OF LOYOLA, FOUNDER OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS—JULY 31ST

St. Ignatius was born at Loyola, in Spain, in the year 1491. He served his king as a courtier and a soldier until his thirtieth year. At that age, being laid low by a wound, he received the call of divine grace to leave the world. He embraced poverty and humiliation that he might become more like to Christ, and win others to join him in the service of God. Prompted by their love for Jesus Christ, Ignatius and his companions made a vow to go to the Holy Land, but war broke out and prevented the execution of their project. Then they turned to the Vicar of Jesus Christ, and placed themselves under his obedience. This was the beginning of the Society of Jesus. Our Lord promised St. Ignatius that the precious heritage of His Passion should never fail his Society, a heritage of contradictions and persecutions. St. Ignatius was cast into prison at Salamanca, on a suspicion of heresy. To a friend who expressed sympathy with him on account of his imprisonment he replied: "It is a sign that you have but little love of Christ in your heart, or you would not deem it so hard a fate to be in chains for His sake. I declare to you that all Salamanca does not contain as many fetters, mancles and chains as I long to wear for the love of Jesus Christ." St. Ignatius went to receive his crown on the 31st of July, 1556.

Dangers of the Summer Vacation

At this beautiful season of the year thoughts turn to the country or the seashore. The annual weeks of vacation loom before us to steal the concentration which we can marshal to our task ordinarily. Men look forward to a breathing space that has been well earned, and they prepare to release themselves from the dominating finger of daily duty.

These annual days of relaxation tone the body. They reestablish one with vigor and energy. They soothe for the making over of the mind and body, something which is meant by the word "recreation."

They provide an enjoyable oasis in the ever insistent rush of duty.

While at this time men seek relaxation, the intelligent man knows that there is quite a difference between relaxation and laxity. He will seek the one, but studiously and carefully avoid the latter. He will know that relaxation brings relief and health to the body, while laxity may cause or allow serious disturbances of mind and heart. Relaxation never permits the elimination of the sense of responsibility. Laxity breeds an intoxicating spirit of irresponsibility, and ultimately engenders unhappiness and grief.

During the summer months there will be both physical and moral dangers. How often do we take up the morning newspaper and learn of the fatalities which have come to vacationists! Lakes renowned for their beauty have become unhappy spots for the victims their waters claimed. Beaches where thousands have sat about and found relief from the blistering heat of the sun, have had men and women drawn to their death by the resistless power of the undertow. Nor do we forget the fatalities of the open highways, and the menace that lurks in the way of the pleasure seeking tourist. Certainly men who believe in the Providence of God turn to Him for protection during these days.

Aside from the physical dangers of the summer months there are also the moral dangers. Perhaps it appears idle to say that the Commandments of God and the Precepts of the Church bind during the entire year. Yet, there are some thoughtless people who actually relegate these guides to the background during the summer vacation. Not that men deliberately put these commandments out of their minds, but they allow the spirit of laxity so to alter their perspective that they find ready excuse for care'essness. Particularly is this apt to be true in the case of youth. With the pressure and the regularity of school and college removed, and with the parents inclined to grant extreme freedom during the vacation, the young boys and the young girls are apt to exhibit a carelessness which they would never permit during the normal living of the regular year.

If we are to have safeguards during this time, where will they be found? They will be found in the same measures that prove invincible during the rest of the year. Our means for seeking the protection of God and for persevering in the proper way of living lie in daily prayers, attendance at Sunday Mass, and the reception of the sacraments.

These, important of all times of the year, are especially important in vacation on account of the spiritual and physical dangers above enumerated. Transportation today makes it so easy to reach church that we place ourselves in great spiritual risk, when we select without necessity a spot so far removed from civilization that it is impossible to attend Mass on Sunday, or to receive the Sacraments in case of necessity.

It is possible to have such a wonderfully pleasant time without exposing ourselves to spiritual danger that surrender to laxity seems utterly needless. The God-given beauty of the stream, the lake, the ocean, the mountain or the vale, beckon to us to relax, and enjoy the bountiful pleasures God has made possible for us. The innate desire of man finds relaxation in the sports he may play amid a profusion of natural beauty. Cares of business may pass from the mind in complete absorption in pleasure. The struggle and anxiety of earning one's daily wage may be entirely obliterated from the mind. There may be intense joy in relaxation, but never in laxity. The furrows imprinted by the worries of time will be deepened by laxity. The same furrows will be soothed and lessened by relaxation.

Preparedness and the use of the ordinary spiritual means should be characteristic of all during vacation time. With these we may taste to the greatest measure the welcome relaxation of the summer months.

Fifth Columnists

counting Columnists of the fifth variety has become America's number one indoor and outdoor sport. so inclusive are the lists compiled to date that it might be much simnler to count the non-Columnists. Earl Browder, presidential nominee of the Communist Party, to give him his oft-repeated title, numbers among the Fifth Columnists Martin Dies, the Roosevelt Administration, the Republican party, and all the industrial and bourgeois element of the country. Briefly, every man who is not a Communist is a Columnist. Dorothy Thompson has made out a tidy list of her own which includes all Nazi Bunders, all Communists, and—note well—all Americans of Irish extraction who do not love England. It is only a short step, and many have already taken it, to include among the list of dangerous suspects all German-Americans, no matter how thoroughly they detest Hitler, and all Italian-Americans who still cherish a love for the land of their ancestors. Lindbergh has become a Fifth Columnist by merely suggesting that it wou'd not be a very simple thing for Hitler to invade the United States. Thousands, millions of others have become Fifth Columnists by continuing to maintain that the United States should stay out of this war, by talking imprudently and praying foolishly for peace. Others have become Fifth Columnists by refusing to subscribe to the prevailing theory that the United States has existed and flourished all these years only through the good-will and friendly tolerance of the British navy. To reach a final definition, a Fifth Columnist is anyone who does not agree with the opinion currently expressed by any given speaker or writer. And that makes the United States one hundred percent Fifth Column. Hail Columbia!

Pius XII

A soul oppressed, a mind made sad, a heart weighed down with care, Two eyes that gaze with hope and love, and arms outstretched in prayer; A world now crazed, men slaughtered, dead, hearts sunk in grim despair, As helpless he, who loves all men, looks on from Peter's Chair; He stands within the world today, where once his Master stood, His voice is heard to plead with men for Peace and Brotherhood; He sees them not as Germans, French, as English, Belgians, Poles, He sees each one a Child of Christ, Who died to save their souls;

Christ's representative he is—that Christ Who came to earth
As Angel's sang their "Peace to Men" the morning of His Birth;
That Christ Who of forgiveness spoke, of mercy, kindness, Love,
Who begged men live as brothers here, sons of their God above;
He looks out now, as Christ, too, looks, and sees a world gone mad,
Men turned wild beasts, hell's fury loosed, the Heart of Christ made sad;
He sees whole countries now destroyed, sees peace and hope now fled,
And happy homes in ruins laid, each clasping loved ones, dead;

And Manhood's fairest flower—Youth—he sees go forth to die,
Their bodies crushed and blown to bits, but God to hear their cry;
The sweethearts, wives and Mothers old, he sees them bear their cross,
Their broken hearts, their shattered homes, his heart grieves in their loss;
Their broken hearts, their shattered homes, his heart grieves in their loss;
He sees God mocked, denied, dethroned, His churches burned, destroyed,
And sees them seek to rob man of things fine he once enjoyed;
O, Aching Heart, who represents the Person of Thy Christ, Thy heart, so close to His, doth know His Sufferings as War's Price!

GOD'S GIFT

How can we ever thank God for the wonderful gift He has bestowed upon us. Mother—sweet, gentle, sacrificing doing without things which she yearns for, so that we might have what we want; working long into the night, worrying about our happiness—constantly striving to make us happy. Does She ever think of herself? No, always of us. But do we appreciate her? A few of us do, but most of us do not realize how much we need and appreciate her until it is too late. God gives us this gift and He also takes it. It is for us to decide if we shall cherish and appreciate

Do you cherish your mother? If show your appreciation on Mother's Day" May the twelfth, and all year round by obeying her and taking her advice. You'll soon learn that mother's advice is best.

called this soldier-saint to Heaven. He was later beatified by Paul V. and canonized by Gregory XI. His body now lies in the Church of the Gesu at Rome. All Jesuits have the highest esteem and regard for their founder, St. Ignatius of Loyola. —Anna Marie Heron, Eighth Grade.

What Gamblers Are We All!

The world no use for gamblers has, these men who labor not, Who work not as do honest men, but live by chance, by lot; They bet and wager, scheme and plot, to get unworked for spoils, They spend their years in games of chance and give no thought to toil; And decent folks turn from such men, their comradeship they spurn, These gamblers who take all from life and give naught in return; But in life's battle that we fight for God and Home each day, Are we not gamblers taking risks a fearful price to pay!

We do not know the day nor hour when life for us is done, We only know death means for us our heaven lost or won; For after death, the judgment comes, when we shall stand alone To reap the glory of our deeds, or for our sins atone; One life to live, one soul to save, as years go rushing by, With none to know the day that God appoints for him to die; But, gamblers all, we take the chance—we fall, we sin, offend, We trespass on God's Mercy more as though It had no end;

When sin has stained and grips our soul, when from God's Grace we part, We risk the loss of heaven then and sadden Christ's dear Heart; Poor foolish man, such risks to take, his soul for sin to sell, To wager heaven, Home and God against a place in hell! For, while in sin, if death should come, how tragic then the cost, To find we had for sin's small thrill, our soul forever lost; Your soul is God's most precious gift, so live each passing day, as thousand the control of the As though before it's close, death's hand might call your soul away.

Girl Scouts

In the June issue of the Calendar, a belated insert mentioned the death of a devoted and edifying member of the troop. Frances Tynan, after a brief illness, was summoned to the court of the Great Scoutmaster, with Whom, we pray, she may enjoy Life Eternal.

Mother Seraphim, O. Carm.

Mother Seraphim of the Holy Spirit, for forty-two years a member of the community of Baltimore Carmel at Biddle and Caroline Streets and for twenty-seven years its Prioress, died on the afternoon of the Fourth of July in the convent chapel.

Mother Seraphim had been in the monastery garden with members of her community and never seemed happier. It was she who had enlarged the garden. She bought some years ago two buildings adjoining the monastery, had them razed and used the space thus gained for enlargement of the garden. The latter became a place of beauty, with many flowers-most of them rose bushes. Roses were Mother Seraphim's favorite flowers.

In recent months Mother Seraphim's visits to the garden had become infrequent for she had become subject to almost daily heart attacks. It was a heart attack which brought her death.

As the Sisters left the garden on July the Fourth to go to the chapel Mother Seraphim had a mild heart attack. She seemed to recover quickly and told the Sisters she was feeling better. She went to the Choir and was making her evening meditation with the community when suddenly she gave a low but agonizing moan; the nuns were at her side in an instant. Loving arms supported her. Her own sister, Sister Teresa, of the Child Jesus, a member of the community, placed a blessed candle in her hand. With grief unspeakable, the nuns saw her breathe her last.

The Rev. Anthony P. Mertz, assistant pastor of St. Paul's Church, two blocks north of the convent, responded to the sick call and gave her conditional absolution and anointing. Dr. Frank J. Kirby, physician to the community, was summoned but Mother Seraphim's long, cloistered life had ended.

Mother Seraphim, who was a native of Philadelphia, was a member of a religious family. Besides her sister in the Baltimore Carmel, she has a brother in the Society of Jesus, the Very Rev. Francis X. Byrnes, S.J., Socius to the Vice-Provincial.

Father Byrnes chanted the prayers and gave the absolution over Mother Seraphim in the Choir and at her grave in the monastery garden followed the Solemn Mass of Requiem on Monday morning. Mother Seraphim is the only nun buried in the Baltimore Carmel. The present carmel building was opened in 1872.

Mother Seraphim was the daughter of the late Peter and Lucy Butler Byrnes of the Gesu parish, Philadelphia. She was born on All Saints' Day, 1872, the year of the birth of St. Teresa, the Little Flower of Jesus, for whom Mother Seraphim had such great affection.

Mother Seraphim's name in the world was Josephine Regina Byrnes. She was one of nine children, seven of whom were boys. The two daughters became Carmelite nuns.

-Catholic Review.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Assn.

During July and August the regular meetings of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement As-Sociation will be dispensed with, as many of our members and their friends will be vacationing and unable to attend. At a meeting held recently, it was decided to give a series of Get-Togethers for the Stay-at-Homes. This will be an important date to check on your calendars. You should not miss these affairs, as efforts are being made to afford an evening's enjoyment to all who attend.

These Summer Parties bring together many of our members and their friends who have not seen each other for several months. They are also a means of contributing to the success of your Association. There will be games, refreshments and prizes. They will be held rain or shine, as ample provision has As the committee in charge is most anxious to make these Sc-cials as attractive as possible, we shall be very grateful for any donations, large or small, that you may be able to send. Perhaps you can bake a cake, donate a prize, or aid in the disposal of tickets. Whatever help you can give, will be most acceptable.

The officers of the Association will be available during the summer months to give information or assistance on all matters pertaining to the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association.

Summer Catholicity

We are free to avow at the start that the title prefixed to these remarks is a misleading one. There is, of course, no such thing as a special brand of Catholicity for the summer months as distinguished against the rest of the year. There are no vacations in God's service. Besides, we may be sure, the devil the arch-enemy of our souls, permits himself no relaxation in the task of endeavoring to bring about our spiritual ruin. We have employed the designation referred to above to attract attention to a theme, consideration of which is not only useful but necessary at this time. Let us put what we have to say in the form of a concrete instance. How often have we met persons who alleged as the reason for their failure to be present at Mass on Sunday that they went for a day's outing and had risen too late to satisfy their obligation of first hearing Mass? They are not specially disturbed about this: to tell the truth, there seems to be lurking in their moral make-up the vague, halfformed idea that this doesn't matter during the summer time. It is not only the sin but the frame of mind that accompanies it which is distressing in the extreme. They go off gaily in quest of pleasure with never a thought that it is an evil omen to have begun the day with mortal sin and defiance of Almighty God. An accident may happen; the Sundays of the summer months are crowded with themand then fancy that poor soul in an instant, perhaps unshriven, before its God! We would be the last to deny that the Sunday, in part at least, may lawfully be spent in innocent recreation. That, to be sure, is one of the reasons for its existence. But first go to Mass; that precept is not suspended during the summer time. You will not have less of a "good time" because you have consecrated it by invoking God's blessing in the Holy Sacrifice.

Hospitals and Animal House

"They say it's a good hospital," remarked the convalescent college man. "From a scientific viewpoint I suppose it is. All the care and attention regularly bestowed on an interestingly inoculated rabbit in their biological animal house. I am sure they lavished on me. But no more. Somehow, too, I couldn't help feeling that the interest was of the same kind; intelligent, but aloof and cooly impersonal. I was a diseased organism and so was the rabbit. The Sisters' hospital for me next time. There they treat you like a human being, and not like a specimen."

Our college man here pointed out an essential difference. The Catholic hospital omits nothing sanctioned by genuine science, but they who conduct it premise that the patient is something more than a valuable animal. He has an immortal soul. Therefore, unless forced to other action, Catholics should always make use of Catholic hospitals. The sick need spiritual ministries. Even in the best non-Catholic hospitals these ministries are not always regarded with a sympathetic eye, and it has not been unknown that through indifference or bigotry dying Catholics have been deprived of the Last Sacraments.

Catholic social workers in particular should not expose the defenseless poor to the possibility of illegal and immoral practices too common today in non-Catholic clinics and hospitals. Hence, whatever the necessity, these facilities should not be used unless it is certain that nothing will be done contrary to Catholic principles or morality. Choose a hospital for your sick, not an animal house. Choose the hospital where, while the body is being cured the soul may be looked after and where the priest is as welcome as the doctor.

Vocations

At this time, many of our boys and girls of the grammar grades, as well as the students of our high schools and colleges, are seriously considering the very interesting and important question of the state of life which they are likely to enthrace.

Spiritual writers tell us that it is highly important for all to know the will of God in regard to their future state in life, in order to assure their eternal salvation. It is possible to save one's soul though one may choose not to follow the path which God has marked out for him; but in doing so, he will miss not only the special graces which Our Lord had intended, but also the many incidental helps that would have made the work of salvation more easy and secure.

Spiritual Theologians usually mention three distinct signs of a true vocation to the priestly, or the religious life, namely, a good intention; no serious impediments or hindrance to admission; and lastly, acceptance by lawful superiors.

It is with vocations as with plants. In order that the germ of a plant may grow and unfold its leaves and flowers, certain conditions are required; such as good soil, the light and heat of the sun, and moisture. A vocation to the higher life must be taken care of; it must be fostered and developed; it must live in an atmosphere of holiness, otherwise it may be lost.

Should parents discover a budding desire in their son or daughter to dedicate himself or herself to the service of God, they must not stand in the way; it is God Who calls. They should therefore rather help than hinder the execution of the divine plan. They must not fail in the day of sacrifice, but generously and freely offer their child on the altar of God in the holy priesthood, or on the altar of Christian education in one or another of the several teaching Brotherhoods or Sisterhoods.

Happy the fathers and mothers who have thus given a son or a daughter or both to God's special service. Pray for a great increase of vocations to the priesthood and the religious life, in order that the harvest may find many laborers, and that the precious souls of children, so exposed to dangers, may all be gathered safe at last into the household of heaven.

Why the shortage of vocations? Is it because many of our so-called Catholic homes have not the old-time atmosphere of sacrifice and unselfishness? Are there too many amusements that keep the thoughts of our young men away from the subject of religious vocations?

An avowed enemy of the Church once said that "if all the Catholics there would be no Protestants in the evening." What kind of example are you giving your non-Catholic neighbor who expects much of you because you are a Catholic?

Preparedness

We speak much nowadays of preparing our boys and girls "for the world." What we must rather do is to prepare them against the world. Times have not changed so much for the better since the days of Our Lord, that we can afford to make a truce, and live in pleasant peace. The Prince of Peace spoke constantly of wars and fighting. His followers are not better than their Master. Struggle and resistance to evil is the appointed lot of every Christian all his days; to struggle against foes without and foes within him.

It is only in the great victory of Heaven that we shall be able, battle-worn conquerors, to lay down our arms and cease our vigilance.

"A Sacrament, Not a Social Function"

These are the words not of a priest nor even of a well-instructed Catholic on whose lips they would naturally find place, but of a Protestant gentleman who was the witness of a Marriage and Nuptial Mass at which bride and groom had received Holy Communion. And the appreciation of this fact has led him far in the direction of the True Fold. How much greater would have been his realization of it all if he had fully understood what the Mass is in itself, if he could have followed either in the original Latin or through a translation of the special prayers and blessings of the Mass "For Groom and Bride," and what would have been his surprise and perhaps scandal should he have been informed that such marriage ceremonies are an exception rather than the rule. There is richest blessing in the marriage contract of two Catholics when elevated to the dignity of a sacrament. but surely this blessing must be a hundred times greater, its augury of future abiding happiness, immeasurably brighter, when the first religious act that follows their union is attendance at Holy Mass, said moreover for their special intention and in accordance with especially significant rubrics, when the first viaticum of their journey together through life is the Body and Blood of Christ our Lord.

Girls—Rides

As I stood on the street corner waiting for a car, two young girls, apparently eighteen years of age, came gaily down the street.

"I wish we could meet someone who would give us an auto ride. It would be so enjoyable," one of the girls remarked. "Look, here come two young men. Maybe they will pick us up."

The girls waved; the auto stopped and after a few moments of conversation they hastily sprang into the car and were whirled away.

They were innocent-looking girls, who did not seem to realize the impropriety and danger of going with strange men. Every day the newspapers tell of the moral ruin of some young girl whose craving for auto rides has caused her to forget maidenly reserve and to trust herself and her virtue to some immoral wolf in human guise. Our Catholic mothers, especially during the summer months, must impress upon their children, that no selfrespecting girl will accept an invitation from any stranger to ride in an automobile. Loss of purity and moral death may be the penalty for accepting such an invitation.

Everybody Does

Every year a host of pure hearted, bright-eyed lads and maidens, in the first flush of their warm and generous youth, come thronging from our Catholic schools and enter the ways of life.

Alas, the hidden dangers that wait before their feet. There are so many pitfalls, where the flowers lie thickest! There are so many dragons, lurking in the happiest vales! And of all these dangerous creatures, one is most ravenous and savage—a dire beast whose cruel fangs have brought death and ruin to tens of thousands. Its name is "Everybody does!"

When the innocent boys or girls put on maturer ways, and come out into the world as men and women, this is the first temptation which they meet—"Everybody does!" They have been taught the strong, high, uncompromising principles of Christianity—that sin is a supreme and unimaginable evil, that goodness is precious above all things, that to rifle with temptations, to put oneself in unnecessary dangers, is to make friends with Hell.

But now the world about them whispers with a thousand voices that they must unlearn and forget these uncomfortable teachings. Now they must leave the Shrine of Christ and bow down before the Shrine of Human Respect—they must fall in with the crowd and follow the world and the flesh and the devil, because, well, "Everybody does!"

They go into factory or workshop or office and become uncomfortably aware that they are in a polluted and abhorrent air. Open speech or evil insinuation brings the blush to their cheeks. "Oh, you mustn't mind that sort of talk," some tempter tells them; "you'll soon be talking that way yourself, 'Everybody does.'" Drink and evil-living; cheating and shirking and all the passions that torment mankind, all rush upon them on the wings of that horrid dragon.

for them. An unseemly fashion shocks their modesty. "Oh, you simply must get used to that, everybody does!" A dance outrages their instinctive sense of what is proper and becoming. Again they are told, "Oh, everybody does!" Everywhere on all hands, the old excuse, the old false maxim of the world: "You must think it lawful you must think it right, because 'Everybody does!' "

Let us forewarn our boys and girls betimes against this devouring beast of human respect. We need only repeat the warning given by the Savior of Men two thousand years ago: "Narrow is the gate and straight the way which leads to life, and few there are that find it."

How diametrically opposite is this teaching to the easy maxim of the world: "Do what everybody does!" Our Lord explicity warns us that to do what "everybody does" is to walk in the broad and easy way that leads to perdition.

If we wish to be His disciples, our way must be with the Saints and Heroes-not with the inglorious and sodden multitude, who flock like silly sheep where "Everybody does!"

Feasts of the Month

FOUNDER'S MONTH

It would seem to be more than an accident that the feasts of so many founders of religious orders should fall within the Summer months, especially during the month of August. Indeed it appears to be providential that at a time in the year when so many religious vocations are coming to maturity a great chorus of intercessory prayer should be raised before the throne of God by these heroic patrons of the religious life.

On the eve of the month, July 31st, there is the feast of St. Ignatius Loyola, Founder of the Society of Jesus, with an octave ending August 7th.

The list includes St. Alphonsus Liguori (August 2), Founder of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer (Redemptorists). Being at first a lawyer, he was once betrayed into using some little deception (or what he thought such) in presenting a case to the court, and so great was his remorse that he abandoned a profession that laid so many snares for a pleader's honesty. The Saint afterwards became a leading light in the exposition of ecclesiastical law as bearing on the principles of morality.

On the 4th occurs the Feast of St. Dominic, Founder of the Order of Preachers (Dominicans,) to which the Church of God is so deeply indebted for the preservation of the faith in many European countries and which has had the very great distinction of counting among its members St. Thomas Aquinas, the Angel of the Schools.

St. Clare (or Clara), whose feast comes on the 12th, was inspired by the example of her townsman, St. Francis of Assisi, to distribute her goods to the poor and quit the world for a life of prayer. Under St. Francis' direction she instituted for women what has been known as the Second Order of St. Francis, remarkable for its poverty and austerity. The Order of Poor Clares, as it is called, has in recent years multiplied its convents in America.

St. Bernard of Clairvaux (August 20,) the great reformer of the Cistercian Order in the twelfth century, is one of the greatest figures in the annals of the medieval church. Ever seeking obscurity and retirement, he was often forced by the necessity of the Church to leave his solitude and aid the rulers of the Church by his wise counsels. When, as a young man of twentythree, he had applied for admission into the monastery of Citeaux, he came not alone, but in the company with thirty young noblemen, drawn to the religious life either by the eloquence of his words or by the force of his example.

It is to St. Jane Frances de Chantal, acting in concert with St. Francis de Sales, that we owe the Order of the Visitation of Our Lady. She sanctified in succession the four states of maidenhood, married life. widowhood, and the life of the cloister. It was to the Order of the Visitation, as represented by St. Margaret Mary, that our Lord turned when He wished to shed upon the earth the blessings attending the devotion of the Sacred Heart. The Feast is on the 21st.

St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo (August 28,) whose rule is the foundation of the constitutions, not only of the canons regular, but also of the Dominicans, the Trinitarians, the Mercedarians, the Knights Hospitallers and other orders.

THE ASSUMPTIONS OF MARY AUGUST 15

According to St. Alfonsus de Liguori

Our Lady's death was privileged, and so was her resurrection. So, John Damascene tells the story from tradition, and St. Bridget confirms it in her revelation. The Apostles were miraculously brought to Jerusalem at the time of our Lady's death and they buried her body in the Garden of Gethsemane. St. Thomas did not arrive until the burial was over, and at his entreaty the grave was opened, but all that was found in it were the winding sheet and a sheaf of lilies, whence the Apostles concluded that Our Lord, wishing not to delay the glory of His Mother, raised her to life and sent angels to carry her to Heaven, to be associated to Him, body and soul, in glory and happiness. St. Bernardine of Sienna says that, in order to honor the triumph of Mary, Jesus Christ Himself came from Heaven to meet her, with a host of blessed spirits, and led her to the throne prepared for her in that celestial place. There she reigns forever, Queen of angels and of men.

Let us contemplate our dear Lady, entering the land of bliss, leaning on the arm of her beloved Son. The angels who guard the throne of God, seeing her so glorious and beautiful, cry out to the blessed spirits who accompanied her from the earth: "Who is this that cometh up from the desert, flowing with delights, leaning on her beloved?" Who is this creature so beautiful, coming from the desert of the earth, a place of thorns and briars? So pure she is and so rich in virtue, that the Lord Himself deigns to accompany her, thus adding to the glory of her triumph. "Who is she?" And swiftly comes the response: "This is the Mother of our King, our Queen, blessed among women and full of grace; this is the Saint of Saints, the beloved of God, the immaculate one, the fairest and holiest of creatures." The Church has not yet made the doctrine of Our Lady's Assumption an article of faith, but she has adopted this belief by saying in the Mass for this beautiful feast: "Mary is assumed into Heaven." We have a right, therefore, to rejoice in the glorious resurrection of our dearest Mother. Let us rejoice also for ourselves at the thought of our own joyful resurrection. It will not immediately follow our death, as Mary's did, but it is not less certain, and if we are willing to lead a faithful Christian life, it will also be a resurrection unto glory.

According to Cardinal Newman

She died, but her death was a mere fact, not an effect; and when it was over it ceased to be. She died that we might live. It became Him who died for the world to die in the world's sight; it became the Great Sacrifice to be lifted up on high as a light that could not be hid. But she, the Lily of Eden, who had always dwelt out of the sight of men, fittingly did she die in the garden's shade and amid the sweet flowers in which she lived. Her departure made no noise in the world The Church went about her common duties, preaching, converting, suffering; there were persecutions, there were martyrs, there were triumphs; at length rumors spread abroad that the Mother of God was no longer upon the earth. Pilgrims went to and fro, they sought for her relics, but these were not. Did she die at Ephesus, or at Jerusalem? Reports varied, but her tomb could not be pointed out, or, if it was found, it was open, and instead of her fine, fragrant body there was a growth of lilies from the ground she touched. And finally the tradition was borne outward on the aromatic breeze, and it was said how that, when her dissolution was at hand and her soul was to pass in triumph before the judgment seat of her Son, the Apostles were suddenly gathered together in one place, even in the Holy City, to have part in the joyful ceremonial, how that they buried her with fitting rites, how that the third day, when they came to the tomb, they found it empty, and angelic choirs with their glad voices were heard singing day and night, the glories of their risen Queen.

This much cannot be doubted, from the current of the whole Catholic Church, and the revelations made to holy souls, that, as is befitting, she is soul and body with her Son and God in heaven and that we celebrate not only her death, but her Assumption. As the resurrection of Our Blessed Lord is a pledge of our own glorious rising, so the triumphant Assumption of Our Blessed Lady is a pledge of her intercessory power with her Divine Son. To celebrate this great feast of our Mother, we may offer our Holy Communion on that day, to beg the grace of being worthy of seeing the glory of the Blessed Virgin in Heaven.

Italy of Our Memories

O, Italy, Land that we loved, how proud was once your name!
Illustrious sons and daughters brought to you glory, fame;
Your lovely lands, in sunshine bathed, your culture, climate, flowers,
Didst beckon us unto your shores to spend our leisure hours;
What heritage has been your lot, what memory endures,
To tell the future race of men the pride that once was yours;
Religion's Cradle and its Heart! What privilege you have known,
To have within your midst the one anointed as God's Own;

What blessings years have brought to you, what role for you God Willed, To have so many of your sons, the Chair of Peter fill; On History's Scroll where rests the names of brave men and their deeds, Your sons have written high your name for all who pass to read; Your fertile lands were drenched with blood of Martyrs everywhere, Who deemed all tortures, even death, for Christ's Sake, sweet to bear; Your Poets, Artists, Sculptors, Popes; your Scientists. your Kings, They kept the faith; held honor high; clung fast to finer things;

This Army of Immortal Ones, whose spirits hover near, What must they think of you they left to guard their Homeland dear; They see you trample in the dust, the things for which they died, And see you walk with Communist and Atheist at your side; They see you take up arms with men Who God and faith deny, Who murder, rob, destroy and burn, and righteous laws defy; O, Italy, once Home of Saints, your head once scraped the stars, We grieve with all who know your past to see you as you are!

THE SANCTUARY LAMP .

One of God's most faithful friends is the Sanctuary Lamp or Silent sentinel as it is sometimes called. This light burns before the tabernacle in all Catholic Churches to remind us that Our Lord is present there, and waiting for us. To me, this lamp seems like the Star that shone over the Stable of Bethlehem and guided both shepherds and kings to the Infant Christ. Our Lord wants both rich and poor to come to Him. The Silent Sentinel will show them the way. Will you accept His invitation?

-MICHAEL VOGEL, 5th Grade.

A THRILLING RESCUE

The name of many heroes have gone down in history. The deeds of whom would be worthless without the heroism of Christ, who saved them from eternal punishment by opening the gates of heaven to them and to us.

His heroic work should stand out, in our minds always. For what good would the deeds of men be to us if we were to fall into the hands of

Now if we remain good and holy we need not fear such a thing for Christ has rescued us.

Therefore we Catholics may truthfully say, that we have had "A Thrilling Rescue" from the power of darkness.

-CHARLES OTT, 7th Grade.

"AN UNSUNG HERO"

While many of the great men who participated in war for the Independence of our great country are being honored, the great missionary who labors tirelessly in the foreign lands in the service of God receives little praise and glory.

He teaches the poor and ignorant natives about the one true God; and how to love and serve Him and thereby enjoy eternal happiness.

Sometimes he sacrifices his meals in order to feed his brethren. He devotes his entire life to these uncivilized people; and sometimes he even gives up his life so that Christianity and the word of God may be brought to these poor unfortunates.

In return for these noble deeds the Missionary receives most frequently, disheartening, even insulting words from his enemies and persecutors; but he knows, too, that a crown of glory hereafter awaits him.

How Precious Are the Tongues of Men!

None but a God could give to man so great a gift as tongue,
That man might tell Him of his love, and have His praises sung;
What poor dumb creatures we would be, bereft of tongue and speech,
To tell our wants, to have our love the hearts of dear ones reach;
Next to the heart, our tongues are blessed by God and honored most,
For on our tongue God rests a while within the Sacred Host;
Our tongues become the Manger then which cradled Him that Morn
When Mary laid to rest Her Babe Who for our sakes was born;

Our tongues replace Her Mother Arms which pressed Him to Her Heart, They are the Home of Nazareth, too, where Jesus was a part; Our tongue becomes the Calvary's Cross which held Him as He died, For each Communion brings to them, our Jesus Crucified; God gave us tongues to do His work, to make life sweeter here, To lift the load from hearts of men and change their grief to cheer; But, ah! 'tis sad the use to which our tongues are put each day. They curse God's Name, and others hurt by unkind things they say;

They lie and cheat; they take away our fellowman's good name,
They tell the scandal that we hear which brings to others, shame;
Our tongues are used in filthy talk, in jokes vile and obscene,
In acts that bring the blush of shame, acts sordid and unclean;
If we but knew the priceless gift God gives us in our tongues,
We'd use these tongues throughout our lives to have His praises sung;
How can the tongue which greets Christ first, wherein the Host He rests,
Be used for aught but life with Him in union sweet and blest!

Have you written to your Congressmen about the Conscription?

It has been brought to our attention that unauthorized solicitors supposedly representing Catholic organizations have been visiting some members of our Parish, requesting help in the form of subscriptions and contributions to various charitable enterprises.

As no one has been authorized by anyone in authority in the Gesu Parish, we would urge that the Rectory be notified immediately of anyone who solicits aid under the pretense of our approval.

An announcement will always be made from the pulpit whenever the authorities approve of an appeal for any charitable, missionary, or other religious work. The needs of our Catholic works of various types are too pressing to permit charitable aid to be wrongfully diverted from them.

-FATHER RECTOR.

The Parochial School

The Parochial School will reopen on Tuesday, September 3rd. It is the parents' duty to have their children report on the opening day so that class work may begin promptly.

Regular Order

Vacation schedule of services ends and the REGULAR Order of Masses and services begins on Sunday, September 15th. On that day the last Mass will be a High Mass and will begin at 10.45. Sodalities and other Church organizations will also resume their meetings during the week beginning with the 15th.

Ember Days

Ember days are days of fast and abstinence, instituted to thank God for His gifts of nature, and to teach men to use them for the service of God. The English word "EMBER" is probably an abbreviation of "quatember" which in Latin is "quattuor tempora"—meaning "four times." By Ember days therefore we mean the three fast days, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, which one of these four times is the week following the feast of THE EXAL-

TATION OF THE HOLY CROSS, September 14th. This month therefore, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, September 18th, 20th and 21st will be Ember days. They are Fast days, that is days on which ONLY ONE FULL MEAL IS ALLOWED for those who are not excused from fasting. They are also days of ABSTINENCE, that is, days on which all are obliged to abstain from meat. By special concession, working people and their families are permitted meat at the ONE FULL MEAL on Wednesday and Saturday.

Four Hundredth Anniversary of the Confirmation of the Society of Jesus

September 27th, the Society of Jesus will celebrate its four hundredth birthday. Four hundred years old! Four centuries have rolled into eternity since Pope Paul III looked up from his final examination of the institute of the Jesuits and said to St. Ignatius, "The finger of God is here." Four centuries! Four hundred years of labor in the cause of Christ. Four hundred years in the cause of Catholic education. Four hundred years of mission work. Four hundred years of persecution. Four hundred years of martyrdom. Four hundred years of ministering to the sick in hospitals, to lepers on isolated islands, to the poor in slums, to slaves in their hovels, to soldiers about to go over the top. Four hundred years of class-room tedium. Four hundred years of defending the truth, with the pen, the spoken word, and with blood.

There have been flashes of glory in these four hundred years. Great heroes have been numbered among the sons of the Society, who have not hesitated at a day's notice to start for the ends of the world, adventurers for Christ, who have won for Him whole peoples, who have given up all things out of love for Him "with a passing salute to the world and her pitiful beauty," who have gone gallantly to death to serve Him better. Jesuits have died as martyrs on the cross, on the scaffold, under the guillotine, on the very steps of the altar, in the vestments in which they celebrated Holy Mass. In almost every nation Jesuits have preached the Gospel, have watered with their blood the seed of the faith.

Fittingly then, in the Gesu, we shall celebrate this birthday with a triduum on September 26th, 27th and 28th. On Sunday, September 29th, at 10.45, the birthday celebration will close with a Pontifical Solemn High Mass by His Eminence Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, and attended, we hope, by a host of parishioners and friends who will by their presence wish the Society of Jesus "many happy returns of the day."

The Preacher for both the Triduum and the Solemn Pontifical Mass will be announced at a later date.

Why a Catholic High School?

Because a high school education opens to the mind the whole field of human thought and endeavor.

Because a high school education is necessary for the preparation of leaders, both in civic and in Catholic life.

Because a high school education is a sure preparation for a successful life.

Because a graduate of a Catholic high school, if he continues his studies, usually chooses a Catholic college.

Because character, the real goal of education, is fostered by religious instruction.

A Catholic high school education is an asset your child cannot squander.

But All's Not Right With The World

God was in His Heaven in 1914 but because great nations would have none of Him, a barbarous war laid waste His creations. He was still in His Heaven in 1919, but because other great nations ignored His justice and mercy, there was imposed upon the conquered ignominious terms of "peace" which could but sow seeds of another conflagration.

God is in His Heaven above Europe today but because 20 years have brought forth Pagan gods of Race and State who compel allegiance to their cause of conquest, the most devastating of all wars is raging and spreading.

God is in His Heaven above these United States, the nation founded on Christian principles, the land of equality and freedom—"God's country" as we like to call it. "God's country"? Yes, but how long will it remain so? For here too another Pagan god—the Almighty Dollar is crowding out Almighty God. In the land of plenty for every man, too few have too much for their own or the common good. Too many have too little to maintain the dignity of man's estate—too little for even health and life—so little that discontent is smoldering ominously.

"God's country"? How much longer may we term it so, when miltence of any Creator and other millions have deformed God's laws to their own ideas, rather than conforming their ideas to the will of God-when the breaking of God's bond of wedlock is permitted and encouraged—when birth-prevention which is reducing the national growth to the danger point, is made legal and "salutary"—when sinful immorality is taught to youth as "righteous" self-expression-when the breaking of God's natural laws is fast weakening our moral fibre at a time when virility is becoming more and more essential? Will God much longer admit this as His country or save us in a time of need?

God is in His Heaven above the world—the all-powerful God, the all-merciful God. But He gave man free will and so we must choose to turn to God in adoration, obedience and prayer, at the same time using our God-given faculties to aid in the attainment of peace for all men in this life and in the life to come.

So, dear fellow American, let us work for our land and all lands. Let us hark to the plea of Pope Pius XII, and pray today and every day to God Almighty Who holds the universe in His palm—to the all-merciful Jesus Christ Who said: "Without me you can do nothing." It's a small thing to ask. It's the only thing to do.

(Catholic Information Society, Narberth, Pa.)

Final Vows

The following, received too late for the August Calendar is printed for the record.

The Rev. Michael J. Blee, S.J., professor of Psychology at St. Joseph's College, pronounced his final vows as a Jesuit on Thursday, August 15th, feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Marv.

Very Rev. Thomas J. Love, S.J., president of St. Joseph's College and Rector of the Church of the Gesu, celebrated the Mass at 7.30 at the Gesu and also received the vows in the name of the Very Rev. Llodimir Ledochowski, General of the Order, who resides in Rome. The day marked the 406th anniversary of the first taking of the vows by St. Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Jesuits.

Father Blee, son of Mrs. Michael Blee of this city and the late Mr. Blee, entered the Novitiate of St. Andrew-on-Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. on July 30, 1923, after graduating from the Gesu Parochial School and St. Joseph's College High School. In 1927 he went to Woodstock College, Woodstock, Maryland for philosophical studies, and later taught at Loyola High School, Baltimore, Md., and Regis High School, New York City.

He was ordained at Woodstock, June 20, 1937 by the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore. He spent a year at Poughkeepsie and Auriesville, N. Y. in ascetical studies before coming to St. Joseph's College in 1939.

Catholic School's Guarantee

In problems which involve the reaction of man's free will to opportunity and desire, it is rash to give guarantees. What will happen is known with certainty to God alone.

Hence good schools are chary about making promises. They can assure alertness, intelligence, professional skill, good will, in the name of the teachers, but not much more. Certainly they cannot promise that your children will go back to you finished models of intellectual and spiritual perfection.

But the Catholic school can promise this. It will look on your child as a child of God. It will train his mind and polish his manners, but it will so instruct him in every classroom and in the consideration of every subject, that, from the outset, he will begin to understand why the most important truth in all life is to know what God wishes us to do.

The Catholic school, and only the Catholic school, can help him to find that truth. It is not recondite, but near to everyone of us. At least the Catholic school believes that it is very near, because it believes in God. Other schools are founded on a philosophy which holds that God has no place in education.

The Catholic school, and, again, only the Catholic school, believes that God has spoken to us, and that we know what His words mean. To the Catholic school, revelation is not a delusion, but a fact as plain as the existence of railroads, and telephones, and newspapers, and infinitely more important.

It is the function of the Catholic school to communicate this revelation to every pupil. For the school must prepare the child for life, and life goes beyond the years of man on earth. Were there no God and no Revelation, we might rest content with training for this world alone, but no Catholic parent can accept that supposition. Life does not end on this earth, but goes beyond.

Finally, the Catholic school can guarantee this: It will never permit parents to forget that the chief work in education must be done by them. When the home fulfills its part in the delicate and often perplexing business that is termed education, we can hope that the pupil will one day go out into the world to become a good and useful citizen.

The Catholic school, then, does not promise that every one of its pupils will become a canonized Saint. But it does promise, and with rightful confidence, that it alone will strive to make every pupil a good citizen of this world, and a future citizen of the Kingdom of God.

Let Us Face Reality

Out of the disaster that has overwhelmed the European Continent one ray of light and hope seems to appear. Catastrophe has brought the masses of people face to face with the stark realities of life. Every human value has been tested and found wanting. Only spiritual Values remain unshaken. Life itself is precarious at best. Only the hope of eternal life makes this life endurable. Possibly, their hope in this World and in the world that men have made being destroyed, Europeans may return to the only enduring hope which is in God.

What future we, on this continent, must face, no man can foretell. Let us not deceive ourselves by any false hope of salvation held out to us in the pledges and promises of men. In God alone is our hope. We have been blessed in a singular way by Divine Providence. Our natural resources are copious, our opportunities unlimited. Our country can provide life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all who live within its bounds. Our only real problem is distribution of the good things we possess. What we have is easily within our power to hold and to pass on to future generations. But the condition of self-preservation is the strengthening of the spirit.

We may build the strongest army and navy. We may make ourselves impregnable from attack from without. But, no matter what our material strength, if greed, selfishness, injustice, hatred, distrust prevail among us, our spiritual weakness will in the end bring about our collapse. Before it is too late let America face reality. Our national motto is: "In God we trust." Let us make that motto mean something. Our Holy Father has given us the key to national security: "God honored, respected, obeyed." If America and all that it means in terms of human life, human liberty and human happiness is to be preserved, Charity, Justice and Faith must be enthroned in the hearts of our citizens. The true value of our preparedness can be measured only by a spiritual yardstick. While we prepare to meet our enemies from without, let us first look to our enemies within. Our greatest security is Godliness. Let us recognize this truth now.

Feasts of the Month

THE EXALTATION OF THE HOLY CROSS

September 14th

This feast has been celebrated since the year 326, when St. Helena discovered the Holy Cross, and placed it for veneration in the church at Jerusalem. Some are of opinion that the Exaltation of the Holy Cross was formerly kept in the month of May, but that when the great Church of the Resurrection had been built in Jerusalem, and consecrated on September 13th, in the year 335, the True Cross was solemnly transferred there on the following day, which was Sunday, and from that time the festival was celebrated on the 14th of September, both in the East and West. It had spread throughout the Church as early as the fifth or sixth cen-

From the narrative of an early pilgrim to Palestine—formerly considered to be St. Silvia of Aquitane, but now recognized as the Abbess Egeria—we learn that in the fourth century this festival was celebrated in Jerusalem with the same solemnity as Easter and the Epiphany, because, as she remarks, the Holy Cross was first found upon this day. Later on, however, the Western Church introduced a second feast in Paschal time (May 3rd) in memory of the Finding of the Cross; and celebrated on this September festival the triumph of the Cross over paganism, and the many glories commemorated with its solemn veneration. It is not clear whether the May feast was intended to commemorate the finding of the Cross by St. Helena in that month, or the dedication of the Basilica of Holy Cross in Rome.

ST. MICHAEL, ARCHANGEL September 29th

Since the hour when the great Archangel smote down the rebel horde of Lucifer in strife with the heavenly host, he has been known as the commander-in-chief of the armies of God, champion of God's people, defender of the Church of Christ, and protector of every faithful soul in conflict with the unseen prince of darkness and his wily minions.

Thus "Mi-ca-el," or as the name signifies, "Who is like to God?"for such was the battle-cry of Michael's followers—has come to represent the everlasting type of divine fortitude; the type that is ever generous, venturesome, dauntless; the type glorified by the poet as "never to submit or yield and what is else-not to be overcome."

Fortitude, in the Catholic sense, is the God-given power to suffer and sustain. It is a willingness, for the cause of duty or principle, to face danger, opposition, ridicule, hardship, and even death, conscious the while of the difficulty of the undertaking and the possibility of its failure; a high and holy resolution, in short, to pay if necessary a great price for a great good. There is indeed a modern popular affectation of courage, the product of the cheap-magazine story—massive shoulders, bulging biceps, the grimly-squared jaw and the underslung gaze, all intended to be expressive of manly strength, but such a prototype nowadays is even smiled upon by partakers of raw fiction. True courage, on the other hand, is one of the precious gifts of the Holy Ghost, a spiritual quality, one which has its roots in conscience.

Christian art depicts St. Michael as a glorious angelic warrior fully armed with sword and shield, towering above the demon into whom he is about to thrust his weaponthe very personification of power, of loyalty, of courage divine.

Throughout every age of her victorious march, the Catholic Church has never lacked her staunch and courageous defenders, but if ever there was an age when she needed valiant and venturesome followers, she does so today; not so much to lift her banners in sight of the enemies fortresses, or to shout her warcry in the forum and marketplace, as to withstand a more subtle, a more menacing, a more immediate foe; one entrenched within the very citadel of our round of daily occupations, whose seeming-fair yet insidious policy of ease and self-indulgence, whose formulae of material success, whose low views of conduct and aspiration commonly go by the name of worldly wisdom, but in reality are nothing more than a cowardly perversion of the true wisdom taught and exemplified by Our Lord, Jesus Christ.

The opportunities of bearing witness to Christ's principles are manifold and ever at hand day in and day out in this very theatre of our own work-a-day existence. The mother who welcomes God's little ones to her home in the face of a scoffing world is as truly a witness to Christ as one of Nero's victims; the young man and young woman who treasure honor and purity amid the crowded throngs of profligate youth testify to their faith in a most magnanimous way; the business man who values honesty above gain and the man of affairs who prefers defeat to high offices at the price of apostasy confesses Christ no less than did the venerable Cardinal Mercier, the great moral figure of the world war. These deeds, it is true, may not be heralded broadside to the world; they are, none the less, written large in the Book of Life—the same that records the shining deeds of devotion, of loyalty, of undying fortitude of the victorious St. Michael, whom the universal Church commemorates on the 29th of this month. May he aid us always in our fight for heaven, and be it ours, in turn, to imitate as best we can his sublime example of heavenly courage.

SEPTEMBER FEASTS OF MARY

THE NATIVITY September 8th

All the world over, birthdays are days of rejoicing. It is a point of commonest good-fellowship and courtesy to be mindful of a friend's birthday. Families signalize by some little token or other the birthdays of father, mother and children. Nations celebrate with holiday the birthday of their kings or emperors or founders or great statesmen. And so all heaven and earth celebrate the birthday of Mary, the Queen of Heaven, the mother of all Christians.

Her birth was a wonderful event in itself, the most wonderful that had occurred up to that time in the history of men; because it was the birth of the first person since Adam who did not come into life under the shadow of the Fall. She was exempted through the merits of the Divine Son, whose Mother she was to become.

And her birth was wonderful in its results for all men. It was the preparation for our redemption. It was as the morning star before the sun.

It brought joy to Heaven. The angels rejoice at the birth of their Queen and the future mother of the King of Glory become Man. They rejoice at the vision of her beauty, the grandness of her privilege, the powers in store for her. The Holy Trinity rejoices.

It brought joy to earth, to Anna and Joachim, her parents, to Elizabeth and Zachary, her cousins. A thrill passed over all the earth. "Thy birth, O Holy Virgin, brought joy to the whole universe," sings Holy Mother Church.

It brings joy to us. It brings before us this masterpiece of the Creative Hand of God, the bright Aurora, the Morning Star. Who is she? The Mother of thy Redeemer, God's own Mother, so singularly privileged, so richly endowed, so gracious, so powerful. Who is she? Our own dear mother, given to us by the Saviour when He became our little Brother. "Who will give thee to me for my little Brother, nursing at the breasts of my mother?"

She is the Queen of Heaven and Earth, the Fountain of God's grace to me, full of love, full of mercy. Why then should not we poor sinners rejoice at her birth who is to be our loving and powerful advocate with her Son?

THE HOLY NAME OF MARY September 12th

What's in a name?" asks the poet.
"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." So, too, the Mother of God, we may add, would lend the charm of her sweetness and holiness to any name she might bear. And yet there is a certain fitness in her bearing the name of Mary. For in the Syriac tongue, which Our Blessed Mother spoke, the name Mary means "Lady." And in Hebrew, it means "Star of the Sea." The name Mary, according to some pious writers, was chosen for Our Lady by God Himself. Whether this be true or not, the name was given to her by St. Joachim, her father, on the eighth day after her birth at a ceremonial gathering of the family for that purpose and in accordance with Jewish custom.

"And surely," says St. Bernard, "the Mother of God could not have a name more appropriate, nor one more expressive of her high dignity... Mary, that bright star of Jacob, whose rays enlighten the whole world, whose splendor shines conspicuous in heaven, and penetrates hell. It pervades the earth and animates the soul, banishing vice and maturing virtue."

Mary is, in fact, a beautful and brilliant star which shines upon the vast and stormy sea of the world. For, just as the mariner looks to his guiding star to keep straight upon his course, so, too, we must look to Mary for help and guidance. We must look to the brightness of her virtue as the light of our own path when the tempest of temptation is raging round about us. We must invoke her name in trial, in success, in thanksgiving. For "never was it known that anyone who fled to her protection, sought her help or intercession, was left unaided."

In the year 1683 the Turks, who were seeking to overrun Christian faith, laid siege to the city of Vienand circumstances so favored them all hope for the city seemed lost. On the feast of the Nativity of Mary (September 8th), all the inhabitants of the city had recourse to her. Next day the army of Sobieski, the pious king of Poland, was decried in the distance coming to the aid of the beleaguered city. After receiving Holy Communion and invoking the name and help of Mary, Sobieski, with his comparatively insignificant army, attack and drove back in utter defeat the almost countless hordes of Turks and Tartars. In honor of the victory Pope Innocent IX ordained that the festival of "The Holy Name of Mary" should be celebrated annually within the Octave of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin

The nearness of Mary to Christ, her virtue and her eagerness to help her children on earth, have made Mary's name a word of benediction in the mouth of every Christian. "The name of Mary," says St. Anthony of Padua, "is sweeter to the lips than honey, more flattering to the ear than any melody, more delicious to the heart than the purest joy."

THE SEVEN DOLORS September 15th

Devotion to the sorrows of our Blessed Lady, whom Holy Church invokes as the Queen of Martyrs, is an old devotion which had its inception in the early Christian centuries. As time rolled on its popularity grew among the faithful until at last in the Middle Ages there were inaugurated in several countries local festivals in memory of our Lady's Compassion. Later still, about 1222, at the express wish of our Lady seven holy men of Florence forsook the world and dedicated their lives and labors to propagating devotion to the Seven Dolors of God's Holy Mother. In 1817 a solemn feast was instituted by Pius VII for the universal Church, to recall Mary's part in our Redemption, and then in our own century His Holiness Pius X raised this feast to the rank of a solemnity of the second class.

Down through the ages the pens of the Church's most illustrious sons have never ceased to laud her to whom Simeon of old spoke these prophetic words, "And thy own soul a sword shall pierce, that out of many hearts thoughts may be revealed." Among many other beautiful things of her St. Anselm writes: "When the disciples fled, and all men deserted, she alone, to the glory of the whole female sex, amongst so many torments of her Son, stood steadfast in the faith of Jesus, and stood nobly as became her virginal purity, . . . she stood, not complaining, nor murmuring, nor imploring mercy, but as a recollected, modest, most patient, most sorrowful virgin."

Whoever, like St. Anselm, is intensely devoted to the sorrows of Mary is without doubt exceedingly intimate with the Passion of her Son and will inevitably draw very near to Him Who "tortured, scourged in expiation of the sins that marred His nation," freely yielded up His Life to atone for human failings. St. Paul of the Cross recognized this truth and tirelessly spoke of devotion to the Sorrowful Mother as an easy means of acquiring a personal love of Christ Crucified. "Meditate often," he says, "on the sorrows of the Holy Mother, sorrows inseparable from those of her beloved Son. If you seek the Cross, there you will find the Mother and where the Mother is, there also is the Son.

Who can grieve with Mary at the prophecy of Simeon and not grieve also for that tiny palpitating Heart of the Babe waiting to be pierced with a real spear? Who can condole the young Mother flying into Egypt in terror, and not instinctively compassionate the mute, but reasoning and feeling little Bundle pressed to her frightened heart? Who can think of the heart-broken Mother seeking her lost Child and not recall the sacrifice it cost the Child to be "about His Father's business" and about ours, too?

What man can sympathize with Mary as she meets her Son staggering under the weight of the cross and not at the same time feel his own heart twitch in sympathetic anguish with the Heart of Him Who was "a worm and no man: the reproach of men and the outcast of the people?" Is there one who can share the sorrow of Mary on Calvary and not be drawn as a consequence to the Object of her tears and sorrow, her dear Son, pinioned to that galling tree wherewith He redeemed the world? Or again, who can speak a word of comfort to Mary as we see her in the PIETA and not be moved to tears for the terrible state of that rent and mangled Body she holds in her arms? Lastly, who can mourn with the bereft Mother at the tomb and not grieve also for Him Who for man's salvation was done to death so ignominiously. He who meditates the sorrows of Mary of necessity meditates on the sorrow and anguish of Jesus. He who loves the Mother of Sorrows cannot but love the Man of Sorrows more. Mary, Queen of Martyrs, lead us to the Martyr of all martyrs, thy Son!

JESUIT FEASTS

BL. JOHN IXIDA, S.J. September 3rd

Bl. John Ixida, S.J., was a native Jananese. His knowledge of the teachings of the Bonzes enabled Him to refute their philosophers and make many converts, During his forty-five year apostolate he travelled over most of the provinces of his native country. Captured, he was tortured in many ways, suspended in such a manner that all his joints were dislocated: had boiling water poured over his body. Six times daily during the course of a month, the tortures were repeated. He then languished eight months in prison at Nagasaki and was finally burned to death by a slow fire.

THE MARTYRS OF PARIS September 4th

Bl. James Bonnaud, William Delfaud, Alexander Lanfant and Companions were beatified in 1926, together with other victims of the French Revolution to the number of one hundred and ninety one. James Bonnaud, Vicar-General of the Archdiocese of Lyons never wavered in his opposition to the unjust laws of the leaders of the revolution and guided by word and example the clergy committed to his care. William Delfaud, Archpriest of the Diocese of Sarlat, fearlessly defended the rights of the Church in the legislative assembly of which he was a deputy. Alexander Lanfant, distinguished for his eloquence, was the King's Confessor. These three Priests were outstanding figures among their confreres, Who without exception, noted for apostolic zeal and adorned with every priestly virtue girded themselves for the conflict and won the victory with Christ.

BL. THOMAS TZUGI AND MICHAEL NAXACIMA, S.J.

September 6th

At Nagasaki, in Japan, in 1627, died Father Thomas Tzugi. member of an illustrious family of Omura, who had entered the Society of Jesus at an early age. After years of glorious toil, he was seized and condemned to death by fire along with his two Japanese hosts. In the midst of flames he spoke with great power and eloquence on the Passion of Christ and Faith in Him. He died while singing the "Laudate Dominum Omnes Gentes."

Michael, who had been his companion in prison, was often beaten on the soles of his feet, was put to the terrible torture of water and then exposed to the burning heat of the sun. Finally he was plunged into sulphurous boiling water and thus won the palm of martyrdom.

BL. MARK CRISMO, STEPHEN PONGRACZ AND MELCHIOR GRADECZ, S.J.

September 7th

At Cassanovia in Hungary, these three Jesuits suffered death at the hands of the Hungarian heretics. Father Mark was a Canon of the Church of Strigonia, the others priests of the Society of Jesus. All three were united in the work of zealously defending the faith against the attacks of heresy. They were captured and imprisoned. At midnight between September sixth and seventh, they were dragged from their cells, severely beaten; suspended from beams; their sides burned with torches until the ribs were laid bare.

They were beatified in 1905 by Pope Pius X.

ST. PETER CLAVER, S.J. September 9th

Born at Verdu in Spain in 1581, at the age of twenty he entered the Novitiate at Tarragona. While he was studying philosophy at Maiorca in 1605, Alphonsus Rodriguez, the saintly door-keeper of the college, learned from God the future mission of the young Jesuit, and thenceforth never ceased exhorting him to set out to evangelize the Spanish possessions in America. Peter obeyed and in 1610 landed at Cartagena, the chief slave-mart of the New World, where for fortyfour years he was the Apostle of Negroes who were constantly imported from Africa to cultivate the cotton soil and exploit the mines.

The moral and physical degradation of these unfortunate human beings, the brutalities to which they were subjected, and the contempt in which they were held as scarcely possessing a soul, do not bear description. Fr. Claver dedicated himself by vow to be "the slave of the Negroes forever." Every month, when the arrival of the Negroes was signalled, he went out to meet them, carrying food and delicacies. He cared for each one of them in particular, making him understand by the language of charity that, from that moment, he was his father and his defender. While the slaves waited in Cartagena to be purchased and dispersed, the Saint instructed and baptised them, looked after all their needs and protected them against their oppressors. More than 300,000 Negroes were instructed and baptized by him in his long apostolic life, supported by a charity truly superhuman. He died on September 8th,

Peter Claver was beatified in 1850 and canonized in 1888 along with his friend Alphonsus Rodriguez. In 1896 he was proclaimed the special Patron of all Catholic Missions among the Negroes.

BL. CHARLES SPINOLA AND COMPANIONS, MM. September 10th

At Nagasaki, in Japan, in the year 1622, died the Blessed Charles Spinola, an Italian, burned to death by a slow fire. He was born of noble parentage at Genoa. He prepared himself for martyrdom by severe penances and by making the Spiritual Exercises every year for thirty days. In the time of the most cruel persecution of Daifusama, he secretly assisted the Japanese Christians, and baptized five thousand souls. At last, captured on December 14, 1618, he was thrust with his eight companions into the terrible prison of Omura, where to their sufferings they added voluntary afflictions of the body, such as fasts, watchings and scourgings. In the same prison there were also eight Dominicans, four Minorites, and thirty other Christians, among whom was Elizabeth Fernandez and her four-year-old child, Ignatius, beheaded for the Faith. When led out to die by fire, they sang psalms, shedding tears of joy. While burning at the stake, Fr. Spinola inquired of Elizabeth where her son was. She lifted him above the crowd and said, "Behold him, Father, happy to die with me. Most willingly, indeed, do I sacrifice to my God the two things dearest to me, my life and my child." Then, turning to the boy: "See him who made you a child of God and gave you a life much better than the one which is to end now."

At Tabina, in Japan, in the year 1622, died Father Camillus Constanzo, an Italian. In the midst of fames he sang the psalm "Laudate pominum Omnes Gentes," and after the "Gloria Patri" exclaimed three times in Japanese-"O how well it is with me!" And when his body was nearly consumed, he sang gloud five times "Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus," so that even the unbelievers were amazed at his indomitable courage. Augustine Ota, lay brother and catechist, was beheaded for the Faith. A few days before Father Camillus there died as martyrs Gaspar Cotenda, catechist, allied to the royal family, Francis Taquea, aged twelve years, and Peter Xequi, aged seven years.

NORTH AMERICAN MARTYRS September 26th

Even in a purely human way only the Church is able to give an enduring immortality. Less than three hundred years ago eight men went out to death in the wilds of New York and Canada to meet the fire brand and the tomahawk of the Indian, and today their names resound through Christendom as heroic examples of those who testified to their belief by the shedding of their blood. No more valiant history was ever written than that written by Jogues, Brebeuf, Lalemant, Garnier, Lalande, Daniel, Chabanel and Goupil. A more courageous band never faced the trial of martyrdom. The country which produced them, France, and the country which they sanctified by their blood, America, both rejoice that these brave men had climbed the rough heights of martyrdom, and were raised to the greater heights of sainthood. It would be impossible to give the details of the suffering of these valiant men. One had undergone a constant martrydom of four years. His fingers had been chewed or sawed off. He went back to his native land to gain a little rest so that, with renewed courage, he might return to face a greater penalty. His infirmity had prevented him from saying Mass until the knowledge reached the Pope, who in sending him a dispensation wrote, "It is not right that a martyr of Christ should not drink the blood of Christ." Even the savage Hurons, who did these men to death, could not withhold admiration for their courage. The heart of one was eaten that its virtues might abide in those who had partaken of it. The blood of Brebeuf was drunk for the Indians hoped, as they said, to be brave like him. Saints should not be compared. However, it is not trespassing this gentle injunction to say braver men never enriched the calendar of saints than these eight heroes who now become the common possession, not only of the Catholic world, but of mankind.

Our Parochial School Efficiency

"Efficiency" is the watchword of the hour. It is particularly desirable that we find efficiency in the schools which our children patronize, for their future success in life depends greatly on it.

Those who have not given the parochial school system sufficient study find it difficult to conceive that any church organization could compete successfully with our great public educational system, which has the backing not only of the largest portion of taxes gathered in every state, but the time and attention of an interested working organization in every county and township, city and village.

Facts, however, are before the American public, if they will only pay heed to them—facts which point to the excellent quality of education received in the Catholic parochial schools.

The Church's educational system in the United States, to say the least is marvelous, and in every diocese there is a Superintendent of Schools or a Board of Education. which, keeping in touch with the public school methods and practices, aims at setting just a little higher standard for the Catholic schools. It is due to this, and to the thoroughness with which all the branches are taught, that pupils of Catholic schools usually capture the first prizes in competitive tests.

From the day that our Divine Saviour addressed His parting words to the Church, "Go, teach," she has lent herself to popular education. Priests and nuns of the Catholic Church wrote the first school textbooks: they copied and recopied the sacred scriptures, and wrote books from which children for more than one thousand years received both their secular and religious training. She founded the greatest universities which exist today, including those of Oxford and Cambridge, Paris and Bologna, Farrara and Salamanca, Copenhagen and Prague.

The impression prevails among non-Catholics that several hours of each day are devoted to the teaching of religion in Catholic schools, and that, therefore, the children cannot receive sufficient instruction in other branches. This impression is false. One-half hour is the average amount of time devoted daily to Christian Doctrine-less time than is given to some fad in the public school curriculum. It is certainly poor logic which maintains that the secular education imparted in the Catholic schools must be less efficient because, in addition to it, the child receives instruction in the great truths of Christianity and in things which tend to train conscience and heart long with the mind.

Another thing which makes for efficiency in the Catholic schools is the lifelong dedication of the teacher to his or her work, and to the exalted motive which actuates the teacher—an eternal reward for "instructing others unto righteousness."

OUR UNSUNG HEROES

Often, in baseball games, the great heroes, Aren't the ones who make the runs. Even the football heroes aren't worthy of all the credit. The man may make a touchdown that saves the game and he gets all the credit.

But how seldom do the most important people on the team get the praise due to them. Surely without the quarterbacks and other such minor positions, the game would be lost. They take the bumps, and clear the field for their fellow team members. So I say to "our unsung heroes" should go just as much praise as to our popular ones.

My hobby is making different things out of peachstones. It is very interesting. First I gather as many peachstones as I can find. Then I separate the large from the small. I need many different kinds of knives to make the different holes in the stones. I spend most of my time during the summer making things. Most of all, I like to carve monkeys.

Last summer I found a glass case, which gave me an idea of making a church. So I gct busy and made church benches and an organ. Then I carved 26 monkeys of peachstones. They were to sit in the benches and two were to be the bride and groom. They stood in the aisle. At the front of the Church was the priest who was to marry them. I have made many other things and I find it a very interesting hobby.

BOOKLAND

One night while I was sitting in a cozy armchair, I looked toward my library full of very interesting books. I got up and took a look at them. There in a neat pile were: "Heidi, by Spyri, "Tom Sawyer" by Mark Twain, and the "Bobbsey Twins" in one of their series called the "Bobbsey Twins on the Deep Blue Sea." I took another glance and picked out "Tom Sawyer." He was such a mischievous boy.

As I sat down to read, I heard a little noise which sounded like someone tiptoeing. I looked up. There I saw a fairy. She smiled very kindly and handed me a pretty pair of pink and gold wings which were just like her own. She told me to follow her and soon we were high in the sky. At last, we landed in the land of books. It was a very queer place and funny little people were running this way and that.

The first place I saw was the home of Tom Sawyer and Aunt Polly was standing at the door seeing to it that poor Tom white-washed the fence properly. Next was a little house on the mountains of Bookland. A little girl was watching her grandfather putting the goats in the stable. It was Heidi, the little Swiss girl.

As I went through the little town, I saw the castle in which dwelt the Queen who had become Snow White's mother at her real mother's death. I also saw the home of the Seven Dwarfs. I peeped in and saw Snow White cleaning up the little house. I enjoyed this very much and was about to visit Mother Goose when I was shaken. I looked up and noticed during my dream I had fallen off the chair.

MY TREASURE CHEST

My body was formed from the lowly earth, but in it is the treasure chest of my salvation—my soul. Instead of filling my chest with the glories of this earth, I place in it the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ with all the graces which they bring to me, and then I cover my treasure chest with a mantle of prayer.

Sometimes my chest becomes dusty, but with a heart full of overwhelming sorrow and sincerity I wash my disfigured "Treasure Chest" with the cleansing water of Penance which covers it with a cloth of purity.

Sweet Hour of Prayer

Sweet Hour of Prayer when we may kneel before Thee, Christ, Our King, And at Thy Feet our troubles lay and our love to Thee bring; A King and subject Face to face! That is our privilege sweet When we approach Thy Loving Throne, and Heart to heart we meet;
Thy reign in Thy reign is one of Love, Dear King, no harshness marks Thy Ways, Thou select Thou askest men but for their hearts, to love Thee through all days; A King—and yet man's dearest Friend; a Heart that burns with Love, A Voice that begs Thy subjects come to dwell with Thee above;

Sweet Hour of Prayer when man may talk to God Who gave him life, And thank Times are when man may talk to God Who gave him life, And thank Him for His ceaseless care through days of earthly strife; When man may talk to God with a strife; When man are the control of the stripe; wants make known, When man may whisper to His God, and all his wants make known,
And know the And know that God doth hear each word, and loves him as His Own;
A God—and work form A God—and yet for love of man, He suffered Calvary's Death, Its Cross its a suffered Calvary marked His Dy Its Cross; its Nails; its Crown of Thorns—Love marked His Dying Breath;
A God Who hid. A God Who bids us come to Him in all our trials and care,
And find the And find the Peace that gently comes in each Sweet Hour of Prayer;

Sweet Hour of Prayer when Friend meets friend, and troubles all depart, And comfort sweets friend meets friend, and troubles all depart, And comfort sweet is brought to us from out our dear Friend's Heart; The faithful Friend's Heart who helps and never blames, The faithful Friend Who understands; Who helps and never blames, And lets us leave to the same; And lets us know, though all forget, His Love goes on the same;
A King a Cod A King, a God, a Friend in One! Who loves us to the end, And asks over a superior of the end, And asks our love not as our King, nor God but as our Friend; Through all are find in One! BLOCK COLLECTION

A Letter from Your Pastor

Dear Parishioner:

With the resumption of normal activities in the Parish after the summer, it is necessary in accordance with the regulations of our ecclesiastical superiors, that we make the annual Visitation of the Parish. The Fathers will inaugurate this Visitation at the beginning of October and I again bespeak for them a cordial welcome.

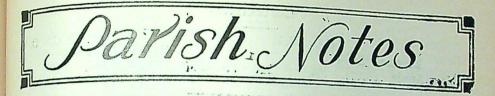

It is only by such a Visitation and intimate contact with the members of our Parish that we can obtain, as we are in conscience bound to, an idea of the spiritual life of our people. At this time, as you well know, it is customary to make a contribution to the Church as large as is consistent with one's means. We are definitely conscious of the difficulties and struggles of a number in our Parish during the past ten or eleven years, but we too face just as grave difficulties in our administration of this Parish. The Parish has behind it an enviable reputation for its generosity in times of stress and with our decreasing revenues and mounting expenses, we can do but little other than appeal to your generosity and leave the rest in God's hands.

Under the present trying circumstances, it is impossible to even consider reducing the debt on our Church. Whatever we receive in this annual collection must be applied to meet current experses. May I ask you then to be as generous as you have been in the past and even to make additional sacrifices to bring financial relief to your Parish.

For greater efficiency in expediting this work, I am enclosing an envelope in which your offering is to be enclosed and all the necessary information written clearly on the outside. It will help greatly if you will have the envelope ready for the priest when he calls.

May God bless you.

Devotedly in Our Lord, THOMAS J. LOVE, S.J., Pastor.

Boy Scouts

Scoutmasters Stone and Campbell are gradually getting the Troop into shape and hope by December to be able to put their Troop in competition with any other in the city. Already three Patrols have been formed and the Friday evening meetings are enlivened with handicraft tests and athletic games. Many, not content with the weekly meeting at the Scout Headquarters, are holding special meetings at the homes of Patrol leaders.

Contribution

To the making of a new Chalice, a wedding ring has been donated by Mrs. Annie Cadden.

Rosary Devotions

During October, the Rosary will be recited each evening at 8.00 P. M. In addition, the special prayer requested by our Holy Father the Pope to St. Joseph for the needs of the Church will be added, together with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. We urge a large attendance at these evening devotions and fervent prayers for the interests of the Church specially threatened during the present world crisis. Those who cannot be present should endeavor at least to recite the rosary daily during the month.

Fast and Abstinence

October 31st., the vigil of All saints day is a day of fasting and abstinence. The popular name of this day "Hallowe'en" means the Eve of All Hallows (All Saints) and far from being a day of revelry, it is a day of penance. It is however one of the fast days on which workingmen and their families may eat meat at the one full meal.

Catholics Excluded

A famous inscription with its amendment is recalled in a recent number of "Ave Maria."

The town of Bandon, in Ireland, was founded in 1602, as a protestant settlement by the first Earl of Cork. It was most probably some unofficial person who was responsible for this inscription on its walls:

Turk, Jew or Atheist May enter here-but no Papist. Ireland is the home of bards; and it was not long till the following curious couplet was found written under the lines just quoted:

Lift Your Hats

Of the many simple and beautiful professions of faith, expressions by which we openly declare our belief, such as the sprinkling of Holy Water, Sign of the Cross, rising to our feet at the reading of the Gospel, etc., what is more touching and inspiring than the lifting of their hats by men as they pass the church?

The very act is the recital of the Apostle's Creed — "I believe" — as plainly as if the words were spoken. Do our Parishioners fully realize the privilege which is theirs in making this simple and beautiful profession of Faith?

Holy Name Society

Every Man a Holy Name Man, Why?

Every man a Holy Name man that we may have a virle, enlightened lay apostolate able to give an account of the faith that is in us and willing to proclaim to an unbelieving world our unquestioned and unalloyed adherence to the divinity of Christ. Every man a Holy Name man that we may join with our fellow members throughout the United States in a great crusade against the profane use of the Name of Jesus, that we may set our faces against the growing evil of perjury in our courts of justice, that we may place the stamp of our disapproval on indecent plays and pictures and on salacious reading in books, newspapers and magazines, which are so poisonous to the plastic minds of our children.

Every man a Holy Name man that by the faithful practice of our religion we may perform a duty which faith and patriotism alike demand and profess our belief in the spiritual destiny of man and in the eternal destiny of the human soul.

We cannot as Holy Name men close our eyes to the fact that there is a growing tendency today to test every human relation by a purely human valuation. How beautifully is this expressed by G. K. Chesterton when he says: "That the spiritual sin of living as if no God had brought creation into existence, as if the moral law had no meaning to the soul of man, and, as if the beauty of the earth, the majesty of the Heavens and the unselfishness of perfect love are of secondary importance to commercial success and worldly satisfaction, is doing greater mischief than all the sins and crimes and iniquities of the body lumped together."

Every man a Holy Name man that we may stand up and be counted among those who are opposed to the false principles which are prevalent with regard to the marriage contract and the stability of the home.

Every man a Holy Name man, that we may fortify ourselves against the dangers to which we are exposed in our daily occupations, that we may, not so much by talking religion as by living up to it, give dignified and expressive manifestations that we are men of principle and that we practice what we preach.

Every man a Holy Name man, that by the worthy reception of the Sacraments once a month in a body we may give a worth-while example to our families and to our fellow parishioners and thus merit companionship with Him who says: "Where two or three are gathered together in My Name there I am in the midst of them."

Every man a Holy Name man that we may support and take advantage of a system of education which in addition to meeting recognized secular standards insists on the teaching of religion as a sine qua non in character building. This is the rich heritage which we should leave to our children so that they may become honest, honorable, lawabiding citizens whose patriotism will be founded upon staunch, robust, sterling, self-sacrificing moral character.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The Fall meetings of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association were resumed on Wednesday evening, September 4, at 8.30 P. M. in the High School building on Stiles Street. Reports of the Summer Party held in July were read and we wish to again assure all of our appreciation for their interest in making this affair the success that it was.

The question of more police protection in this vicinity was taken up and the matter we feel sure will receive the consideration that it deserves.

The time has now arrived for home owners to think of repairs and improvements that will make their homes more attractive and comfortable during the winter months. Our officers will be glad to assist those who wish to recondition their homes, but for some reasons may be unable to do so. Do what you can for the betterment of your neighborhood, as your efforts will stimulate others to fix up.

Dwellings that have been rehabilitated are better investments for rental or resale. They also add much to the appearance of a neighborhood. So try to maintain high standards for your neighborhood. If you know people who are looking for homes or apartments, tell them about the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association, as we may be able to tell them where to find just what they are looking for. Whether you are a tenant or owner, this Association is especially interested in you.

Our officers would be much encouraged if a more active interest were taken in the meetings. One neighbor cannot do the work for the whole block. Each one should share the responsibility. Come and bring a neighbor or friend to the next meeting and let us have your suggestions and ideas.

Cancelled Stamps—Thanks!

The Mission Stamp Exchange, Woodstock College, Woodstock College, Woodstock, Maryland, announces that, during the year, 1939, the sum of $2600 was realized from the sale of cancelled postage stamps. The proceeds were in the Jesuit Fathers laboring them in building and caring for the schools and churches so necessary for their work of spreading the Gospel of Christ. The Scholastics at the Stamp Exchange join the Missioners in thanking the parishioners of the Gesu Parish for their part in this good work. That part is by in this good work. That part is by its nature most important, for without stamps the work, obviously, would cease. The Scholastic also wish to urge all who can, to continue sending stamps and to send even more if possible. ALL kinds of postage stamps can be used by the Exchange. In preparing stamps for the Exchange tear or cut from the envelope so as to leave a margin of 1/4 to 1/2 an inch of paper around the stamp. Do not soak them off the paper as the stamps are then liable to be damaged in transit. Stamps on postal cards or envelopes dated before 1900 should be sent on the envelope or card. The best way to send stamps is by Parcel Post, third class if less than half a pound, fourth class if more than that. In case there is a large amount, say 50 pounds or more, it is cheaper to send them by freight.

The Missioners and the Scholasties have but one way of acknowledging their thanks for the wonderful co-operation manifested by their many friends and that is by their prayers. This year preceding the Feast of Christ the King, the last Sunday in October, there will be offered a Novena of Masses in honor of Christ the King and for the intentions of all who have co-operated with the work of the Exchange.

Rosary Beads for Men

Why should not every Catholic man carry his Beads? Surely he is not ashamed of them-or does he fancy that only the simple, or the ignorant who cannot read, take to the Rosary? Why, some of the greatest men of modern times have recited it with as much devotion as the simple old soul who kneels at our Lady's altar, in view of the congregation, and "goes the round of the Beads." St. Francis Xavier, St. Charles Borromeo, St. Vincent de Paul, the great Bossuet, Garcia Moreno, Leo XIII, were of the multitude of illustrious men who offered to the Mother of God this daily tribute of praise. St. Francis de Sales bound himself by vow to let no day pass without telling his Beads.

When Daniel O'Connell was carrying through Parliament, in face of terrific opposition, his gigantic scheme of Catholic Emancipation, he was often seen pacing the bank of the Thames, in the intervals between debates. "Getting your address together?" asked a friend who noticed him. "No," answered the Liberator, holding up his Beads, "I am asking the Mother of God to help us in our great work for the honor of her Son."

One day the famous composer, Joseph Haydn, found himself in a coterie of distinguished musicians. A question arose as to the best way of refreshing the mind after hard mental labor. "A glass of good wine for me," said one. "As for me," said another, "when ideas stop coming, I quit work and go into company." "And how it is with you, Haydn?" "I take my Rosary," he answered quietly. "I always carry it about me, and after a few decades I feel refreshed in body and mind."

Chevreul was a leader among the distinguished chemists of France. Even when far in years—he was a centenarian when he died—he had to make numerous journeys. He beguiled the long journeys with his Beads, and, when waiting at wayside stations, might be seen pacing the platform, Rosary in hand and oblivious of onlookers.

People, moving into or out of the Parish, should notify the Pastor.

Feasts of the Month

THE MONTH OF THE HOLY ROSARY

During the month of October the Church lays special emphasis on the efficacy of the Rosary as a means of honoring the Blessed Virgin Mary and obtaining from her Divine Son innumerable graces and blessings.

The Rosary is one of the most devotional forms of prayer and one adapted to the spiritual needs of every Catholic, no matter his position in life may be. No high degree of intelligence is required to understand its surpassing value, and the graces that flow from it are not measured by intellectual attainment or social worth; but by the depth and intensity of the love. that springs from the devout heart. of the Child of Mary. Rich and poor old and young, the learned and the ignorant-each in his own way and in a accordance with the capacity of his souls may experience the supernal delights which accrue to all who make proper use of this tribute of praise and prayer to God through His Virgin Mother.

During the month of October, Catholics should strive to honor in an especial manner the Blessed Virgin, by the devout daily recitation of the Rosary, or, as it is commonly called, the beads. Every Catholic ought to be familiar with this beautiful form of prayer and have recourse to it daily.

Each one should make the Rosary his constant companion by carrying it on his person and utilizing the spare moments of even the busiest day in thumbing his beads. The principal part of night prayers in every family should be the recitation of the beads before retiring. It scatters the mists of worldliness that tend to gather round the family hearth; it heals the wounds caused by loss of temper, uncharitableness, bickering; it brings peace to hearts agitated by the cares of daily life; it strenthens the ties of family affection; it feeds the flame of filial love: it tempers the severity of parental authority; it develops the spiritual life of the individual. and realizes in a measure the ideal of the Christian home made concrete in the Holy Family of Nazareth.

The recitation of the Rosary is a profession of faith in the fundamental mysteries of our Holy Religion. It recalls to mind the wisdom and power of the Father, Who planned the work of human Redemption; of God the Son Who in His own person bore the burden of the world's iniquities in order that this work might be rendered efficacious; of God the Holy Ghost whose abiding presence in the Church makes possible the continual application of healing grace to human souls.

It is a book of meditation wherein we pass in review the events connected with the earthly life of the Savior and the part which the Blessed Virgin plays in the economy of salvation. It traces the course of the maid of Israel through the mysteries of the Incarnation and childhood of Christ; His agony and death, His resurrection and ascension, and leads the mind to the very throne of Him Who crowned His Virgin Mother Queen of Angels and of men. No other form of prayer is so rich with the unction of grace; none is more easily said; none more productive of lasting benefit to the devout soul.

MONTH OF THE HOLY ANGELS

october besides being especially dedicated to the Blessed Virgin. Queen of the Holy Rosary, is also the month of the Holy Angels. In the second verse of the fifteenth nsalm we read, "for He hath given His Angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways." We have liberty to choose our own patron saints; our Guardian Angels have been chosen and appointed by God Himself. For this reason among many others the blessed spirits in whose charge we have been placed demand from us a constant and steady devotion. They are ours by divine appointment, these heavenly Ambassadors whose presence we are bound to respect. If the remembrance of them served only to increase our reverence for the unseen, its effect upon us would be of high value.

"Reverence, that angel of the World," as our greatest poet has called it, is in these days at a discount, so at any rate we are frequently told. Even those who are not on the side of the angels and who imagine that the world can be regenerated by the study of the physical sciences, assure us that an inordinate love of games and sports, of music halls and theatres, of trashy and frivolous papers and magalines, is banishing from the minds of the young and old that spirit of reverence and respect for authority upon which the welfare of every hation so largely depends. Irreverence is often the first step to unbelief; the consequences of unbelief are patent enough. Even those who believe, do not always sufficiently cultivate a spirit of reverence in their dealings with sacred personages and things. Yet a lack of reverence always means a weakening of faith; and where faith is weak, hope can never be strong, love can never be deep. Thus we see that irreverence tends to undermine a man's entire spiritual fabric.

Quite apart from the direct benefit our souls would be certain to receive from an increase of devotion to the Holy Angels, a more frequent recollection of and communication with these heavenly beings would undoubtedly win for us the spirit of reverence, and what is of such vital importance to every one of us, a great strengthening of our faith in the unseen. "The world is too much with every one of us.

THE TWO SAINTS TERESA OCTOBER 3 - OCTOBER 15

The Church's calendar for October is adorned with the names of two renowned Theresa's, St. Teresa of Avila, and St. Teresa of Lisieux, the great Spanish Mystic, and the Little Flower of Jesus. They are often playfully distinguished by big Teresa and little Teresa. In some minds there still lingers a suspicion that this epithet "little" involves a not of inferiority or of mild reproach. The older of the two saints is half unconsciously magnified into a real classical saint, measuring up to all the exacting canons of genuine holiness; such as heroic mortification, extraordinary prayer, visions and ecstasies, miracles and prodigies wrought by her personally during her lifetime. Little Teresa, on the contrary, by her own repeated confession, and according to the testimony of those who knew her best, walked along another path, her "little way," as she loved to call it. Hence, not a few persist in believing that she lived just an ordinary life, so ordinary, indeed, that it is but a pale imitation of the heroicity of real saints. Hence, too, they imagine that she is allowed to rank with the canonized heroes of God by a sort of concession, and not on her own merits.

The slightly deaf should Confess in the Rectory at 7.15 P. M.

Little Flower Triduum October 1, 2 and 3.

The judgment of the Church embodied in the canonization of Little Teresa should forever have dispelled such false appraisals. A canonization is never a mere honorary degree. It must have been rigorously deserved before the solemn papal pronouncement is issued. If Teresa of Lisieux bears the title of saint is is because the Church has infallibly vouched for the heroicity of her sanctity.

One reason why such ill-founded suspicions could arise in connection with the saintly Carmelite of Lisieux may be found in the fact that she herself so persistently advertised a new way of sanctity, her "little way." A little way may easily be interpreted to mean an easy way, a short cut to saintly greatness. Just as there are people forever scanning the educational maps to discover a short road to learning. so there are others willing enough to go in for sanctity if it can be done at little or no cost to themselves. Now as we decry a sinecure. slipshod education, so we might justly shrug our shoulders over a sanctity to be easily and comfortably attained. We have been taught that the saints are made of sterner stuff.

We need, however, have no misgivings about the new way of the Little Flower. It is not a comfortable, rosy ascent to the heights of sanctity. It is the old, old way of consistent, unrelenting self-denial, differing only in this, that it is practiced in a thousand minor details, and not in a few gigantic master-strokes that startle and fill us with dismay. And there precisely lies the peculiar message of the little way for us: it has power and charm to attract us to a way of living which has been proved, in the canonized Carmelite of Lisieux, to lead to heroic sanctity.—Exchange.

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI OCTOBER 4

The life of St. Francis of Assisi proves (if it proves anything) the importance of being over doing, or of character over mere achievement. Indubitably Francis has influenced the world. The effect of his touch is plainly visible upon the face of the earth. We can still feel his gentle sway over us wafted down the centuries like a breeze at evening. Yet he was a man of few, if any, achievements. True, he founded an Order which persists to our very day, but what is this as men weigh deeds? A handful of brown-robed men going their silent prayerful way over the roadways of life, a few austere monasteries raising their unwordly spires heavenward in city, town or hamletwhat are these in a world of rush and turmoil where the clang of arms and the clink of coins alone is music and of weight and value? No, Francis' greatness was almost wholly within. He was a great man rather than a great performer. He neither painted nor carved nor Wrote-unless it be in the white marble deeps of his pure soul. Yet the world has been bettered for his living in it. More easily and with less hurt to the great soul of mankind could the frecoes of St. Peter's in Rome or the pale perfect marbles of Florence and Venice have been left undone than the life of Francis of Assisi been left unlived. Francis bettered the world because he himself was good. Nobility of heart and mind flowered under his touch because he himself was noble. Virtue flowed from him wherever he went because it bubbled and danced and overflowed within his own soul. Francis gave the world a touch of humanity, a gaiety, a sweetness of spirit that it needed sadly because he himself abounded in humanity, gaiety and sweetness as only a man can who carries God in his heart of hearts.

CHRIST THE KING OCTOBER 27TH

In the month of June, 1914, the British Journalists gave a banquet to the editors of the German Newspapers. Lord Burnham presided at the occasion and delivered an eloquent speech, stressing the unbreakable ties of friendship between the two peoples. There followed talks on the "mutual superiority" of the two peoples; there was admiration for German character, science, art and social progress; their was admiration for English life, beauty and literature. Lengthy handshaking, generous drinking of toasts were all in order. It is probable that both parties went back to work, each thinking that it had furthered the interests of its sovereign and hoodwinked the other. Sixty days later came memorable August of 1914 and war.

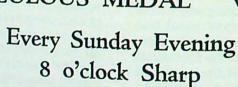

August of 1914 and war.

In the course of the war, people became suspicious of sovereigns and thrones that had to be served in this way. Along with this suspicion arose a fierce nationalism which at the end of the war was hardier and ranker than it had ever been before. Distrust among nations and distrust in the leaders of nations grew. The aims of sovereigns and world leaders were felt to be far less noble and inspiring than they were made to appear in print. Men were looking for a leader, a sovereign whom they might serve · whole-heartedly and to advantage.

The Church, conscious that the world was sore in need of such a leader, one who could step over national boundaries and unite the world once more, instituted the Feast of Christ the King. This feast she celebrates on Sunday, October 27. It was founded to emphasize the sovereignty of Christ and to bring back to Him those subjects who had lost their their allegiance to Him.

There was a necessity, in the midst of the militant, nationalistic spirit that had sprouted up everywhere and of the distrust people were showing towards sovereigns and leaders, of bringing people to realize that there is only one antidote for such a spirit and its devas-

One may, in philosophical moments, think of kingship as an outworn institution. Our democratic soul may shrink from the idea of Kingship. Yet something of the old romance of the word "king". something of its warmth and color. something of that code of chivalry and knighthood by which a true king was dedicated to the service of his peoples, still stirs the most prosaic mind. And to describe Christ as the leader of the world, the supreme sovereign before every knee should bend, the word king is possibly the most apt and beautiful we

on the Isle of Majorca, off the coast of Spain, an old brother. named Alphonsus Rodriguez, who was the porter of the Jesuit College. became an intimate friend of a young scholastic, Peter Claver. They used to spend many a recreation hour together; and the old brother told the young man of the dreams which he had of winning souls in far distant countries. In these hours of holy conversation, Peter Claver was inspired to do the tremendous work for which he is now famous in the Catholic Church. Peter Claver became "the Saint of the Slaves," the Apostle of the Negroes. For forty years he labored for them in Cartagena, in South America, the port at which the slave ships used to dock at the end of their dread voyages from Africa. To many of these wrecks of humanity Peter Claver was an angel of mercy, inspired ever, through long years as slave of the slaves, by the Brother of Majorca.

Both are saints now, brother and priest. Both have share now in the work which they planned together.

So it has ever been in the Society of Jesus; priest and brother work together hand in hand for the salvation of souls, one directly, the other indirectly. Both are indispensable.

THE GUARDIAN ANGEL

When we were first born into the world, God gave us someone to protect and guide us during life. No matter where we are or what temptation, we have our Guardian Angel who tries to keep us from committing that sin. We are the little lambs of God and He put an angel as our shepherd to keep us from straying too far away from the path of goodness. If we pray to our Guardian Angel in the morning, when we get up he will help us to perform all the tasks of the day. When we hurt God, our Guardian Angel goes away and weeps While the devil laughs that he has Succeeded. Great honor and glory should be paid to our Guardian Angel whose feast is October 2nd.

Ann Marie Maginn, Seventh Grade.

The feast of a very great Saint takes place on the 17th of October. This is that of Saint Margaret Mary. It was through her that we learned the devotion of the nine first Fridays in honor of the Sacred Heart. 'Twas when she was a young nun that the Sacred Heart appeared to her. She was in the chapel praying when she saw a very bright vision of the Sacred Heart. He told of the "Twelve Graces" that would be granted to anyone who would receive "Communion" on the nine first Fridays. Margaret Mary went and told the Mother Superior of what she saw. The Sister said that she was only imagining things and that it was impossible for her to receive "Communion" for nine first Fridays, but Margaret Mary just kept praying. Then one day she saw the vision again. This time Jesus told her to tell a Jesuit priest. This she did and the priest believed her. From then on people showed their devotion to the Sacred Heart by receiving Holy Communion on the nine first Fridays. Doris Teresa Creedon, Seventh Grade.

Forget Us Not in Death

0, You, who loved us well in life, forget us not in death, Let not the love you bore us once, cease with our dying breath; But let it go beyond the grave, a love enriched by prayer, To plead with Christ to let our souls the joys of heaven share; Have pity on us, you, our friends, to you we now must turn, For end of absence from Christ's Side, for quenching flames that burn; For death takes from each soul the chance for its own cause to pray, Yet there remains the guilt of sin, the punishment to pay;

To be so near, and yet so far, from Christ's dear Heart and Home, To see Him not, nor hear His Voice—such joys by blessed souls known; To be deprived of Heaven's Queen, God's Mother and our own, Who hovered near us all through life to lead us safely Home; To miss the company of God's Saints, and friends who with them live, To have our souls with burning yearn that Christ our sins forgive; Beyond the Beyond the torture of the flames, a pain that hurts much more, is not to see the Face of Christ, and Love for us It bore;

Have pity on us, you, our friends, forget us not, we pray. But breathe our names at Mass, in prayer, in things you do each day; Quite helpland Quite helpless now to aid ourselves, we still can pray for you, and ask of the still can be stil And ask God's blessing on your lives, on all you think and do; Your prove Your prayers for us, our prayers for you, will bind us close and fast, and keep over the control of the control And keep our love alive and sweet until life's days are past; Then in the Home God has prepared for those who love Him best, Our souls shall live forever then in sweet eternal rest. WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Let your prayers speed poor souls to home in heaven.

THE HOLY SOULS

One of the most sublime and consoling beliefs of our Faith is that we may pray for our dead. According to the doctrine of the Communion of Saints all the faithful are one whether they exist in heaven or purgatory or on earth. On that principle, just as we pray for one another here on earth, so the members of this broader Communion may be mutually helpful by means of their prayers. The Saints in heaven do not need help but they can help us as we also can help the souls in purgatory.

It is a striking fact that with the exception of the various protestant bodies, all religions have admitted such a state as purgatory and have held to a belief in the efficacy of prayers for the dead. One might say that this is belief in life after death.

It is most reasonable to suppose that there are some who, on their departure from this earth, are not guilty enough to be condemned forever and yet are not perfect enough to be allowed to see the face of God immediately. Such need to be purified through a process of penance and cleansing. Through our spiritual kinship with these we can help them by our prayers for God's mercy.

What is more consoling to us than the thought that we may pray for the dead? When death comes and deprives us of one that we love, when the sorrow of loss besets our heart, when we consign the body of our loved one to the grave, our distressed soul asks the question: Is that all? Our heart answers: NO. And the Catholic Faith answers, No.

The month of November is especially devoted to the Holy Souls. While the duty and the privilege of praying for them is one that always calls to us, it is emphasized at this particular time of the year. The souls of the departed cry out to us.

We recall the request of a dying saint made of another saint. That request is recorded in the ninth book of the Confessions of St. Augustine. His beloved mother, St. Monica, was about to die. She with her son, was at a villa near the mouth of the Tiber. He regretted that she should have to die so far from her native land, that land where her husband was buried and where her son had been born. But, in holy faith, she replied: "I care not where this body may be placed, but one thing I ask of you, whenever you go to the altar of God that you remember to pray for the repose of my soul."

Augustine fulfilled this request. He did more. He begged that everyone who should read his book should likewise pray for his mother.

Such is the true Catholic spirit. Such is the true Catholic Faith. Such is the sentiment of the oft repeated prayer of the Church "May the Church. "May the souls of the faithful departed rest in peace."

the throne of God.

The Holy Souls Triduum

The Holy Souls Triduum will begin October 31st and end on November 2nd, the feast of the Holy Souls. The devotions will be held each evening at 8.00 P. M. If our devotion to the Holy Souls is not as fervent as it should be, we will find the reason to be, in all probability, that we have allowed our faith to grow cold in the great dogmas on which this devotion is founded.

Devotedness to the Holy Souls comes natural to all of us. It is in keeping with the craving of the human heart in its longing to provide for the welfare of those we love even though they are separted from us by the grave. Our love for our dead fails in this, the true test of affection, only when we are unmindful of the needs of our dead and the means we have at hand to assist them.

The Triduum is a most fitting time to reanimate our devotion to our departed loved ones. The instructions will bring back to our minds how much they need us, how much and how easily we may befriend them. Our affection should and will respond; a renewed and increased love for the Holy Souls will be the result.

The Weekly Envelopes

In the matter of Church support we should all strive to be fair and generous. It is not FAIR to shirk the burden of Church and School expenses as though this were something that pertained to SOME and not to ALL the members of the parish. There will always be a deficit in Church receipts where this UN-FAIR condition exists. SOME members of the parish cannot bear ALL the burden of expense even though they are generous. Most, if not all, the difficulties of parish finances would disappear if ALL the members gave a FAIR share.

We cannot all give an equal amount. That is not expected. But we can all give our FAIR share. The amount we give can be determined only by the individual. Individuals earning equal wages may have very unequal obligations. One may earn ten dollars and have only himself to support; another may earn ten dollars with which he must support a wife and family.

There are one or two rules in Church Support which apply to all of us. To be FAIR in Church Support we should not contribute only when we have something left after we have supplied all our needs, conveniences, comforts or luxuries. We should try to put our duty towards our Church on at least an equal footing with our other obligations.

To be GENEROUS in our Church Support is to give what we might otherwise have used for our convenience or comfort. Generosity always means sacrifice. When we deliberately deprive curselves of some thing, we are GENEROUS.

To be FAIR and GENEROUS CONSTANTLY requires a realization of our duty and the motives which urge fidelity to this duty.

The dead wait on our prayers and suffrages.

Thursday Socials

While the attendance at the Thursday night Socials is not discouraging observers have pointed out the surprising fact that about eighty percent of those who attend are non-parishioners. This is all the more perplexing since we yielded with not a little reluctance to the constant requests of young parishioners to hold such socials. Is this because our youth are so fickle that they fail to appreciate the work of their parish promoters? Or that they are snobbish enough to believe that no good can come from their own Nazareth? Or because they do not feel free enough to cut capers like prodigals in a strange land? Whatever the reasons, no matter how embarrassing, they should be brushed aside like bad dreams. Loyalty demands that we give our own parish affairs generous support.

Beginning this month, to help defray the tuition expenses of our Diocesan High School students, we are canvassing for weekly subscribers to the High School Fund. The usual donation will be ten cents and will entitle the donor to share in four cash awards amounting to fifty dollars. The names of the lucky donors will be announced each Thursday during the motion picture entertainment. This is an easy method to support the students in High School and at the same time will put a little extra cash in the pockets of fortunate contributors to the Fund. Anyone of the High School Students will receive your subscription and issue official receipts. Duplicate receipts must be returned not later than seven o'clock each Thursday.

The Gesu Alumnae

At the regular third Sunday meeting of the Alumnae in the Parochial School assembly room, the new officers were announced as follows:

President:

Miss Gertrude McLaughlin

Vice-president:

Miss Anne Scherer

Treasurer:

Miss Catherine Coogan

Secretary:

Miss Mary Boyle

After a short address of welcome by the chairman, Miss Anne O'Donnell, the program for future monthly meetings was cutlined as follows. The Sodality exercises will be held in the basement chapel and will consist of the recitation of the Office of the Blessed Virgin, an appropriate talk by the Rev. Director, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. In the School Hall, Business Meeting, Social and Games. Committees were appointed to take charge of these various activities.

The Alumnae rooms are open on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday evenings. Socials will be held bi-weekly on Wednesday evenings. Basketball every Friday.

The large attendance and the enthusiasm of all present encourages the hope of a 100% attendance every 3rd Sunday.

Gesu Young Men's Sodality

Our New Moderator

On September 27th the "Gesu Young Men's Sodality" formally greeted their new Moderator, Rev. Dominic Cirigliano, S.J. Almost every member of the Sodality was present at the occasion. They were pleased to learn that Father Cirigliano (more familiarly known as Father Ciri.) was not altogether a stranger in the parish. He taught in St. Joseph's High School for five years, (1909 to 1914) when Father Charles Lyons, of happy memory, was Rector, and since then he directed boys and young men's clubs for over twenty years in New York City.

The new Moderator told the young men how embarrassed he felt to succeed their former popular Director, Father Kines, S.J., but that he would do all in his power to keep up the old traditions as well as to make the Young Men's Sodality one of the finest group of young men, known throughout the city for their deep spirituality, cordial sociability, and loyal, Catholic citizentry.

Single Women's Sodality

The Single Women's Sodality has enjoyed a most successful year with a decided increase in membership.

Throughout the year, many enjoyable social gatherings were held, at which the members played games, and refreshments were served by the Entertainment Committee. The Sodality closed on the Fourth Sunday in May, with its Fifth Annual Communion Breakfast, at which we were much honored by the presence of four Jesuits, including Reverend Father Rector.

Meetings were resumed in September with a new Director in charge, Reverend Atlee F. X. Devereux, who is already planning the year's activities Among the first, is a series of three illustrated lectures, which Reverend Father Ciri has graciously arranged to give us, and to which all the Sodalists and their friends are invited. The first one will be on October 22nd in the High School Library.

The Single Women's Sodality is one of the outstanding organizations of the Church of the Gesu. Why don't all the single women of the parish, who are not members, join now, and prove to the Blessed Mother that they are truly Children of Mary.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held on Wednesday evening, September 30th, in the High School Building, on Stiles Street.

Among the various subjects discussed was the question of unsafe street crossings. An effort has been made by this Association to have remedies effected that will assure the pedestrian of safety at street crossings at all times.

We again remind our members of the need of united support for this Association. We could accomplish much more if our tenants and owners appreciated the efforts that are being made in their behalf and attented our meetings. There are many advantages in this neighborhood: Churches, Schools, Hospitals and Stores. In addition, every part of the City can be easily reached by the transportation facilities available. It is our desire to have a strong Association so that we will be able to accomplish our objectives. Therefore, we urge the importance of increased attendance at our meetings.

We try to make these meetings interesting and informative and the suggestions of our members are solicited and appreciated, as matters pertaining to all neighborhoods are given careful consideration.

If you have not already joined the Gesu Parish Improvement Association, do so NOW. Dues $1.00 per year.

Gesu Boy Scouts

At the regular Friday meetings of the Troop Scouts are applying themselves studiously to the customary tests required for advancement in grade. Most of the new members have already passed the Tenderfoot tests and not a few are extending themselves to qualify as first class scouts. After the study periods and routine tests, jamborees are enjoyeyd in the old gym. The Troop owes a deep debt of gratitude to Messrs. Stone and Campbell who have sacrified time and energy like true Scouts to keep enthusiasm at a high pitch. Lately these scoutmasters have been assisted by Troop Leaders of St. Ludwig's Parish. Only one thing is lacking to the Troop. Parishioners are Woefully indifferent to this phase of youth training. To date, no leader has been found in any of the Parish Societies to carry on the excellent work laid down by energetic and enthusiastic leaders from other Parishes. Yet this is our own peculiar job which we ourselves can and should carry out.

To those Boys who have not yet reached the age of sixteen years, we whisper a tip: Join up now while a few vacancies remain in the troop!

Realizing that the paramount need in national defense is the strengthening and invigorating of Democracy, the Troop proposes to cooperate with the national movement and further this aim by programs of activity and education. As Americans, the Scouts solemnly pledge themselves:

To join wholeheartedly and with personal sacrifice in strengthening the work of Scout organizations and of other civic and social activities in their own community, state and nation.

To be vigilant and courageous in maintaining human sympathy and respect for the rights of others.

To beware of the enemies of democracy, whatever their passwords or places of birth, and wherever they may be found.

To keep the nation strong in valor, and confident in freedom, so that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.

Gesu Girl Scouts

With a full troop, the Gesu Girl Scouts have resumed their weekly meetings. Every place has been filled and no applications for membership will be considered until further notice.

This year the troop has been formed into new patrols the girls being divided according to age. Patrol leaders elected are Joan Rodenbaugh, Margaretta O'Donnell, Margaret Wade and Edna Green.

During the summer the scouts painted the rooms and the furniture. A new coat of maroon paint has improved the floor and the walls are done in pale green with a pale blue ceiling

Courses in home-making, cooking, first-aid and music have been added to our regular schedule and many other interesting things are being planned for the girls this year.

On the last Sunday in October, a district "Scouts Own" will be held in Fairmount Park in honor of Juliette Low, foundress of the Girl Scouts of America. Our troop will attend.

Edna M. Green, Girl Scout Scribe.

Irish Night

"KATHLEEN", that beautiful Irish motion picture will be shown in St. Joseph's Auditorium, Seventeenth and Stiles Streets on Friday evening, November 15. As an added attraction, there will be a stage show featuring steller performers well known in Irish circles throughout Philadelphia, such as Nan O'Connell, Ann O'Kane, Tony Ryan, Owen Gibbons, ranking singers of popular Irish songs; native Irish dancers, such as the Boyle Sisters, Dennis Cunningham, Pete Gallan and others. Will Regan, who conducts Irish radio programs over station W H A T every Wednesday and Sunday evenings will be present as Master of Ceremonies. Jack Scanlon will do the directing. Both picture and stage show rate high as excellent entertainment. A miss will mean regrets. One performance only—positively! Resolve NOW—It's a date, and a good one—November 15. Convenience

Despite frequent notices that the hard-of-hearing should confess in the Rectory, some still persist in broadcasting their deafness to the pious penitents in the Church. The hard-of-hearing are herewith again advised to come to the Rectory fifteen minutes before scheduled church time to confess in a manner satisfactory both to themselves and the Confessor.

Thanksgiving Day, November 28

Thanksgiving Day is one of the few holidays observed by all the states although since last year all states do not observe the same day. It is a popular holiday, celebrated everywhere with feasting and merriment. This is quite in contrast with its beginning, for it was first observed as a day of fasting and prayer. The custom of setting aside a day for public thanksgiving to God for the benefits He had bestowed, began among the early colonists. During the War of the Revolution, Congress several times ordered a special day of thanks to God, and in 1789, after the adoption of the Constitution, President Washington proclaimed a day of national thanksgiving. Although the custom was followed at intervals by succeeding Presidents, it was not until the administration of Abraham Lincoln that the day began to be observed regularly. In his proclamation of 1863 and 1864 he suggested the observance of a fixed day each year. From that time, until 1939 when President Roosevelt saw fit to proclaim a change of days, the last Thursday of the month of November was annually appointed as the day for public expression of gratitude to God.

Whether November 21 as proclaimed by the President or November 28, the customary date as set by the State of Pennsylvania, in the observance of Thanksgiving Day the Catholic citizen concurs. He recognizes the obligation of returning thanks to God by public ceremonies as well as in private prayer. The Catholic recalls the frequent Scriptural denunciations of ingratitude and forgetfulness of God. When at Mass, he is reminded by the words of the Preface, "It is truly meet and just, right and salutary, that we should always and in all places give thanks to Thee, Holy Lord, Almighty Father, Eternal God." That this duty may receive its proper recognition it is eminently fitting that a day be set aside in our civic calendar.

The Catholic should give thanks:

- 1. To GOD for HIMSELF by attendance at Mass and reception of the EUCHARIST (Thanksgiving Feast).
- 2. To GOD for our FREE COUN-TRY-by prayer and Mass on Thanksgiving Day and every day of the year for the safety, prosperity and progress of the nation.

3. To GOD for TEMPORAL FAV-ORS-by sharing his goods with the poor through the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

4. To his SPIRITUAL BENEFAC-TORS, the Reverend Pastor and his assistant Fathers, by aiding them in their good works by contributing his share according to his means when called upon to help toward the support of the Church -by co-operating in every way to help lighten their burden for the welfare of the Parish.

5. To the DEAD for their charity in life-have Masses said for deceased relatives and friends.

Jesuit Purgatorial Society

"Lay this body anywhere, let not the care for it in any way disquiet you; this only I ask, that you remember me at the Lord's altar wherever you be."

This is what St. Monica said to her son, St. Augustine. Now would it be too much of a strain on your faith to believe that the same appeal could be made to you by some dear departed relative or friend? And how can you best answer this cry for help? Is it not through the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass?

The greatest favor a priest can show you, next to offering the Sacrifice for you, is to make a memento of you in the Mass. It is an honor and a great spiritual advantage to be named officially in the Holy Mysteries. It is like making a special presentation of you and of your necessities to Our Dear Lord and to the adorable Trinity.

When deceased friends and relatives are enrolled in the "JESUIT SEMINARY FUND" they receive all the spiritual benefits of the PUR-GATORIAL SOCIETY, which is an organization to help the Souls in Purgatory, to give relief to them from the temporal punishment which they suffer for sins committed on earth. The specific benefits are:

1. A share in the prayers and good works of all Jesuits.

2. Intention in 160 daily Masses, 57,600 a year; 598 daily Communions, 215,280 yearly.

3. Unbroken chain of first intention Masses.

4 A novena of Masses each month. The usual offering for one year's membership is $1.00; for perpetual membership for the deceased $25.00.

Plenary Indulgence

From noon of the feast of ALL SAINTS until midnight of the feast of ALL SOULS, a plenary indulgence, applicable to the souls in Purgatory may be gained as often as one visits a Church—toties quoties—provided one has gone to Confession and Holy Communion. At each visit the "Our Father", "Hail Mary", and "Glory be to the Father" must be recited six times for the intention of our Holy Father, the Pope.

Feasts of the Month

FEASTS OF THE MONTH ALL SAINTS—NOVEMBER FIRST

Thirteen hundred and twentyeight years ago, Pope St. Boniface IV, dedicated the Pantheon at Rome to Our Blessed Lady and all holy martyrs. At the beginning of the fifth century the feast of ALL HOLY MARTYRS was celebrated at Rome, but shortly after the dedication of the Pantheon, it appears to have been changed to commemorate all the Saints of God. By the end of the seventh century, the feast had spread throughout Europe, and so on November the first, Catholics everywhere take part in one of the oldest commemorations of the Saints.

The number of these blessed ones is known to God alone. But the lesson, read at the Mass for the day, taken from the seventh chapter of the Apocalypse, shows that St. John saw them as "a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations and tribes and peoples and tongues." In our darker moments, we are wont to look upon these days as extremely evil, and certainly they seem to be marked by a conspiracy against Almighty God. Still we have only to look at our churches, our schools, and our religious institutes, to feel convinced that if there are many sinners today, there are also many saints. Indeed, among that great multitude now before God's throne, it is highly probable that there are some, perhaps many, whom we have known, men and women who in the midst of many difficulties loyally followed Christ.

Were heaven to be won by our own efforts, we might despair, for the way is long and dark, and enemies lie in wait for us. But we do not walk alone on this journey to heaven, our home. The Saints who have preceded us make intercession for us; Mary, our Mother awaits us; and at our side, as we turn our faces to the celestial city, is the Saint of Saints, Jesus, our Brother and our Redeemer.

ALL SOULS—NOMEMBER 2

Each year on November 2, the Church celebrates the Mass of All the Faithful Departed. All Souls' Day, as it is called, is the Memorial Day in the calendar of the Church, the day on which she commemorates in a special manner the souls of her departed children. On this day, Her Priests may celebrate three Masses, a privilege extended

Registered Girard Restaurant Phones Toasted Sandwich Shop JOHN A. McVEIGH Special Sunday Chicken Dinner, Plumbing and Heating 50c Half Price for Children 1823 RIDGE AVENUE SERVICE , 919 N. 18th St. AND QUALITY at Ridge Ave. Phila., Pa. We Have No Colored Trade at only one other time in the entire year, on Christmas Day. With all the priests throughout the world celebrating three Masses on this day for this one intention, what a chorus of prayer, of petition for mercy must ascend to the throne of God! How the supplication of His children must move Him to pity for the Poor Souls suffering in Purgatory.

The last stanza of the Sequence, "Dies irae, dies illa," recited just after the Epistle by the celebrant of the Mass sums up most succinctly the tenor of the whole Mass for this feast:

Huic ergo parce, Deus:
Pie Jesu, Domine,
Dona eis requiem. Amen
Which may be translated:

Wherefore, God, spare men: and do Thou,

Sweet Lord Jesus give them rest. Amen.

Surely it would be hard to find the plea of the Catholic world better expressed than we have it in this simple Latin verse. The wherefore directs our attention to the preceding verses, in which are recounted the sorrow and contrition of men for their sins and their cries for mercy. The very word "wherefore" is a means used by the author, one Thomas of Celano, a Franciscan Monk of the thirteenth century, to catch the attention, if the expression may be used, of Him to Whom it is addressed: since it, humanly speaking, compels Him to recall all that has gone before. Then he addressed by His great name, the name that He alone can rightfully claim—GOD. There follows the petition, "spare men," both living and dead, but here especially of course, the dead. Spare them. O God, have mercy on them.

Then comes the invocation to the great Mediator of the human race:

Sweet Lord Jesus. Surely such an address rising from the hearts of the thousands of His Priests, cannot but dispose the Sacred Heart to heed the prayer that follows. "Sweet Lord Jesus, give them rest." Therein is contained the whole substance of our cry. Give them rest, Lord Jesus! Thou hast saved them by Thy Blood from death eternal; call them now by Thy Blood to life eternal.

We too, may address this prayer on All Souls' Day and throughout the month of November to Almighty God; we may raise our hearts on high, begging for our departed brethren light, life eternal in the heavenly Jerusalem, through the same Christ Our Lord. Amen.

SAINTS OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS—NOVEMBER 6

This year the Society of Jesus celebrates its four hundredth birthday. During four centuries it has labored for the greater glory of God. Four hundred years of labor in the cause of Christ. Four hundred years of spiritual warfare without counting the cost. Four hundred years of persecution. Four hundred years of martyrdom. Four hundred years of ministering to the sick in hospitals, to lepers on lonely islands, to the poor in slums to slaves in hovels, to soldiers on the battlefield. Four hundred years of heroic patience in the class room. Four hundred years of defending the truth, with the pen, the spoken word and with blood. Four hundred years has produced saints who shed lustre on every grade of the Society, priest, scholastic and brother. These we honor on November 6. A plenary Indulgence on fulfillment of the usual conditions, may be gained on this day, by visiting a Jesuit Church.

ST. STANISLAUS— NOVEMBER 13 A SAINT AT SEVENTEEN

Wisdom is usually associated with gray hairs and mature years. It is defined by Plato as a "knowledge not of facts but of values;" and what are values but "facts apprehended in their relation to each other, to man" and to God? But this knowledge of values, this appreciation of the proper place of creatures in the plan of divine Providence, is, for most men, a lesson of long and bitter experience. Youth, its vision blinded by a too great proximity to the dazzling beauty of earthly splendor to which it is as yet unaccustomed, sadly concludes that the enjoyment of this vision of loveliness is the chief object of its existence. As man advances in age his horizon becomes broader, his vision clearer and stronger. Year by year is strengthened that ever-growing conviction that the eye is not filled with seeing nor the ear with hearing nor the heart with loving nor the hand with holding the things of this material universe. He learns that their show of magnificence is but a reflected glory—a manifestation of that uncreated Beauty, unchangeable and eternal, ever ancient and ever new. He approaches nearer and nearer that standard of perfection which is the natural consequence of an adequate knowledge of values. Hence sanctity, which is the highest degree of wisdom, is most often a plant of slow, maturing growth.

But this rule, as all others, has its brilliant exceptions, one of which is St. Stanislaus Kostka, the saint of seventeen, whose feast was celebrated on the thirteenth of this month. He was born the scion of a noble Polish family and wealth and honor smiled upon his youth. But not for him the empty vanity of the courts or the "bubble reputation," sought "even in the cannon's mouth" "Ad majora natus sum," "I was born for greater things," was his motto. Hearing the call of grace at a tender age, he applied for admission to the novitiate of the Society of Jesus in his own city. Nothing daunted, he began on foot a journey of some two thousand miles to Rome, where his perseverance was rewarded. He was received into the Jesuit novitiate and, after nine months of a most happy and edifying life there, he died, a saint at seventeen. In the Mass for his feast, the Church applies to the boy Stanislaus these significant words: "consummatus in brevi, explevit tempora nulta," "being soon made perfect, he fulfilled in a short space a long period of time." In other words, the lessons which it has taken most men a lifetime of bitter experience to learn, this youth had thoroughly mastered on the very threshold of life. His knowledge of the "value" of created things was most perfect at the age when most youths are but beginning to realize the reality of their existence.

To wisdom, then, as to knowledge, there are two paths, that of the safe guidance of learned and experienced instructors and that of long and often bitter personal experience. Experience itself has proven that the former is the shorter and surer course. What folly would it be for a man to sneer at the wealth of lore that has been bequeathed to us by the master minds of past ages and to set out to re-learn these truths for himself during his short lifetime. And yet do we not frequently neglect the inspirations of the Spirit of Infinite Wisdom, in our souls, those divine truths the value of which we realize only too well after years of sad experience. The boy Stanislaus chose the better part and has become a model for all future generations. Let us profit by his example.

—Т. F. D.

THE PRESENTATION— NOVEMBER 21

An interesting feast of the Blessed Virgin occurs on Thursday, November 21, recalling the day when Our Blessed Mother, then only a very little girl, was brought to the church by her own mother and there presented to God. This feast is dear to the Jesuits because it was through their learned researches that it was saved from being erased from the Calendar of Church festivals. At the tender age of three years, Mary was, according to a vow made by her parents, consecrated by them to the Service of the Temple. On this day, Saints Joachim and Anna presented their treasure, the beautiful Mary, to the service of God. Parents of our day can learn beautiful lessons from this feast.

A great deal of fuss is made in our day about the wonderful progress achieved by women in higher education. It would seem that before our time, women had never achieved aught of fame or honor in the educational line.

Catharine came in the world some sixteen centuries ago. To a beautiful countenance she joined simple piety and most wonderful learning. All the philosophy then known was hers—she was mistress of several tongues. She was brave beyond her years, since she boldly accosted the Pagan Emperor Maximinus, rebuked him for his cruelty to the Christians and proved to him that the Christian religion was the only true one. Surprised at the audacity of the young virgin, he had her cast into prison. Then, sending for the wisest and most learned of the land, she was brought before these Pagan solons and the outcome was but discomfiture for the Emperor and his wise men. In fact, by her arguments she converted most of them to the faith. Even the empress and her daughter became her disciples. She was finally tortured and put to death by the Emperor.

ST. JOHN BERCHMANS— NOVEMBER 26

John Berchmans, born at the beginning of the seventeenth century, lived like ourselves in an eventful era. Men like Henry XIII, Bacon, Spenser and Shakespeare had sought and found success in war, in literature, in science, and in politics. But none of these was to be the path which Berchmans chose. Not for him the glory of the court, the martial air of soldiers, the reputation of the statesman, nor the renown of the literateur. His was a path of sanctity strewn with the little details of common life, the life of a simple Jesuit scholastic. His field of activity never reached beyond the limit of his immediate associates; yet he found in the daily routine sufficient opportunities for his personal sanctification. His motto was: "It is not what I do, but how well I can do it." His frequent saying was: "My greatest mortification is in the common life."

Devotion to an ideal, for him the ideal of the commonplace, has placed St. John Berchmans on the pinnacle of sanctity from which today he preaches to the world by the eloquence of his example. In this youthful hero, we have a model, not only for those who find their lives running in channels parallel to his, or whose ideals are coincident with his own, but for all whose lives are an unending sequence of noble aims and standards. Berchmans became a saint by sanctifying the common life; so can we. -John J. Divine.

OUR LADY'S PRESENTATION

The child Mary, walking up the steps of the Temple with her mother and father, was very picturesque in her simple white dress over which she had a blue cloak. She was very pretty although she was but three years old. She looked as fresh as the freshest of flowers. Her hands were clasped in her mother's and father's while she walked gracefully up the long flight of steps. Her soft black hair hung loosely around her and her azure colored eyes shone like the stars. Her complexion was as delicate as that of a white rose tinted with pink. She was looking eagerly at the Temple as if anxious to serve God. I don't think she will ever be painted as pretty as she really was.

MY EXPERIENCE IN THE WOODS

The cracking of twigs gave notice of a stealthy approach, I pushed back the foliage of my hiding place, and looked out. There before me was a large clearing, surrounded by beautiful, green pines. Through this clearing ran a small, trickling brook which, in the rays of moonlight, was like a brook of melted gold. Yes, this was truly a hunter's paradise. As the sound grew closer, I loaded my gun, and watched closely. Into the clearing glided a beautiful, snow-tailed deer, which is like the pot of gold at every hunter's rainbow. I took aim as it bent to drink, but I could not shoot. It Would be like taking away something that helped make this such a beautiful spot. So I trudged home, with an empty game bag, but with a clear conscience.

John Geary, Eighth Grade.

THE GIRL WHO RECOMMENDED HERSELF

A gentleman advertised for a girl to do secretarial work in his office. Out of the many girls who answered his advertisement he selected only one.

"I should like to know," said his partner", why you selected that girl, who had not a single recommendation"

"You are mistaken; she had a great many recommendations," replied the man. "For one, she wiped her feet before entering the room and she closed the door quietly behind her. These show that she is careful and respects other people's property. While waiting to be interviewed she gave her seat to an older woman in the reception room showing that she is kind and thoughtful. Her clothes were neat and clean. Although shabby. Also I left some change on the book table by the door where it could easily be taken but she did not even notice it and she was looking straight at it when she put the book that was lying on the floor on it. These things showed me what an honest and orderly girl she was. When I spoke to her I noticed that her teeth were spotlessly clean and that she had a pleasant voice. And didn't you notice that when she entered and left the room she bid us both a "good morning"? I think that these were recommendations enough don't you.

Genevieve O'Connell, Eighth Grade.

beautiful spot. So I trudged home,

As Christmas Dawns Again

I see a Crib in Bethlehem wherein an Infant lies, I hear the roar of bombs and planes and soldiers' dying cries; I hear the Angel Chorus sing their hymn to men of "Peace," I watch the world with sorrow torn, as war and hate increase; I see that Babe with outstretched Arms, the world's grief to embrace, I see the Love He bears for men imprinted on His Face; And as His Angels sing of Peace, that Peace the world once knew, His Heart for pardon pleads for men: "They know not what they do!"

Fields red with human blood I see, hearts broken, heavy, sore, And louder than the hymn of "Peace," He hears the cry of "War!"

War which the hymn of "Peace," He hears the cry of "War!" War which defeats the Cause for which He came on earth to dwell, War which kills love, and peace and men, and souls He loves so well: Lands once so fair and happy homes, and light and cheerful hearts,
Know that the Know that the Peace which Christmas brings, for them now has no part; Their homes are gone, their lands destroyed, their children, too, are fled, So they So they may not be numbered in the toll of countless dead;

This is the world which greets the Babe Who on this day is born, A world gone mad, Christ mocked and scoffed, a world with sorrow torn; On land, on sea, in air, in trench, death rides to claim its prey, Men filled with hate, their reason gone, seek brothers now to slay; O, Babe of Love, O, Child of Peace, when Thou shalt come this day, Into a bleeding, prostrate world, crushed in war's tragic way;

Reach out Thy Information Reach out Thy Infant Hand and heal the hurts and wounds of war, Have men live as Thy children here in Peace forever more. WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Thursday Socials

Our wandering correspondent reports that the Thursday Socials are picking up. "Last week," he writes, "fully 25 per cent of those present were Gesu Parishioners. If you continue these socials for several years," he advises, "I am certain that some of the Gesu Parishioners will become aware that such socials are held every Thursday in the Auditorium."

May we say a word about these socials? Beginning at 7.45 there is excellent film entertainment. About 9.30 those who still possess excess energy trip the light fantastic or whatever the modern jitterbug music calls for. Of course there are always the lanky cowboys who have not yet won their lariats, standing bashfully in groups waiting for some damsel to invite them to dance. Leap year calls for advances from the so-called weaker sex. "Then," continues the report, "many of the High School Students are absent. Of course, on Thursday evenings they have lessons to prepare although on all the other evenings they are free or apparently free from all scholastic tasks." Well, anyway, the Thursday Socials continue. We have a splendid dance floor, large enough to allow elbow room for as many as care to come. The best music and the latest is furnished. So why? So why not?

Now, to do away with excuses, suppose you, YOU who read these lines, speak about these Thursday Socials to your neighbors and friends—this is a much better topic of conversation than harmful gossip-tell all, that young and old are welcome. Recreation and Parochial acquaintance are offered in addition to a fine show and excellent music for dancing. So why? So why not?

The Weekly Awards

FIFTY DOLLARS is a fortune for many. At the Thursday Socials, contributors to the High School Fund had a chance to receive at least part of that amount. Bashful solicitors, sensitive solicitors and irate economic royalists, penny-pinchers and others who objected to the disturbance caused by ringing doorbells, stopped the awards. Well, now, we must ask the parents of students to send a generous donation each month for the High School Fund, not less than three dollars. After all we must not be confused with the government that seems too able to live on debt. If you wish, you can loan the parish the amount of the tuition each year, provided that you renew the loan every twelfthmonth. "That is an easy OUT," says our braintruster. "Each family will pay three dollars per month to defray the expenses of each High School Student and everybody will be happily satisfied.

MURPHY'S FAMOUS STEW

1713 WYLIE STREET

The Novena

November 30th to December 8th

Pope Pius IX, in the presence of a large assemblage, of cardinals, archbishops, bishops, priests and a multitude of the laity, on the 8th of December, 1854, solemnly proclaimed, from his apostolic seat in St. Peter's Church at Rome: "It is an article of faith that the Blessed Virgin Mary by a special grace and privilege of God, on account of the merits of Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of mankind, was from the first instant of her conception protected and preserved from every stain of original sin."

Thus was the constant belief of the faithful confirmed by the highest authority and put beyond the shadow of a doubt. Certainly it imposes no new doctrine on Catholics to be assured what they had always believed was always true.

A SOLEMN NOVENA begins in the Gesu Church November 30th, closes December 8th.

To obtain temporal and spiritual favors the members of the Parish are earnestly requested to take an intense interest in this Novena and be present at the devotions. It is a feast most dear to Sodalists, the special clients of Our Lady; and of course, they will attend the Novena in force.

Today, all over the world, there is being waged against the Church. a war more bitter and more savage. vet often by ways that are diabolically deceptive than the wars of old against Christianity by the Turks. As Mary by her Rosary saved the Church and civilization then, and has ever been the victor over heresy and other enemies, so we shall depend upon her in this world-wide conflict. Let us therefore make this Novena to Our Lady Immaculate with all fervor and perseverance, asking God through her who was given us to crush the infernal serpent's head, to crush these atheists, the offspring of the serpent, now waging war against Christ and His Mother and Christ's Spouse, Our Holy Church.

A SOLEMN REUNION OF SO-DALITIES AND RECEPTION OF NEW MEMBERS will take place at the evening service that closes the Novena. Lists of new members should be given to the Sodality Moderators during the Novena. This will also be the proper time for former active members to sign up and return to Our Lady's special court or company, THE SODALITY.

Christmas Carols

At 8.00 P. M. on December 15th, GAUDETE SUNDAY, the St. Joseph's College Glee Club Choir will render a Christmas Carol Service in conjunction with the Novena in honor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal.

Xmas . . . Cards

The "X" in "XMAS" is commonly considered to stand for Christ. Yet the English X is not the same letter as the Greek X (Chi) for which it is substituted. The Greek letter, which is of similar construction, is equivalent to letters "CH" of our alphabet, and is thus the first letter of the word "Christos" or "Anointed." On the other hand, "X" for us often stands for an "unknown number." To substitute "X" for Christ, then, would be to consider Christ an unknown number—the center of our lives the Great Unknown! How hard do the enemies of Christ and His Church try to do just that! Let's put Christ back into CHRISTmas!

All of us enjoy receiving Christmas greeting cards. Such remembrances from kind friends and relatives add much to the joy peculiar to the Christmas season. But sometimes it sort of goes against the grain to open a fancy envelope and find a "Christmas" card consisting of a Winter snow scene, sleigh and reindeers and the like, with the caption—"season's greetings."

The center, the very reason, of Christmas is thoughtlessly or deliberately left out of the picture altogether. The Christ Child is excluded even from His humble manger bed on His own day. This year insist on true Christmas Greeting Cards, warmed with Christian elements; pictures of the Babe and His Mother, the crib, the Magi. Dealers and manufacturers, even those who use this Holy Season as a time merely for increasing the almighty dollar, will then learn how cold in appearance are "Greeting Cards" without these holy remembrances.

Feast and Fast Days

Please note the FOUR FAST DAYS which occur during this month, namely the Ember Days of the winter quarter, which fall this year on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, December 18th, 20th and 21st; and Christmas Eve, Tuesday, December 24th. Christmas Eve is one of the four days excepted in the indult granted in favor of working people; hence while working people and their families are allowed to eat flesh-meat once on Wednesday, December 18th, and Saturday, December 21st, ALL, EVEN THOSE WHO WORK MUST ABSTAIN FROM FLESH-MEAT ON TUES-DAY, DECEMBER 24th.

Christmas Day, Wednesday, December 25th, is a Holyday of Obligation. It is the Birthday of Our Lord. On this day all are expected to receive Holy Communion. How can you enjoy a truly holy and happy Christmas. one filled with peace and real happiness, unless the little Babe of Bethlehem has taken up His abode in your hearts? Surely every parishioner will strive to receive Holy Communion on this day. Confessions will be heard on Christmas Eve, afternoon and evening. On Christmas Day the first Mass, a Solemn High Mass, will begin at 5.00 A. M.; the last Mass, also solemn High, will begin at 10.45.

The Boy Scouts

The Hallowe'en Party will be remembered for many a year. Most of the Scouts attended in costume. One dubbed "Helen" impersonated a little maid with such perfection that members of the Alumnae offered to teach the latest style jitterwalk and the Scout-mistress welcomed "Helen" to the ranks of the girl scouts, at least promised to put "Helen" on the waiting list. That was a splendid disguise, Daniel! For the next party cultivate a high soprano voice!

The Boy Scout Troop fills a great need in the Parish. To meet the requirements of the Boy Scouts of America, we want the following officers: TROOP COMMITTEE composed of not less than three male, adult, American citizens. This Committee is the agent of the local organizing group, and the body held responsible by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America for the suitability of the Scoutmaster and his Assistants, and the proper organization and administration of the Troop.

INSTITUTIONAL REPRESENTA-TIVE who acts as liaison officer between the Parish Head and the Philadelphia Council.

"THE TRAPP FAMILY SINGERS" in Concert at Academy of Music Wednesday, Dec. 18th, 1940

This unique family group, composed of the wife, five daughters and two sons of Baron Georg von Trapp, and led by the young composer, Dr. Franz Wasner, has been called "today's musical miracle."

Young, vital and filled with the joy of song, the Trapps give every program a holiday spirit. There are four-part chorals, madrigals and the well-beloved classics, sung in four languages. Great music of the past is played on picturesque block-flutes, the woodwinds of the fifteenth century. They sing rollicking folk songs, yodels and mountain calls, in colorful peasant costumes.

They are a storybook family come true. Nine young musicians, whom everyone will want to hear.

Tickets may be obtained at Weymann's, Gimbels and the Academy of Music.

meetings of the Troop. He, with the Troop Committee, is responsible for the general program and supervision of the work of the Troop.

WANTED urgently, Parishioners as above qualified who are interested enough in the youth of the Parish to undertake this work, and carry on its development with spirited momentum. All such are kindly requested to communicate with the Director of the Parochial School.

N. B.—Pope Benedict XV, in 1919, bestowed the Apostolic Blessing on all those who further the Catholic extension of the Scout movement under the auspices of the ecclesiastical authorities.

Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

In a recent article we told you that the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was making a strenuous effort to have dangerous street crossings made safe for pedestrians. We are gratified now to announce the installation of traffic lights at 18th and Girard Avenue. This has been accomplished by the patience and persistence of this Association and is in no small way due to the continued efforts of our Director, Father Maguire, who allowed nothing to deter him from making this crossing safe for the public. We know that this improvement is a most welcome one to all. Traffic conditions at 18th and Thompson Streets have also been corrected and improved.

On December 12th this Association will again entertain members and friends at another delicious Sauer Kraut Supper. The hostesses are striving to make this affair surpass all previous entertainments and we hope to have a very large number of guests. Come and have a friendly chat with your neighbors and friends whom you have not seen for a long while. The Supper will be followed by an enjoyable entertainment and there will be several attractive door prizes awarded during the evening. Tickets, 50 cents, may be procured from the Officers of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association.

Donations of prizes or cakes will be most acceptable to the Committee in charge.

Gesu Basketball

The Gesu Parochial School Boys' Basketball Team opened another season with its first practice session on October 26th. The team, coached by Jack Loughrey, won the St. Joseph's Prep Invitation Basketball Tournament last year and received the mythical crown of Champs of the city. To defend the crown for the coming season will be quite a task for Coach Loughrey, for he has only two of last year's team back. Rebel Renteria and Frank Carroll. However we feel the boys can do it this year, so we wish them a very successful season.

GEORGE L. CARROLL.

Our Altar Boys

On October 8th, with the year well underway, twelve new candidates were chosen, as follows:

Thomas McGrath
Joseph Lightheart
Joseph Alminde
Michael McHugh
David Stokes
Jerome Mulhern
Thomas Wetzler
John Kennedy
Walter Murphy
Robert Redmond
Joseph Connor
Thomas Glasser

Fewer boys were chosen this year because the number of Priests has been considerably decreased with the transfer of the College Faculty to the new residence in Merion.

The shabby condition of the cassocks forced us to make a plea for funds to replace them. The response has been very generous, so generous, that the members of the Sanctuary Society had to enlist the services of other generous Parish workers, in order to make speedy use of the materials on hand. We pray that God may bless all the workers and donors. We wish also to express our gratitude to those who made the laces for the Altar cloths and surplices.

Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur-100 Years

Exceptional progress has marked the activities of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur in America since the first eight pioneer religious were greeted at the Cincinnati wharf on All Hallows' eve of 1840 by Bishop Purcell Since then the number of religious in the order in this country has grown from the valiant group of eight to 2,200 Americanborn women. In place of the 60 children enrolled in the sisters' first school, there now are more than 77,000 students in many schools. The Notre Dame banner, planted first in Cincinnati in 1840, today waves from the Atlantic to the Pacific. From a small beginning at the historic "Notre Dame Sixth Street" convent in Cincinnati, there have radiated to various parts of the United States and even to the faraway mission fields in China and Japan numerous centers of education, each one continuing the high spiritual ideals and thoroughness of training characteristic of the educational traditions of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur.

When its first contingent of eight came to America 100 years ago, the Congregation of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur was but 37 years old. Begun in France in 1803, in the very middle of a most crucial period in that country's history, the congregation helped to stem the tide of irreligion there. Six years later the congregation was transferred to Belgium. Throughout its growth in Europe, in our own country, and in the Orient, it has had bitter sorrows and difficult assignments. Even in this centennial year of jubilee for the sisters in America, bitter sorrow stalks the congregation's path by reason of the destruction in the present war of its mother-house in Belgium. But all these trials the congregation has borne in the spirit of its blessed foundress, Julie Billiart, uncomplainingly, patiently, heroically. With devotion sacrifice, patience, suffering, and great zeal, the daughters of Blessed Julie continue to show a generous compliance with God's will and continue to carry out their objective of educating Catholic youth in the complete Christian tradition.

Though the 2,200 Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur in America today do not face the same physical hardships and material handicaps that the eight pioneers found a century ago, nevertheless the modern educational requirements and standards make the opening of the new century of these sisters in America another great adventure, a call to high endeavor. May the success they achieve in the centuries to come prompt all to sing the soul-song of their blessed foundress: "How good is the good God!"

Advent

"The tidings of great joy" announced by the angel to the shepherds in the dark of Christmas herds in the most cheerful sound night was the most cheerful sound the world had heard since God had the gates of Paradise. It was shut the manifestation of God's great love, not for a few, but for all mankind. He that was born in the cave was the "long-expected" of Israel and of all nations. He had been the object of the faith and hope of patriarchs; of Him the prophets had foretold the most wonderful things; His coming had been the cherished consolation of the chosen people.

In the feast of Christmas we renew each year the memory of the first coming of Our Lord, but we also anticipate with fervent homage the final coming which we yet await. Of the manner of that final coming Our Lord has said that He will come as a thief in the night, "at what hour you know not." Of its purpose He has said enough to show that it will be a climax and consummation of the work which He began to accomplish by His first coming. "This Gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached . . . and then shall the consummation come." Our duty, therefore, is to so order our lives and conduct that we may assist in promoting the work which He came to accomplish, and may co-operate with the motives of His first coming. We may say that His motives were to instill into the hearts of men a greater love of justice and truth, and to bring about in the souls of men that condition of spiritual activity which He called, "life." Our preparation for the feast of Christmas should be an effort to co-operate with these great purposes.

One obstacle to the work of Christ is the prevailing spirit of self-sufficiency, the proud assumption that humanity can right itself by its own unassisted efforts. This spirit of pride is responsible for the destruction of everything good that has been wrought in our Christian civilization. Moreover it is the cause of the world's ingratitude to the Church for the manifold blessings of Christian civilization—the constant reiteration that Christianity is a failure, and the setting up of a purely natural philosophy in the government of human affairs. It is the old proud pride: "We will not have this man to reign over us."

Nearly two thousand years have rolled by since the birth of Our Lord in Bethlehem's cave, and the yearly commemoration of that sublime event offers us a lesson which must be learned. He came as a child showing Himself only to those who were meek and humble, those of pure and willing hearts, and these were the only ones who received Him. He came as the Savior of the world to heal souls, to remedy the disorders of society, to renew the face of the earth. Personal regeneration, social regeneration, political regeneration must come through Him. This is God's way-there is none other.

Advent is the time of preparation given us by the Church to make ourselves more worthy to commemorate the coming of Christ. This preparation should be a true prelude to the same preparation that all who love Christ must make before His second coming. From the things of the world we must separate ourselves, we must do penance for the "Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." We cannot receive Christ worthily, we cannot be true Christians unless we depart from the spirit of the world and give ourselves over to the work of renewing the spirit of our mind, putting on the new man, "who according to God is created in justice and holiness of truth."

The Immaculate Conception of Mary

(Our readers are invited to attend carefully to the following article on the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin. It gives the Definition of Tradition, and shows how Tradition, equally with the written word of the Bible, is infallible truth. It sets forth in part the particular Tradition within the Church regarding Mary's conception. It explains the meaning of the title, "The Immaculate Conception." It makes clear what a Dogma is, and shows how a dogma issued to the Church in the nineteenth century was no new article added in time to the truth issued to the Church by Christ Himself in the very first century. It recounts the many wonderful manifestations of Our Lady in the century preceding our own. It stresses one value of Lourdes and its mercies by showing that its cures are examples of the supernatural which disbelief can see with its eye and examine with its unbaptized senses. It closes with a direction on how best to pray to the Virgin Immaculate. By studying and learning these points of our faith, our Catholic parishioners can become helps and instructors to their non-Catholic associates, and also render to God what St. Paul calls "your reasonable service."--Editor's note.)

Foreword

The Catholic Church was commissioned immediately by Christ Himself personally, to instruct all nations. "Teach ye all nations," His imperative says, "to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." That the Church might never forget any part of this doctrine of Christ, or misinterpret any point of it, the Paraclete, who is Truth Itself, was sent to the Church, after the Ascension of Christ, to enlighten it perfectly, and prevent it successfully from the slightest error, when disseminating to the nations these unalterable instructions of its Lord. He will "abide with you for ever, the Spirit of Truth," said Christ to His Church in promising it this Paraclete, "will teach you all things, and bring all things to your mind, whatsoever I shall have said to you." Thus there came to reside in the Church of Christ, in respect of all matters of Faith and Morals, the very Infallibility of God. Himself. Nor will the time ever come, nor has the possibility ever been, when the Church of Christ could fail its followers in either truth of thought or veracity of statement. St. Paul clearly understood all this, when he called "the Church of the Living God the pillar and ground of the truth."

Yet it is this same Apostle who enjoins this same Church to "stand fast, and hold the traditions which you have learned, whether by word, or by our epistle." Herein it is declared to the Church, by sovereign and inerrant authority, that Tradition, which is the oral transmission of a creed, must be accepted by the Church as a valid source of doctrine, and the same is hereby guaranteed to be of one birth with gospel truth itself. Accordingly, from the very cradle of the Church, and equally with the written word of Christ, Tradition has been heard for its reverence of Truth, and established as a chair of doctrine. St. Augustine, in the fourth century, thus champions Tradition: "Those things which we observe, not because written, but transmittedthings which indeed are observed throughout the world-it is to be understood that they are retained as commanded and decreed, either by the Apostles themselves, or by general councils, the authority of which is most wholesome in the Church." "If it is Tradition," says St. John Chrysosiom, "ask no more."

What might be called the deposit of Tradition, it should be noted, is contained in many, various depositories. One of these latter is the universal belief of the faithful. For if all the faithful, or even the preponderant majority thereof, were left lingering in an error of Faith, the Paraclete Himself would cease to be the Light of Truth, and would need to become the very darkness of error. His unalterable nature, however, renders any such change and corruption a perfect impossibility. The body of the faithful, the Commons of the Church, can never, consequently, be one in its belief on a particular item and at the same time divorced from truth. Hence, as early as the fifth century. the universal concurrence of the faithful was explicitly accepted as a lamp of truth, and hall-marked by the Hierarchy as a sterling rule of faith, when "what all had thought, but few so well expressed" was enunciated by St. Vincent of Lerins in the following formula: "Magnopere curandum est, ut id teneatur quod ubique, quod semper, quod ab omnibus creditum est." Freely translated, this means: "What all have at all times and everywhere believed, the same is thereby sanctioned as true, and must be retained."

Admitting that Holy Writ lacks any unequivocal proof of the Immaculateness of Our Lady, what is the evidence from Tradition for the faith within us? Secondly: what is the argument from reason that advocates this same affirmative of Tradition?

The Truth

1. The ancient Liturgies of the Church attest this truth. For the library of the Church still possesses these first-century Liturgies, or common books of prayer, which the primitive Christians received from the Apostles, and with which the people were thoroughly familiar. There is the Liturgy of the Apostle St. James, whose antiquity is bevond doubt, and whose genuineness is unchallenged. It descirbes Mary as "Immaculate, Mother of God, and ever Virgin." The Liturgy of St. Mark the Evangelist seconds this description, calling her "Immaculate, and blessed Mother of God."

With these Apostolic testimonies might be bracketed also the still extant letter that contains a discourse before the proconsul Egeus which the Apostle St. Andrew delivered just previous to his suffering, and in which he thus denominates Our Blessed Lady: "As the first man was created from immaculate earth, it was necessary that from an Immaculate Virgin should be born a perfect man, namely, the Son of God."

2. The Fathers and Doctors of the infant Church are insistent on the same truth. Thus Origen, at the dawn of the third century, unfurled the banner of his Queen and ours with this incription: "She has not been tainted with the breath of the venomous serpent For why should the Blessed Virgin Mary have been deprived in her beginning of that prerogative with which, not only the Angels (even the bad angels) were adorned in their original creation, but also our first parents, whom God created upright and innocent?" St. Jerome, the palmary master of early Biblical scholars, thus exculpated Mary: "She was such that she could not be reproached with sin. She is "the enclosed garden," into which no treachery hath been able to enter, nor fraud of the enemy overcome." Finally, the illustrious St. Thomas of Aquin, who drew more bolts and opened more doors of celestial truth than any other single mind of man, writing of the purity of Our Lady, pens the tribute to her, that she "has been exempt from original and actual sin." In a word, all the works of the great, columnar thinkers of the early Church are emphatic with evidence on the Immaculateness of Mary.

3. The century-old Schedules of Festivals and Calendars of Feastdays record this truth. It is known that the feast of her Immaculate Conception was celebrated in the Oriental churches about the year 406. Don Juan the First, King of Arragon, instituted by royal patents of 1394, in all the Spanish provinces then under his government, the feast of the Immaculate Conception. The following is quoted verbatim: "Thus with a pure heart we will honor the mystery of the Immaculate and glorious Conception of the most Holy Virgin Mother of God, and we and all those of our royal household shall every year celebrate its Festival with solemnity in the same manner that our illustrious predecessors of glorious memory have celebrated it, having established in honor of it a perpetual association." The Fathers of the Council of London, England, issued the following mandamus in 1328: "Adhering to the example of our venerable predecessor, St. Anselm (died A. D. 1109) who thought proper to add the solemnity of the Conception, we ordain that the Festival of the Conception, published in all the churches of our Province of Canterbury, be celebrated appropriately and with the usual solemnities." In Rome, this festival dates back to 1221.

4. Lastly, Council after Council in the history of the Church has been surety for this truth. The same might be said of the leading Catholic Universities and Theological Faculties, not to mention the single voices of innumerable saints. These constellated assurances of the doctrine are themselves as terrible to a denial of it as "an army set in array." On the records, for example, of the Council of Constantinople, A. D. 680, remains this definitive clearance of Our Lady: "The Virgin Mary... free from every taint of sin of body, of soul and of mind." The archives of Rome still hold the Bull of the Council of Basle, in Switzerland, in 1439, which runs as follows: "The doctrine, that the glorious Virgin Mary, through the special preventing and operating grace of the divine Being, was never actually subjected to original sin, but was always exempt from original and actual sin, holy and immaculate, we define and declare as consonant to Ecclesiastical worship, to the Catholic Faith, to right reason, and to Sacred Scripture." We may conclude this list with the short but sobering decision of the great Council of Trent. which implemented the creed of the Church with so many and such bluesteel arms of truth against the heresies of the sixteenth century Reformers. In its Constitution on Sin we read: "Nevertheless, the Holy Synod has not the intention to comprehend in this Decree, where Original Sin is treated of, the Blessed and Immaculate Virgin Mary, Mother of God."

This brief abstract let us see how four-square and plumb with the "pillars and ground of the truth" this doctrine of the Immaculate Conception has ever been throughout all the centuries of Catholic thought. As many more monuments as the foregoing, different from them in nature, but alike with them in memorializing this truth of Our Lady, might easily be instanced, were it not pointless to do so. Enough has been premised to afford the mind a clear pathway to the Definition.

The argument from reason is quickly stated. God was able to preserve Mary, His Mother, from all taint of Sin. Therefore, He did. Its basis is Fitness. But it is fitness as in Him who "set in order Charity." Could this Fitness have denied to His first love what It presented to His first creatures? "Who," asks St. Cyril, "hath ever heard of an architect building for himself a house, and yielding the occupancy and possession of it to his prime enemy?"

THE DOGMA

"By the authority of Jesus Christ Our Lord, of the Blessed Apostles Peter and Paul, We declare, pronounce, and define, that the doctrine which holds that the Blessed Virgin Mary, at the first instant of her conception, by a singular privilege and grace of the Omnipotent God, in virtue of the merits of Jesus Christ, the Saviour of mankind, was preserved free from all stain of criginal sin, has been revealed by God, and therefore should firmly and constantly be believed by all the Faithful."

Thus did the Sovereign Pontiff, Pius the Ninth, and by his mouth the Paraclete Himself, on December 8, 1854, infallibly erect into a dogma compulsive of the complete internal assent of the mind what the mind of the Church out of voluntary fealty to Our Lady had never withheld from her. Her unmatched prerogative of purity was thus irretractably proclaimed in most express terms. She was not sanctified in the womb, as the Baptist had been. In the very instant of her animation, when her soul, spotlessly pure from the hands of God, entered the matter of earth that was and became her body, this immaculate image of God was not by this entrance clouded with original sin, but, contrary to the whole rest of fallen nature, was preserved in its purity and persevered in unmisted grace.

Catholics of course know, that a new dogma or definition is not an addition in time to the tidings brought to earth by Our Lord, and enclosed in His command about teaching "all things, whatsoever I shall have said to you." We know, that at most a new dogma simply makes explicit that which previously was implicit in Revelation. In other terms, it is not an accretion to the articles of Christ's teaching, but an increase rather in cur understanding of them. A printed picture is merely the clarification of its photographic negative, not an added, new image. Lincoln, for instance, in saying that our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, "conceived in liberty," did not add a new item to any previous, so to speak, syllabus of Americanisms, but simply so expressed newly an olden thing that the light of the latter shone into our minds better and more fully. It need not be remarked to our readers, finally, that a Definition by the Church of any particular truth instantly retires that truth from all further debate.

LOURDES

In 1858, four years after Rome had promulgated its Dogma, she herself, whose privilege the dogma had acclaimed, announced her own authentication of the truth in the simple words: "I am the Immaculate Conception." It was the feast of the Annunciation, March 25. Already "The Lady," which was the only title Bernadette Soubirous had as yet for the Apparition, had appeared to the child some fifteen different times. In the course of the ecstasies Bernadette had frequently pleaded with "The Lady" for her name. The latter returned always the same evasion: to quote the child's own account—"a smile and a gracious movement of the head." Already the miraculous spring had been opened up, and already miracles had been wrought through the use of its water. But as yet the name of the Vision was the latter's secret. On this day of the Annunciation, however, with her rosary in hand as usual, the little favcrite of Lourdes felt suddenly impelled to ask once more of the Apparition to say who she was. Twice the request was unanswered. "I had asked a third time," say Bernadette's own narrative of the event. "She seemed to become more serious, and to wear a look of deeper humility. Then she joined her hands and raised them high against her breast. Then she cast her eyes upwards. Then, unfolding her hands and letting them slowly fall, and bending toward me, she said in a voice that trembled a little: 'I am the Immaculate Conception'."

At last, uncertainty was thus doubly put to flight. The truth had prevailed, and all dissidence had been silenced. There had been plenty of the latter. Unlike the plenty of the latter. Unlike the leaven, which the women hid in the measures of meal, until the whole was leavened, the doctrine of the was leavened, the doctrine of Mary, Immaculate Conception of Mary, Immaculate always a far-reaching ferthough always a far-reaching ferthough always a pread itself never previously spread itself never previously spread itself throughout the whole totality of this thought. Many, even of holy name, had opposed the belief; and still more had voted against its Definition. The Council of Trent might have published forth this Dogma, which found favor with quite a few who sat at its sessions, had not the slower of heart to believe the time ripe for such a promulgation been successful in the balloting. Providence, to be sure, was overshadowing these vetoes. Mary herself, furthermore, exulted in the postponement, knowing no doubt those words of Isaias: "The Lord . . . hath protected me and hath made me as a chosen arrow. In his quiver He hath hidden me. And He said to me: In thee will I glory" at a later day. It might be added advisedly, however, while on the subject of these dissensions, that, of all the sects calling themselves Christians the Catholic fold alone has fulfilled Mary's own prophecy, that "all generations shall call me blessed."

These votaries of her prerogative, as has been said, had no page of Scripture that all who run might read there the written revelation of this truth. They did have, it has been shown, a manifold Tradition that passed not with the passing of time, and altered not with the alterations of dispute. In the heart, too, of each such votary, we may believe, there was a word spoken in private, such as came to Job; and the ears of each "by stealth as it were received the veins of its whisper." It was the Voice of Mary's Spouse, the Spirit of God, which, in the language of St. Ambrose, "sonat sire sono," — discourses to the heart silently, inspiringly. Lastly, they had in the very opinion itself of the Immaculate Conception, as Bossuet expresses it, "a certain innate force which brings conviction to devout souls."

Their promptitude of heart was eventually rewarded. Not only did Mary herself declare in their favor, but she went further by untreasuring in return the richest gifts of her inheritance. She immortalized Lourdes by the miracles it bestows, and thus abundantly blessed the faith that had elicited the shrine.

These same blessings, however, have kicked back with shattering recoils on the Philistines who now storm the City of God. It is worthy of note, that the gospel has not the slightest hint that Mary, in her lifetime, ever performed a single miracle. She then decreased that her Son might the better increase. Latterly, however, when charity toward her Son grew cold in certain quarters, and pride of intellect grew intolerant of the supernatural. Mary, as Judith her prototype had done, "clothed herself with the garments of her gladness . . . and adorned herself with all her ornaments." In other words, her conquering powers have come forth against the Holofernes of our day. the boastful lucifer of agnostic thought, which has but "lighted fools the way to dusty death" to overcome this tyrant with his own weapon. Lourdes might well be inscribed with these words of Judith: "This will be a glorious monument to thy name, O God, when the tyrant shall fall by the hand of a woman."

THE NOVENA

For we should know that the nineteenth century was conspicuously a century of assault on the Divinity of Christ. As far as was possible, science supplanted the supernatural, and reason substituted itself for revelation. These being its pole-stars, the whole compass of secular thought registered new northings, and blindness was misleading the multitudinous blind. The century was labeled by the Muse of History as preeminently a naturalistic one

Nevertheless, the century was and has been called the Century of Mary. For the fifty, centralmost years of it were marked by Marian favors too stupendous to be surpassed by any other achievement of the same time. They commenced in 1830 with the Visions to Sr. Catherine Laboure and the gift to her of "The Miraculous Medal." This was followed by the Visitation to M. Des Gerettes, the parish priest of Notre Dame des Victoires, which culminated in the famous shrine of the same name and its Archeonfraternity in honor of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. To its prayers, next to Our Lady its Patroness, is owing, among countless other favors, that great English conversion known as The Oxford Movement, in which more than sixty members of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge joined the Catholic church. Next came the Apparition of La Salette, with its miraculous waters. Lourdes followed in 1853. While Paris was beseiged in 1871, there happened at Pontmain those Apparitions of the Virgin and the Red Cross of Christ that have won this little French hamlet the homage of the Catholic world. Lastly, in 1876, came the Appearances at Pellevoism, and thegift of the Scapular of the Sacred Heart. Such a coronal on the brow of any century designates it unquestionably the century of Mary.

From all these holy watersheds have come rivers of spiritual and temporal favors, through the mercies of Mary, whose tides have washed argosies of souls into the Church. They have exercised also a strong apologetic influence. Consider the case only of Lourdes, where the

Here, Science can put its hand into the very side of wonders. Here. Science can, and does, bring the latest conceits of its laboratories and the most expert methods of its research. Here, this same agnostic Science can, and does hold clinics, the most technical it will, on the astounding cures of the Shrine. Here, the Supernatural accosts and confronts the Natural. Ever and always the result is the same. Science withdraws in defeat. Its own weapons turn on it and explode in its face. The Holofernes of today falls by its own sword. At times, however, the final eventuality has been a lucrative blessing, "and fools, who came to scoff, remained to pray."

Greatly indeed did Pius the Ninth teach the nations when he proposed to them the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception. But far more greatly has she, the Immaculate One, befriended these same nations and the peoples of the whole earth.

She stands ready and eager to do the same for the distressed countries of our own time—Europe, for example, and Asia.

All who make the coming Novena should charitably include these two continents in their prayers and intentions. The powers of Our Lady's generosity cannot be exhausted, no matter how vast the levies on it. As it is true, that all her Apparitions and Revelations before mentioned have insisted with her clients on the urgent necessity of prayer; so is it equally true, from these same manifestations, that she despises no one, but is Mother to all, and able to enrich the entire human race.

This article may fitly close with the following prescription from St. Bernard: "The Blessed Virgin is ever ready to listen to those who invoke her in justice and truth. She especially assists those whom she perceives have made sincere efforts to become, like her, chaste and humble; if, at the same time, they add to these virtues charity."

THE HOLY INNOCENTS

As we see Christmas approaching us, we usually think of the birth of the Christ Child and the sufferings of the Holy Innocents. We commemorate the feast of the Holy Innocents on December the twenty-eighth.

The news of the birth of the Christ Child soon reached the ears of a jealous ruler Herod. He was jealous because he knew Christ was of a much higher dignity and that the people would make Him king. Calling his soldiers, he ordered them to kill every child that had been lately born so that the Child been lately born so that the Child Jesus would be one of them. The babies that were killed were the babies that martyrs. Much grief flooded their mothers' hearts as they watched the sufferings of their little ones. Fortunately, the Infant Jesus escaped the wicked plot which Herod had designed. The soldiers, thinking that they had killed Jesus returned to Herod. Herod did not learn that Christ still lived until Christ had grown older. On December 28, let us ponder over the sufferings that the little ones in Bethlehem had to endure, and be ready to die for Our Lord whenever persecutions may come into our country. Some people say they love our Lord but when persecution comes their way they readily deny the fact that they belong to the Church of God.
